PREFACE

THE YEAR BOOK for 1913 contains the names of 365 Ministers in Great Britain and Ireland; of these 7 are classed as Lay-Workers.

Since the last issue of the Year Book, 11 ministers have died. Two ministers have joined other denominations; one has withdrawn his name; another has left the ministry; one Lay-Worker's name has been omitted on his resignation.

The following names of Ministers appear in the Year Book for the first time: Thomas Anderson (formerly a Congregational minister), Gustav Francis Beckh (educated, 1911–13, at M.C.O.), Thomas Frederick Mitchell Brockway (formerly a Congregational minister), Henry Chellew (formerly a Congregational minister), Percival Godding (educated, 1910–12, at H.M.C.), Raymond Vincent Holt (educated, 1906–9, at M.C.O.), George Neighbour (formerly a Baptist minister), Harold Edwin Balme Speight (educated, 1910–12, at M.C.O.). Douglas Price (formerly an Episcopalian minister) has been added to the Colonial list.

The following name of a Lay-Worker appears in the Year Book for the first time: Helen Louise Phillips (Christ Church, Nottingham, and Ilkeston).

Frank Coleman (Wareham), John A. Carrara Davies (Cefn-coed) trained at H.M.C., 1907-9, J. Lionel Tayler (Stoke Newington Green, London) trained for the medical profession, and Fred Woolley (Missionary, Belfast), having completed a period of probationary service as Lay-Workers, are now regarded as belonging to the regular ministry. In transferring the name of a Lay-Worker to the list of Ministers, the period of service as a Lay-Worker is indicated.

Of the Ministers, 115 were educated at Manchester College: this number includes 14 students from the Unitarian Home Missionary College, and 7 from the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 109 Ministers were educated at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, and 29 at the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 53 ministers were educated at 'orthodox' theological Colleges, including 1 from the United States; while 2 were educated at Unitarian Colleges in America; 16 ministers have had a University or College education, without special theological training; 55 have had no College training.

260 Ministers and 7 Lay-Workers are in charge of Congregations; 61 ministers have retired from active work; 12 are employed as tutors in our colleges, secretaries of associations, editors of papers, and district ministers; 7 are engaged in work not connected with the denomination; 17 are open to accept ministerial appointments.

The list of Congregations contains 374 places of worship: 294 in England; 38 in Ireland; 35 in Wales; 7 in Scotland. Braintree, Heaton Moor, and Lower Mosley Street, Manchester, have been omitted; Boltonon-Dearne, Mexborough, and Mountain Ash have been inserted.

In December, 1912, the following pulpits were vacant, or about to become vacant:—England—Accrington, Bessel's Green, Dean Row and Styal, Hastings, Horsham, Leeds (Mill Hill), Lincoln, London (University Hall), Manchester (Blackley and Bradford), Mansfield, Mottram, Newchurch, Nottingham (High Pavement), Padiham, Park Lane, Preston, Rotherham, Saffron Walden, Stockton, Swinton, Trowbridge, York. Ireland—Antrim, Ballymoney, Banbridge, Clough, Cork. Wales—Aberdare (Highland Place), Bridgend. Upwards of fifty congregations rely at present upon Laypreachers, with occasional visits from ministers in the neighbourhood or from a distance.

The Essex Hall Hymnal, in its older or Revised edition, is used by 191 congregations; 'Hymns of Praise and Prayer' by 34; 'Hymns for the Christian Church and Home' by 16. In Ireland 21 congregations use 'Hymns for Christian Worship'; in Wales 22 use 'Pearls of Praise.' The Berwick Hymnal is used by 15 congregations, the New Hymnal published by Novello by 41; upwards of 30 congregations use selections more or less peculiar to themselves. Liturgies are used by 110 congregations.

Every care has been taken to give accurate information; but as several ministers and secretaries took no notice of the request to furnish particulars of any changes, it has not always been easy to ensure accuracy. Any errors or omissions observed by readers should be communicated to the Editor at Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London, W.C.

LONDON, 2 December, 1912.

The Essex Hall Year Book, 1913

LIST OF MINISTERS

[Revised and approved 6 November, 1912, by a point-committee appointed by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, the National Conference, and the Ministerial Fellowship.]

The list contains the name and address, college, university degree, date of entering ministry, and congregations served by the following:—

(1) Ministers in charge of Unitarian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, and other Non-Subscribing Congregations in Great Britain and Ireland.

(2) Lay-Workers regularly appointed by Congregations to conduct the religious services, and to carry on the work of the Church.

(3) Ministers, formerly settled with Congregations, now engaged as professors, tutors, missionaries, secretaries, etc.

(4) Ministers (not being Lay-Workers) who have resigned their pastorates, or who have retired from active duty, but who have not withdrawn from the ministry. These names are printed in italic.

(5) Students who have completed the theological curriculum, and received the certificate of Manchester College, Oxford, the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, or the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, and desire to settle as ministers in our group of Churches.

(6) Ministers in charge of Unitarian Congregations in Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and South Africa.

ADMISSION OF NAMES

(1) When a Congregation or a Missionary Society regularly appoints any person to conduct religious services, and to take charge of the work of the Church or Society, his name is inserted in the list.

(2) He is described as a 'Minister,' if he (a) holds the certificate of having completed the theological curriculum at one of the foregoing Colleges, or at Harvard or Meadville, U.S.A.; or (b) has previously been in the ministry of another denomination, or educated for the ministry in another denomination, at home or abroad, and has (if required) satisfied an Advisory Committee respecting his character and personal fitness.

(3) Otherwise he is described as a 'Lay-Worker,' Lay-Workers may, however, on evidence of not less than three years' satisfactory service, be included in the regular list of Ministers. In the case of Lay-Workers who have been two years at an approved College, or who possess an approved university degree, two years' service may be deemed sufficient.

(4) Managers of Benevolent, Fellowship, Pension, Sustentation, and other Funds are under no obligation to admit anyone to the benefits of membership simply because his name appears in the list.

IMPORTANT TO CONGREGATIONS

As much injury has been done both to congregations and to the ministry by the appointment of unsuitable persons, congregations are urged to take no steps in respect of the selection or appointment of any Minister whose name does not appear in the Year Book, until one of the Advisory Committees has given a certificate as to his character and personal fitness.

<sup>1</sup>The joint-committee have decided that no literary or scientific distinctions, other than the degrees of an accredited university, will be inserted in future editions of the Year Book.

OMISSION OF NAMES

(1) On resigning his charge, it is open to any minister to withdraw his name from the list altogether, if he so desires.

(2) On his becoming minister in another denomination, the name is omitted, unless a personal request is made for its retention.

(3) The names of 'Lay-Workers' are omitted on the termination of their engagements, but may be reinserted on a fresh appointment.

(4) The names of ministers who have ceased to reside in the United Kingdom are omitted, but may on their personal application be included in a Colonial or Foreign list.

(5) The names of ministers and lay-workers, even when approved by an Advisory Committee, are not inserted in the list until they have been regularly appointed by a Congregation.

(6) The names of persons, whose character and conduct have, in the opinion of an Advisory Committee, a District Society, or the Ministerial Fellowship, unfitted them for continuing to hold the office of a minister, are omitted.

LIST OF CONGREGATIONS

[Revised and approved by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.]

The list contains the location, the date of foundation, the hours of service, the hymn book in use, the name and address of the Secretary, the name of the Minister, Missionary, or Lay-Worker of:—

(a) All duly organized Unitarian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, and other Non-Subscribing Congregations in Great Britain and Ireland.

(b) Pioneer movements holding regular meetings for worship.
(c) Places of worship closed at present, but not finally given up.

The date following the name and address of the congregation indicates the year in which it was founded, which is not necessarily the date of the existing building; when two or more dates are given, the last refers to the erection of the present building.

The names of ministers of congregations from about the year 1875 to 1912 are inserted: those printed in italic are deceased.

History.—The British and Foreign Unitarian Association was constituted in 1825. It arose out of the union of three Societies supported by Unitarians in all parts of the kingdom: (1) The Unitarian Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and the Practice of Virtue, by the Distribution of Books, founded in 1791; (2) The Unitarian Fund, established in 1806, which may be regarded as the most important; and (3) The Association for Protecting the Civil Rights of Unitarians, formed in 1819.

Management.—The Association is managed by a representative Committee elected annually by the whole body of its members. District and Local Associations appoint representatives to serve on the Council.

Grants of Money.—The Association assists many of the older churches, makes grants in aid of new churches, and in the maintenance of missionary work at home and abroad. The whole of the income from collections and subscriptions is expended in grants for missionary objects.

Foreign Work.—Grants have been given to assist Unitarian and other forms of liberal religion in Australia, Belgium, Denmark, Hungary, India, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, and other Countries.

Civil Rights of Unitarians.—The Association guards the civil and religious rights and privileges of Unitarians, and gives advice concerning Trust Deeds.

Publication of Books.—Among recent publications are the following: 'How a Modern Atheist found God,' chapters of spiritual autobiography, by G. A. Ferguson; 'Man's Chief End, and other Sermons,' by Robert B. Drummond, B.A.; 'Communings with the Father,' Collects and Prayers, by the late James C. Street, edited by C. J. Street, M.A., I.L.B.; 'Records of my Life,' by Dr. C. A. Greaves, published for the Author; 'Thoughts for Daily Living,' selections from the spoken and written words of Robert Collyer; 'The Church of To-morrow,' by J. H. Crooker, D.D.; 'How to Win, and other Addresses,' by H. G. Chancellor, M.P.; 'Towards Religion,' by R. Brimley Johnson; 'Pillars of the Temple' (Second Edition), by Minot J. Savage, D.D.; 'Unitarian Christianity,' Nine Essays.

Grants of Tracts.—The Association publishes a great variety of Tracts, illustrative of Unitarian Christianity; and grants are freely made to individual inquirers, congregations, missionary societies, and postal missions. 68,063 tracts were distributed in this way during 1911.

Co-operation with Local Associations.—The Association co-operates with the various District and Local Associations in different parts of the country. Support is given in aid of Missionary work in the Liverpool and Manchester Districts, the Northern Counties, the South and West of England, the Midlands, South Wales, London, the South Eastern Counties, and Yorkshire.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

The International Council of Unitarian and other Liberal Religious Thinkers and Workers, founded 25 May, 1900, for the purpose of bringing into closer co-operation the Unitarians and their sympathizers and allies in all countries of the world, the original choice of a name was natural and appropriate. But during the ten years which have succeeded, the 'other liberal religious thinkers and workers' spoken of in the title have disclosed themselves in such surprising strength, and have participated in such great numbers in the various Congresses of the International Council, that the exclusive mention of the Unitarian body in its title seemed no longer adequate. Accordingly, at the meeting of the Executive Committee in Berlin. August, 1910, the Unitarian delegates proposed that the name of the Council be changed. There was offered as a substitute the title 'International Congress of Religious Liberals,' but it was finally determined to make the words 'Free Christianity' a part of the title and to add 'Religious Liberals.' Thus in French it will be known as 'Congrès International des Chrétiens libéraux et d'autres libre-croyants '; in German as 'Welt-Kongress fuer freies Christentum und religioesen Fortschritt'; and in English as 'The International Congress of Free Christians and other Religious Liberals.' By employing the term ' Free Christians' it is hoped to win a still larger number of progressive elements in the historic Churches of Christendom. By the term 'other Religious Liberals' is expressed the desire of the Congress to include in its fellowship phases of reverent free-thought outside of Christianity-such as liberal Judaism, Hindu Theism, progressive Buddhism and Mohammedanism.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

There are 491 Unitarian churches and 540 Unitarian ministers in America. The Divinity School at Cambridge, Mass., in connexion with the University of Harvard, the Theological School at Meadville, Pa., and the Pacific Unitarian School for the Ministry at Berkeley, Cal., are the three Colleges at which Unitarian ministers receive their training. American Unitarian Association was formally organized on 25 May. 1825. Its object is 'to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity,' and all Unitarian churches are invited to unite and cooperate with it for that purpose. Any church or missionary organization which has made two successive annual contributions is entitled to representation by its minister and two other delegates. The head-quarters of the Association are at 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass. President, Rev. Samuel A. Eliot. D.D.; Secretary, Rev. Lewis G. Wilson; Treasurer, Henry M. Williams; Publication Agent, C. L. Stebbins. There are also Unitarian Book Rooms at Chicago, 105 South Dearborn Street; New York, 104 East 20th Street; San Francisco, 376 Sutter Street. The General Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches owes its organization to a special meeting of the American Unitarian Association. held 7 December, 1864. It is simply a 'Conference.' It 'adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its activity, and confines itself to recommending to them such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of its constituency.' The Unitarian Association is 'the executive arm of the Unitarian body, and the working missionary organization of the Unitarian churches in America.' The Unitarian Year Book, published at 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., gives full information respecting Churches, Ministers, Colleges, and Conferences. The following list of Unitarian Churches in America will be of interest and service.

LIBERAL RELIGION IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

OUTSIDE America, the Colonies, and Hungary, Liberal Religious thinkers and workers seldom use the 'Unitarian' name, but in many parts of the world there are churches and societies, as well as a large number of individuals who are in substantial agreement in thought and feeling with the Unitarians of England and of the United States.

Africa.—Free Protestant (Unitarian) Church, Hout Street, Cape Town (1867-1890). Minister, Rev. Ramsden Balmforth, Shirley, 6 Stephen Street, Cape Town. The church at Graaff Reinet, of which the late Rev. H. Rawlings, M.A., was minister from 1883 to 1886, has had no minister and no services since the latter date, though Mr. Balmforth conducted services there in October, 1899. Both these churches sprang from the Dutch Reformed Church. There are at various places in South Africa many individual sympathizers with Unitarianism. The Rev. W. G. Tarrant, B.A., visited South Africa early in 1911 on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. He preached and lectured at Cape Town, Pretoria, Johannesburg, and other places. A church was established at Johannesburg, of which the Rev. G. C. Sharpe became the first minister in October, 1911.

Australia.—There are Unitarian churches at the following places:—South Australia: Adelaide—Rev. Wilfred Harris, M.A., Clwydd, York Street, North Kensington. Victoria: Melbourne—Mr. C. Read (in temporary charge). New South Wales: Sydney—Rev. George T. Walters, Eglinton, Moruben Road, Mosman, Sydney. Queensland: Brisbane—A Liberal Church, under the ministry of the Rev. Douglas Price, formerly an Episcopalian, was established in 1911. At Melbourne, the Church of Australia, Minister, Rev. Dr. Charles Strong, is a free congregation, promulgating practically Unitarian principles. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding during a visit to Australia and New Zealand, November, 1911, to April, 1912, visited the Australian churches on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.

Austria.—A considerable number of the Protestant churches are liberal in their theology; there is a growing tendency towards what are practically Unitarian views; and the Los von Rom movement, although partly political and social, is also liberal in its theological outlook. The American Unitarian Association inaugurated in 1911, an international movement to crect a memorial chapel over the grave of Faustus Socinus (1604), at Luctawise in Austrian Poland.

Belgium.—There is a Free Christian church at Brussels, 21 rue des Minimes, of which the Rev. Paul Teissonnière, Brussels, is minister in succession to the Rev. James Hocart, who retired in 1910.

Bulgaria.—A Unitarian Association was formed for Bulgaria in 1911. Missionary and Secretary, Rev. Anton Toplisky, Dobschutz.

Canada.—In Canada there are ten Unitarian congregations: Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria (B.C.), Edmonton, and Moose Jaw; besides the churches of the Icelandic Unitarians in Manitoba. The Rev. F.W. Pratt, of Calgary, is the Field Agent for Western Canada, under the British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the American Unitarian Association. The churches are officially connected with the American Unitarian Association.

Denmark.—There is a Unitarian congregation in Copenhagen of which the Rev. Uffe Birkedal is minister. Miss Mary B. Westenholz is joint editor of the Protestantisk Tidende, which represents the broad principles of Unitarian Christianity. There are many scattered Liberal Christians in Denmark. In 1911, the preaching of Pastor Rasmussen led to a keen discussion as to the legality of preaching Unitarianism from the pulpits of the State Church.

France.—The Liberal Reformed churches, now organized under the name of 'Eglises Réformées Unies' (120 congregations and 115 ministers), hold essentially Unitarian views. The following is a list of Liberal churches and preachers in Paris:—Central Agency, 20 rue de Vienne; Churches: Oratoire, 1 rue de l'Oratoire du Louvre; Foyer de l'âme, 7 bis rue Daval, near boulevard Beaumarchais. Ministers: M. le Professeur Bonet-Maury, 32 rue de Bac; MM. les Pasteurs E. Roberty, 4 rue de l'Oratoire du Louvre; Charles Wagner, D. D., 27 Avenue Marigny, Fontenay-sous-Bois; A. Reyse, 49 boulevard Pereire. The next International Congress will be held in Paris. 16-22 July, 1913.

Germany.—The German 'Protestantenverein' (Protestant Union) forms the chief bond of union among the Liberal Christians of the Empire. It was formed in 1865, and has about forty branch societies, and about 27,000 members. The Protestantenverein consists of members of the National Church; the liberal Christians, who do not belong to the National Church, associate themselves with the Free Religious Communities of East Germany. The Friends of Protestant Freedom in the Rhinelands is an association with 4000 members for the vindication of congregational and personal freedom in the National Church. The meetings at Berlin in August, 1910, of the International Council brought together hundreds of the best known preachers and thinkers of Germany. There is a Free Protestant Church for the promotion of Unitarian Christianity at Alzey, near Worms: Minister—Rev. Rudolf Walbaum.

Holland.—The 'Nederlandsche Protestantenbond' (Protestant Union of Holland) was established in 1870 as a converging point for Liberals belonging to every church of the country—Reformed, Lutheran, Remonstrant, Mennonite, and Free. There are 20,000 members. The 'Vergadering van moderne Theologen' (a meeting of liberal Protestant ministers and scholars) is a yearly meeting of liberal ministers of various denominations. The liberal party in the Dutch Reformed Church is organized in several Provincial Unions. The Universities of Leyden and Amsterdam are the educational centres of the free Protestantism in Holland; Leyden for the Dutch Reformed and Remonstrants, Amsterdam for the Mennonites and Lutherans. The Universities of Groningen and Utrecht have also a Liberal Professor and a number of liberal students. In Amsterdam, the Vrije Gemeente was founded by the brothers Hugenholtz. Rev. Etienne Giran, pastor of the French Walloon Church, and Rev. F. C. Fleischer (Mennonite), of Winterswijk are pronounced liberals.

Hungary.—Ever since the year 1568 there has existed a fully organized Unitarian Church in Hungary. In the sixteenth century it consisted of more than 400 congregations in Transylvania, and also a considerable number in several parts of Hungary Proper. The number was greatly reduced by protracted and bitter persecution which lasted about 200 years. The present number of Unitarian congregations with ordinary ministers is 116; and there are fifty places where the minister of the neighbouring congregation renders occasional services. The oldest congression is at Kolozsvar (1568). There is a congregation at Budapest which was established in 1869. The roll of membership in the churches of Hungary is nearly 80,000. The churches are organized under a Bishop, at present Joseph Ferencz, Kolozsvár, and two Curators (Lay-Presidents). The churches are distributed into nine districts presided over by a dean, and are governed by a representative Consistory at Kolozsvár. A chief Consistory is convened once a year. In the fourth year a Synod is held. There is an elementary school attached to each congregation, and during the three summer months Sunday School teaching is going on in most of the congregations. Higher education is carried on by the Church in three Colleges. There are at Kolozsvár a theological college, a gymnasium, and two elementary schools. The college was established about 1556 by John Sigismund, Prince of Transylvania. The theological college was reorganized in 1896, its Dean being Professor G. Boros, D.D. Many of the ministers were students at Manchester College, Oxford, a scholarship being given by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the College. In 1911, Miss Emily Sharpe of London, established a scholarship to maintain a Hungarian student at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manche ter. The Francis David Association, which was established in 1884, is doing a good work for the promotion of religious and moral culture; it has upwards of 1850 members and eleven branches. Catholics and Jews, as well as orthodox Protestants, gladly attend the meetings of the Francis David A sociation, and often read papers there on social, religious, and educational subjects. In most of the Reformed and Lutheran churches of Hungary there is a growing tendency towards liberal opinions in religion. Unitarian literature is most welcome among the cultivated members of the various churches. Four periodicals are published—The Christian Seed Sower (1861); Unitarian Magazine (1887); Woman's World (1902); Unitarian Church (1905). The Four Hundredth anniversary of the birth of Francis David, the founder of Unitarianism in Transylvania, was celebrated in August, 1910, at Kolozsvár, and at Déva. the scene of his imprisonment and death.

Iceland.—Many people in Iceland are in sympathy with Unitarian religious opinions. Mr. Matthias Jochumsson, of Akureyri, poet and writer, formerly a Lutheran pastor, is an avowed liberal theologian, and a correspondent of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. There are six Unitarian churches among the Icelanders in Manitoba, Canada.

India.—There are representatives of the Unitarian faith in several parts of India. There are Mission stations at Jowai, at Nongtalong, and other places in the Khasi Hills, at each of which there is a small meeting-house where regular Sunday services are held, and also day and Sunday schools. The late Mr. Akbar Masih, of Banda, worked chiefly through correspondence, and the publication of tracts and books on Unitarianism. The various sections of the Brahmo Samaj in the Theistic Church of India are Unitarian in their theology. They have societies in many parts of India. Central office, 211 Cornwallis Street, Calcutta. Mr. Promotho Loll Sen, Mr. Bipin Chandra Pal, Mr. Hem Chandra Sarkar, Mr. V. R. Shinde, Mr. V. A. Sukhtankar, and Mr. P. S. Bose have been students at Manchester College, Oxford, holding Scholarships from the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. There are Unitarian Postal Mission agencies at Bombay, Calcutta, Lahore, Madras, and Shillong.

Italy.—Protestantism in Italy, having been mainly promoted by the Waldensian Church, is orthodox in its leanings, but many hold liberal views. Especially in the larger towns, those who break with Catholicism, and maintain a religious connexion, are rarely content with the old dogmatic position. The late Professor Bracciforti, Milan, was long identified with the profession of Unitarian principles. The Rev. Tony André, D.D., is a well-known liberal minister and theologian in Florence, 21 Lungo Mugnone. Since 1911, the Rev. G. Conté, an ex. Methodist minister, has been engaged in spreading the principles and faith of Unitarians under the auspices of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the American Unitarian Association. Conferences are held in Rome, Venice, Florence, Milan, Palermo (Sicily), and other towns.

Jamaica.—Rev. E. Ethelred Brown, Unitarian missionary, assisted by the American Unitarian Association and the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, commenced services at Montego Bay in 1912.

Japan. The American Unitarian Association founded a Mission having its head-quarters in Unity Hall, Tokio, where the Rev. Clay MacCauley laboured successfully for many years. In 1911 he was succeeded by Mr. S. Uchigasaki, the British and Foreign Unitarian Association Japanese student formerly at Manchester College, Oxford. The work is now largely supported and worked by the Japanese themselves. Japanese scholars trained for the purpose take its services, do the work of the Postal Mission, the translation of Unitarian books, and the editing of a Review. The British and Foreign Unitarian Association has assisted four Japanese students better to equip themselves for their religious work by a course of study at Manchester College, Oxford.

New Zealand.—The Rev. R. J. Hall, M.A., is minister of the Unitarian Church, Auckland, founded in 1898: the congregation made rapid progress that the Rev. W. Jellie's ministry, and is now self-supporting. At Wellington a new Unitarian Church was opened 18 April, 1909, under the ministry of the Rev. W. Tudor Jones, Ph.D.. who began his work there early in 1906, and completed his ministry in February, 1910; the Rev. W. Jellie, B.A., is now the minister. A new congregation was formed at Timaru in 1911, under the Rev. J. H. G. Chapple, formerly a Presbyterian minister. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding visited the New Zealand churches on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association in 1912.

Unitarian Missionary Conference of New Zealand.—Objects: To unite the scattered Unitarian Churches of New Zealand by means of a Van Mission or any other practical missionary method. To publish literature expository of Unitarian Christianity. To keep in communication with isolated Unitarians throughout the Dominion. President, J. C. Macky, Auckland;

Secretary, Rev. R. J. Hall, M.A.

Norway.—Norway has a State Church which is Lutheran, and formally includes the entire nation. There are very few Dissenting churches, and these have so far only gained ground among the less educated classes. The first Unitarian church in Norway was founded by Kristofer Janson, a Norwegian poet, at Christiania. The Unitarian congregation is now under the charge of the Rev. Herman Haugerud. In Bergen, the Rev. Carl Konow, a Lutheran pastor, has recently undergone no little persecution for his religious opinions. The late Björnstjerne Björnsen, eminent as a poet and in public affairs, sympathized with the Unitarian point of view, as do also many other scholars and public men. There are four Unitarian churches among the Norwegians in the United States. The British and Foreign Unitarian Association renders assistance to the work in Christiania.

Palestine.—In Jerusalem, Haifa, and Jaffa, the Society of Friends of the Temple, founded in 1853 in Germany, by Chr. Hoffman and others, and transferred in 1868 to the Holy Land, has founded successful agricultural colonies for the worship of the one God. They deny the Trinity, the pre-existence of Jesus, and his atoning sacrifice. Freedom from the voke of dogma and a pure and living Christianity is the aim of these colonists, whose settlements are reported to be in a flourishing condition. In 1911 a pamphlet explanatory of Unitarianism was translated into Arabic for circulation among Mohammedans.

Russia.—The Dissenting seet known as Molokans are said to hold essentially Unitarian views. In St. Petersburg, the Dutch Reformed Church

(pastor, Rev. F. C. A. Pantakoek), is liberal and progressive.

Spain. A considerable number of scattered Protestant congregations, some founded under orthodox auspices and others of an unmartiality liberal type, have formed an organization under the title of the 'Spanish Evangelical Church.' This movement dates from 1886. In several of the large towns there are a number of liberal Protestants; and at Madrid, Barcelona, and other centres services and meetings are held.

Sweden.—The State Church of Sweden is Evangelical Lutheran, and its doctrines are practically the same as the tenets of the German Lutherans, Some forty years ago one of the Stockholm clergy, the Rev. Ignell, created considerable sensation by his broad and liberal-minded theology and most of his sermons and writings show that he held nearly Unitarian views, in common with several other men in the German Lutheran Church at that time. There is no organized Unitarian movement in Sweden, but a large number of religiously inclined, educated, and thoughtful men and women favour a liberal religious movement in their country. The Rev. Beskow, Djuersholm, is paster of a liberal society in Stockholm. Other prominent progressives are Prof. Santesson and Dr. Samuel Fries, of Stockholm, and Professor Lindberg, of Gothenburg.

Switzerland.—About half of the Protestants of the Swiss Republic are Liberal Christians. The liberal religious congregations are found in the Protestant Cantous, especially in Zurich, St. Gall, Geneva, and Basle. The Free Christian Association (Der Verein für freies Christentum) with thirteen centres and 4000 members is the chief bond of union and centre of activity. The popular religious literature issued under its auspices has assisted greatly in spreading the knowledge of Unitarian doctrines, while the free religious organs, especially the Schweizerische theologische Zeitschrift, Religious Volksblatt, Schweizerische Reformblätter, le Protestant liberal, and the old established Schweizerisches Protestantenblatt do excellent work in promoting religious enlightenment. It should be borne in mind that the reformers belong to the Landeskirche (Established Church) and thus leaven this with the spirit of Unitarianism. Profs. Schmiedel and Ragaz, of Zurich; Dr. Montet, rector of the University of Geneva; Rev. A. Altherr, of Basle; and Rev. E. Ryser, of Berne, are among the more prominent advocates of liberal Christianity.

Tasmania.—Unitarian Services are held at Hobart, conducted by laymen. There are quite a number of people in the island who hold Unitarian views of religion; and they look forward to the formation of a Church. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding visited Hobart on their way from Australia to New Zealand.

The following ministers are entitled to make application for assistance: (a) Any minister for the time being of the congregation of any church, society, or mission on the roll of the National Conference (or should the National Conference cease to have a roll, of any Unitarian, Liberal Christian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, or other non-subscribing or kindred congregation in the British Isles) that regularly assembles for the public worship of God; (b) The minister-at-large, missionary, or ministerial secretary, or agent, of any association, mission, society, or assembly mentioned in the rules of the National Conference adopted at Leicester in April, 1900; (e) Any Professor of the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Manchester College, Oxford, or the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, who has at any time been minister of one of the congregations mentioned in (a), and who still occasionally preaches; (d) Any minister who has been minister of any of the congregations mentioned in (a), and who is now the minister of any similar congregation in any colony or dependency of the United Kingdom. Provided that no person shall be entitled to apply to the Managers for such assistance until he has been such minister or held such a post or professorship for at least one year. The word 'minister' does not include a lay-preacher or a lay-worker at a mission. The fund is administered by a Board of twelve Managers, four of whom are ministers. The capital of the fund is invested in the names of four Trustees. The following persons are entitled to vote at a General Meeting:—(a) Donors of £5 or upwards to the fund; (b) Annual subscribers of not less than ten shillings, who became subscribers not less than six months before the date of the meeting; (c) The Managers, Trustees, and Auditors for the time being of the fund; (d) Members of the National Conference, so long as it exists, who represent churches that subscribe not less than £1 per annum to the fund; (e) all persons receiving assistance from the fund. Pension and Insurance.—The income of the fund, in the first instance, is employed in

Such policy entitles the minister to an annuity of either £52 or £104 a year, payable half yearly, the first instalment to be paid six months after he has reached the age of sixty five: it may also entitle the minister to the sum of £250, with or without profits. to be paid to his representatives on his death within the age of sixty-five, or on his death at any age. To entitle the minister to these benefits, he will have to pay the A-surance Society an annual premium varying with his age and the table which he selects. If that premium does not exceed £20, the Managers pay to the Assurance Society half the premium out of the income of the fund; if it exceeds £20, the Managers pay £10, and no more, towards the premium. After the Managers have paid, or made provision for paying. their proportion of such premiums, they may employ the balance, if any, of the income for that year in assisting any minister, not insured as above, to make provision for his old age, and for his family after his death, in such manner as they may think best. The number of beneficiary members on the books is now 111, of whom six are in receipt of pensions in the ordinary course, and three are aged ministers to whom special grants are made by way of annuity. Ministers desiring further information should write to the Hon. Sec. for a copy of the Constitution, By-Laws, Table of Premiums, and Form of Application. Managers, Robert Blake, Rev. Dr. J. Estlin Carpenter, M.A., Howard Chatfeild Clarke, Bryan E. Johnson, C. Sydney Jones, M.A., John Lawson, R. Mortimer Montgomery, M.A., Dr. W. Blake Odgers, K.C., Rev. H. J. Rossington, M.A., B.D., Rev. ### THE UNITARIAN HOME MISSIONARY COLLEGE

Summerville, Victoria Park, Manchester

This institution was founded in 1854, by the late Rev. Dr. J. R. Beard and others, 'to assist young men of carnest and religious character, active habits, and benevolent disposition, in training themselves for the work of spreading the Gospel of Christ among the people, especially among the ignorant and sinful.' While still endeavouring to carry out its original purpose, the institution has gradually been developed into a complete Training College for the Unitarian ministry. It was established under the title of the Unitarian Home Missionary Board, but at a special meeting of members, held 7 October, 1889, it was decided that it should henceforward be called the Unitarian Home Missionary College. The institution adheres to the principle of freely imparting theological knowledge, without insisting on the adoption of particular theological doctrines.

An important event in the recent history of the College has been the constitution by the Victoria University of Manchester of a free Faculty of Theology, and the association of the College and its Principal with this Faculty.

In the year 1904 the College celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its foundation, and in commemoration of this event a Memorial Fund of 220,000 has been raised to provide Collegiate and Residential buildings at Summerville, Victoria Park, Manchester. A residence for the Warden and threeen students has been provided. The building was opened 4 October, 1905.

Collegiate Course.—The normal Collegiate Course consists of an Arts Curriculum of at least two years, and a Theological Curriculum of at least two years, each year comprising three academical terms.

Admission of Students.—Students may be admitted to the Collegiate Course after having attained the age of eighteen years; and to the Theological Curriculum (a) After having completed the Arts Curriculum; or, (b) After having obtained a degree; or, (c) After having attained the age of 25 years, and shown special aptitude for the work of the ministry.

All Candidates must pass the Examination, and comply with the Regulations, prescribed in the By-laws relating to Candidates for Admission.

general benevolent objects.

In drafting a New Trust Deed care should be taken to state clearly that if any question should at any time arise as to the purposes for which the said Church or Chapel may lawfully be used, the widest meaning should be attached to the trust aforesaid, so that neither by reference to the actual or supposed opinions of the founders, nor otherwise, shall any restriction be imposed on the liberty of the congregation for the time being to change its opinions with regard to religious doctrines or modes of regulating worship.

The Deed should be settled by a solicitor, who will consider questions of con-

USEFUL LEGAL INFORMATION

Registration of Births and Deaths

Births.—Parents are required to see to the registration of Births (at the Registrar's office for the district in which they reside) within six weeks, under a penalty of 40s. for default. There is no charge for such registration, unless the Registrar attends, by a written request, at the house of the parents, when he becomes entitled to a fee of 1s. In default of the parents, the occupier of the house in which the child was born, and other persons, are held responsible for giving information to the Registrar. After the lapse of three months from the date of birth, the registration can only be effected by paying fees of 2s. 6d. each to the Registrar and Superintendent-Registrar.

Deaths must be registered within five days, but registration may be delayed for fourteen days provided written information of the death, together with a medical certificate of its cause, be forwarded to the Registrar within five days. The nearest relative present at the death or during the last illness is the responsible person, or should there be no relative present, then the occupier of the house, or the person who causes the body to be buried. Penalty for default, 40s. The doctor's certificate must be produced to the Registrar at the time of registration, and the Registrar's certificate to the officiating Minister at the interment. No fee is payable if the informants attend at the Registrar's office, but he becomes entitled to a fee of 1s. if he attends by request at their houses.

Registration of Chapels

Ordinary Registration.—All dissenting places of worship should be registered. Registration is effected by giving a certificate in writing that the chapel is used for worship to the Superintendent-Registrar of the District on a form which he will supply on application. The fee on registration is 2s. 6d., and a certified copy of the Registrar-General's certificate of the Registration can be obtained for a further payment of 2s. 6d. The Registers can at any time be inspected at the Superintendent-Registrar's office on payment of a fee of 1s. Registered places of worship are exempt from the provisions of the Charitable Trusts Acts. When a place of worship is rebuilt, either on the same or another site, the old certificate of registration must be cancelled and the place re-registered.

Registration of Chapels for Marriages.—A place of worship must, before marriages can legally be celebrated therein, in addition to being registered as above mentioned, be separately registered for the performance of marriages. Before registering a place for marriages, the Superintendent-Registrar of the district must be satisfied by certificate that the building has been used for worship for one year previous to the application. A fee of £3 is payable, and the Registration is advertised in the London Gazette and in a local newspaper. When a chapel ceases to be used for worship or is rebuilt, the certificate is cancelled, and in that case it requires to be renewed if worship is resumed. When a congregation has removed from one chapel to another, and the old building has ceased to be used as a place of public worship, the certificate of the old chapel may be cancelled, and the new building registered for the solemnization of marriages, without waiting for a year to elapse. All necessary forms and information will be supplied by the Superintendent-Registrar of the District.

Marriage Laws 1

England and Wales.—Marriages may be solemnized in any registered building, or in a district registry office either by certificate or by heence. If by certificate, notice (accompanied with fee of 1s. for entry in 'Marriage Notice Book') must be given by one of the parties, if both live in one district, to the Superintendent-Registrar, on form furnished for purpose, containing solemn declaration of absence of impediment to intended marriage, certifying that one of the parties has dwelt at least seven days in district, and must be signed in presence of Registrar or deputy; but if parties live in different districts, notices must be sent to respective Superintendent-Registrars. Twenty-one clear days after entry of notice the certificate (for which 1s. must be paid) will be granted on application.

The same applies if one party lives in Ireland, only notice must be given on form used in Ireland. If one party lives in Scotland, Scotch certificate of proclamation of banns will be accepted as equal to certificate.

If by licence, though both parties do not dwell in same district, only one need give notice, certifying that he or she has resided at least fifteen days in district, though marriage may be held in district of either party. Both parties, however, must be in England at time of notice, though only one clear day is required (unless marriage take place in Ireland with some one there, when seven days are required) between notice and granting of licence. Cost of licence, £2 2s.

If there be no registered building in the district according to rites or ceremonies desired by parties, by endorsing notice with such declaration marriage may be held in another district.

If usual 'place of worship' at which ceremony is desired, be out of district of either's dwelling, by inserting words:—' Such building being usual place of worship of said——, and situate not more than two miles beyond limits of

district of ---,' certificate will be granted accordingly.

The marriage must take place in registered building specified in certificate, with open doors, between the hours of eight in the morning and three in the afternoon, within three calendar months from day of entry of notice, in presence of Registrar (or his deputy, or, if the Marriage Act of 1898 has been adopted, in the presence of the Authorized person) and two or more credible witnesses besides minister, if any. At some part of ceremony the words must be said:—'I do solemnly declare that I know not of any lawful impediment why I—— may not be joined in matrimony to——'; and each must say to other: 'I call upon these persons here present to witness that I—— do take thee—— to be my lawful wedded wife (or husband)'; without which it is not a marriage.

Registrar's fee for attending marriage by certificate, 5s.; by licence, 10s.;

for copy of certificate, 2s. 6d., and stamp 1d.

In marriages in district registry office, the same conditions (only the Superintendent-Registrar must be present) and words as above must be observed. There must, however, be no religious service, though this does not prevent such service being subsequently held if desired.

Quakers and Jews are excepted so far from the ordinary operation of the Marriage Acts as to be allowed their respective usages, provided due notice be given and certificate shall have issued.

By the Marriage Act, 1898 (61 & 62 Vic. c. 58), marriage may be solemnized in the registered building named in the Superintendent's certificate or certificate and licence authorized by law, without the presence of any Registrar, but in the presence of such duly authorized person as mentioned in the Statute. The Statute provides for the notices and forms required to be given or complied with and the registers to be kept.

Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister was legalized by Act of Parliament.

Ireland.—Marriages according to the form and discipline of the Presbyterian Church may be celebrated—

1. By special licence;

2. By licence: or

3. After publication of banns.

(1.) In the first case 'Both parties must be members of the same Church as the Moderator who grants the Special Licence'—that is to say the Remonstrant Synod of Ulster, the Presbytery of Antrim, and the Synod of Munster, are treated as three separate denominations, and the Moderator of each has the privilege of granting special licences to the members of his own body.

(2.) Ordinary licences can be granted when only one of the parties is a Presbyterian. Each Presbytery is authorized to appoint, subject to the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, a sufficient number of Presbyterian ministers to issue licences for marriage in meeting-houses duly certified in connexion with the Presbytery.

Anyone wishing to obtain a licence must, seven days before the licence shall be delivered to him or her, produce to the licensing minister a certificate from the minister of the congregation of which he or she shall be a member and has been a member for at least one calendar month preceding. This congregation must be in connexion with the Presbytery to which the licensing minister belongs.

(3.) When both parties are Presbyterians, marriages may be celebrated after the banns have been proclaimed for three Sundays in the Presbyterian meeting-houses attended by each of the parties.

The presence of the Registrar is not required at a marriage celebrated in a place of worship whether Presbyterian or otherwise.

Scotland.—The ceremony can be performed by the minister of any denomination, in any place, at any time, with or without any particular form. The law has been amended so as to put an end, as far as possible, to what were known as 'irregular' marriages. Legal notice must now be given to the Registrar of the parish or district, as in England, the names of the contracting parties being exhibited for seven days on the notice board outside the office of the Registrar in whose district the parties have resided for at least fifteen days immediately preceding. At the expiration of the period named a certificate will be granted, and on this the marriage may take place either in a church or elsewhere. Any person who has resided for at least twenty-one days in Scotland may be married by going to the Registrar's office in which he or she may reside, accompanied by two witnesses who can certify as to the term of residence, and exchanging written contract with the other party, afterwards proceeding to the County Sheriff's chambers to have the marriage registered.

Burial Laws: England and Wales

If a death is due to violence or accident, or is sudden, or its cause is unknown, or no certificate of any registered medical practitioner can be procured specifying the cause of death, notice should be given to the Coroner. Such notice may be given through the police. The police indeed often give such notice of their own accord. It is also the duty of the Registrar of deaths to give such notice in any of these cases, and to delay registering the death until the Coroner has investigated the matter.

A body ought not to be buried without either a Coroner's order or a Registrar's certificate of the death, and a minister should decline to conduct a funeral service over a body unless one of these two documents is produced to him or their absence can be satisfactorily explained.

In the early days of Nonconformity a good many churches had burial grounds attached to them, following the example of the Established Church; and it was lawful for interments to be made in such grounds accompanied by any service which the parties desired. It is possible that some such grounds may still be in use, but we fancy that most of them lay within areas wherein interments have been prohibited for sanitary reasons. and that they have been closed accordingly. As old burial grounds were thus closed or became filled, the need was felt for new spaces devoted to the same purpose; and this need was supplied in many localities by private companies, which bought land and laid it out as cemeteries, and allowed burials to take place therein on the payment of fees. Such companies always obtained private Acts of Parliament authorizing them to carry on their business; and in 1847 an Act called the Cemeteries Clauses Act was passed specifying the provisions, which were to be incorporated in all future Acts authorizing cometeries. This Act permitted the Company to have part of the cemetery consecrated and set apart for the burial of Conformists (s. 23); and we have no doubt that all cemetery companies have availed themselves of this permission, for they could hardly have carried on their business profitably if they had not done so. The Act also (ss. 35, 36) allowed the Company to provide for Nonconformist burials, and to make regulations for the same; and we have no doubt that this power also has always been exercised. In some quarters also Roman Catholics and Jews provided cemeteries for their own people. It was, however, clearly insufficient to rely on private enterprise to supply the places of all closed burial grounds; and the same Statutes, which directed the closing of old burial grounds, authorized also the formation of Burial Boards to provide new burial grounds in place of them (15 & 16 Vic. c. 85; 16 & 17 Vic. c. 134; 17 & 18 Vic. c. 87; 18 & 19 Vic. c. 128, etc.). This was absolutely necessary, for the old grounds included parish churchyards, each of which was available for the burial of the bodies of all persons who died within the parish, and these grounds could not have been closed unless new grounds had been provided. The new grounds have accordingly been provided by parish authorities, and they are often called parochial cometeries; and the law gives a right to inter in them the body of any person who dies in the parish, which provided them. The parochial cemeteries, however, do not altogether follow the old parochial divisions; but parishes have been combined or divided for burial purposes, to suit the convenience of different localities. In parochial cemeteries, however, it was at first made necessary to follow the same customs as in non-parochial cemeteries, and to set apart some ground as consecrated ground for the burial of Conformists, and other ground for Nonconformists, and to build chapels for both, and now it is permissible to have one ground and one chapel common to all parties. Wherever there is a cemetery, therefore, parochial or non-parochial, there is no difficulty in the way of a Nonconformist minister conducting a funeral service. In the absence, however, of a cemetery a difficulty was experienced down to the year 1880, for the only burial ground available was the parish churchyard, and a burial therein involved a Church of England burial service conducted by a minister of the Church of England, and the payment of a fee to him, or no service at all. Indeed, the Prayer Book of the Church of England forbids the service to be read over the bodies of any who die unbaptized.

This state of affairs was remedied in 1880 by the Burial Laws Amendment Act of that year, which permitted Nonconformist ministers to conduct burial services in parish churchyards; and, by way of doing even justice all round, gave them also power to officiate at burials in the consecrated parts of cemeteries, and gave the clergy of the Church of England power to conduct burials in the unconsecrated parts.

This Act authorizes any person responsible for the burial of a body to give forty-eight hours notice to the incumbent of the parish in which the death took place, or in his absence to his deputy, that it is intended that the body shall be buried in the churchyard of the parish without the Church of England service. The Act allowed a like notice to be given to the chaplain of a parochial cemetery if a burial was intended to be made there; but the Burial Act, 1900 (63 & 64 Vic. c. 15, s. 8) requires that in the last-mentioned case the notice shall be given at such time and to such person as the burial authority directs. It is therefore necessary in that case to inquire at the office of the cemetery, and to give such notice as the rules of the cemetery prescribe. It is said that the notice may be given by the minister who is to conduct the service, or by the undertaker; at least, if the person responsible for the burial authorizes them to give it.

In the case of burials in churchyards the form of notice is specified in the Act of 1880, and the requirements are as follows:-

The Notice must be in writing; must be endorsed on the outside 'Notice of Burial'; must be signed with the name and address of the person giving it, and be in the form, or to the effect, following:—

, being the relative for 'friend, or legal representative, as the case may be, describing the relation, 'if a relative], having the charge of, or being responsible for, the burial of ' A. [N.B.—While it is desirable to keep to this form, the person receiving it will not be at liberty to object to its sufficiency because the exact words are not used; the Act only requiring that the notice shall be in the form, for to the effect, of the above.]

In the case of a churchyard, the notice is to be left at the house of the clergyman, or, in his absence, of the clergyman in charge of the parish, or of any person appointed to receive such notices.

In the case of a pauper, notice may be given to the incumbent, and also to the master of the workhouse, or to the clerk to the Guardians, by the husband, wife, or next of kin. The Guardians will be bound to allow the burial to be in accordance with the Act.

It is not necessary that the clergyman should consent to a burial under the Act. He can object only to the time proposed, and do that only in certain cases. Unless it be otherwise mutually arranged, burials must be between 10 and 6 o'clock from April 1st to October 1st, and between 10 and 3 from

October 1st to April 1st.

A burial may take place either without 'any religious service' or 'with such Christian and orderly religious service' at the grave as the person responsible for the burial may think fit, and 'any person or persons'—whether ministers or laymen—who may be invited or authorized, may conduct such service, or take part in any religious act thereat. The words 'Christian service' include 'every religious service used by any church, denomination, or person, professing to be Christian.'

All burials must be decent and orderly, and anyone guilty of riotons, violent, or indecent behaviour, or of obstructing any service, will be guilty of a misdemeanour.

So also will any person who shall 'deliver any address, not being part of, or incidental to, any religious service' permitted by the Act, or who wilfully endeavours 'to bring into contempt or obloquy the Christian religion, or the belief or worship of any church or denomination of Christians, or the members or any minister of any such church or denomination, or any other person.'

The person having charge of a burial under the Act must, either on the same day or the day after, send to the incumbent or his representative—or, in the case of a cemetery, to the clerk—a certificate of the burial in prescribed form.

'I, , of , the person having the charge 'of [or, being responsible for] the burial of the deceased, do hereby certify 'that on the day of , 191

, aged , was buried in the churchyard [or graveyard] of the parish [or district] of

'To the Rector for, as the case may be of (Some inconvenience has arisen by confounding this certificate of burial with the Registrar's certificate of death. The law in regard to the latter remains as it was previous to the passing of the Act of 1880, except that the Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1874, sect. 17, is amended, in the case of burials under the Act of 1880, and the Registrar's certificate must be delivered, not to the officiating minister, but to the person in charge of the funeral; who, if he so choose, retains it. The Registrar's certificate is not essential to an interment taking place; for the Burial Act of 1880 expressly provides that if the person in charge of the funeral has not received it within seven days after the interment, he must give notice to the Registrar.

The clergy of the Church of England are at liberty to use the burial service of that Church in any unconsecrated burial ground, or in the chapel therein. The relatives may have such service performed in unconsecrated ground by any clergyman of the Church of England who may be willing to perform the same.

In cases where the Church of England service cannot legally be used, and in any other case, at the request of the relatives, the clergy may use some other than the ordinary burial service of the Church of England, provided that it has been approved by the Bishop, and is taken wholly from the Bible and Prayer Book.

The Act of 1880 does not entitle anyone to be buried in any place in which he would have no right to be buried if the Act had not passed.

When permission to bury a non-parishioner is given, the service may be conducted under the Act. The incumbent has no legal right to make his consent to the burial of a non-parishioner dependent on the service being conducted by himself, or some other clergyman.

Neither does it affect previously existing regulations or authority in regard to the position of graves, inscriptions on gravestones, etc. The same fees will also have to be paid as though the burial were conducted by a clergyman.

The Act of 1880 applies only to England and Wales and the Channel Islands.

Burial Grounds Act, 1900 .- This Act, which came into operation January 1st, 1901, modifies the Act of 1880 in the case of the consecrated parts of parochial cemeteries. The Act does not deal with churchyards. In future, Burial Boards 'may, if they think fit,' apply to have a portion of the cemetery consecrated; formerly they were compelled to have a portion consecrated. Burial Boards are no longer compelled to erect two cemetery chapels, one for Anglicans and one for Nonconformists. They may erect any chapel 'they may consider necessary'; but any chapel so erected 'shall not be consecrated, or reserved for the exclusive use of any denomination.' The payment of fees to an incumbent of a parish will no longer be required 'except for services rendered by him.' In future, when a Nonconformist minister officiates in the consecrated part of a parochial cemetery, he, and not the clergyman, will receive the fee. These provisions apply to cemeteries opened after the passing of the Act. In the case of cemeteries already existing the old fees will continue to be exacted for fifteen years, or on the vacating of the incumbency, whichever is the longer period.

Cremation.—This is regulated by the Cremation Act, 1902, and the Regulations made by the Home Secretary in pursuance of that Act.

Charitable Trusts, Investments, and General

Bequests to Charities.—(1) Bequest of an ordinary pecuniary Legacy. In this case there is no need for the provision formerly inserted in wills directing the legacy to be paid exclusively out of such parts of the testator's estate as might lawfully be disposed of for charitable purposes. The bequest may be in the following form:—

'I give to the treasurer or treasurers for the time being of the Society the sum of pounds, free of duty, for the general purposes of the said society, and his or their receipt shall be a sufficient discharge for the same.'

of sale to pay the legacies previously bequeathed, which may include a legacy to a charitable society, and a testator may now bequeath a share of such proceeds to such society. In these cases, although perhaps not essential, it is considered prudent, at all events until the interpretation of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, has been settled by judicial decision, to add to the gift of the pecuniary legacy or share to the society the following direction:—

'And I direct that in case all the real and leasehold estate comprised in the devise and bequest in trust for sale herein contained shall not be sold within one year from my death, then the said legacy (or share) herein bequeathed to the said treasurer or treasurers for the time being of the society, and the duty thereon shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale and conversion of my personal estate and the proceeds of sale of such of my real and leasehold estate as shall be sold within one year after my death, in priority to all other legacies (or shares) payable thereout.'

Charitable Trusts.—The Acts relating to Charitable Trusts give the Charity Commissioners very extensive jurisdiction over all charitable trusts (except certain exempted charities), and empower the Commissioners to inquire into the management of charities, to oblige their trustees to render accounts, to advise such trustees on the administration of the trusts, to authorize or direct legal proceedings to be taken, to authorize the granting of leases and making of improvements, and raising of money by mortgage, to authorize trustees to remove schoolmasters and other officers, to authorize the sale, exchange, or partitions of lands, to remove and appoint trustees, and to make new schemes for the administration of charities. Among the charities exempted from the operations of these Acts are any buildings registered as places of meeting for religious worship with the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, and bona fide used as places of meeting for religious worship. Exempted charities can, by application under certain sections of one of the Acts, have the benefits of the Acts extended to them.

Dissenters' Chapels Act.—It is under this Act (7 & 8 Vic. c. 45), passed 19th July, 1844, that many of the old Presbyterian Chapels are secured to the Unitarians. The Act provides in substance that where there is no express statement in the deed of foundation as to the particular doctrines for which a chapel was to be employed, twenty-five years' usage shall be conclusive evidence of the legality of the doctrine.

Dissenters in Established Church Pulpits .- The Act by which it is considered that the Clergy are restrained from inviting Dissenters to occupy their pulpits is the Act of Uniformity of 1662 (13 & 14 Car. II, c. 14). this Act no one may act or preach as a lecturer (in which capacity it is conceived a Dissenter or layman would appear, if so invited to preach) without a licence from the Bishop, and it has been decided that the discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence cannot be questioned. Any lecturer who acts in contravention of this enactment 'shall suffer three months' imprisonment without bail or mainprize.' No penalty, however, appears to be incurred by a parson inviting or permitting an unlicensed lecturer to use his pulpit; though a Bishop who grants a licence to anyone who has not first subscribed to the Three Articles concerning 'the King's supremacy, the Book of Common Prayer, and the Thirty-nine Articles,' will have to suffer the serious inconvenience of being suspended from giving licences to preach for the space of twelve months.

Executors and their Duties.—Immediately on the death of a testator his personal property passes to his executors to be distributed (after the payment of his funeral expenses and debts) in the manner directed by the will. The real property also (except land of copyhold tenure or customary freehold) vests in the executors, who hold it as trustees for the persons beneficially entitled thereto, subject to a liability on account of the testator's debts, should the personal property which he leaves prove insufficient to pay them. They must take out a probate of the will, either personally or through a solicitor, either at Somerset House or at the Registry of the district in which the testator resided. The original will is then deposited in one of the registries of the Court, and the executors obtain a copy of it certified under the seal of the Probate Division. Estate duty is payable upon the principal value of all property, real or personal, settled or not settled, which passes on a death.

Land, Gifts and Sales of .- The law relating to gifts and sales of land and other property for charitable uses (amongst which are included the erection of chapels, schools, etc.), has been recently consolidated by the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888 (51 & 52 Vic. c. 42) and the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891 (54 & 55 Vic. c. 73), but is still very complicated. No attempt should be made to give effect to sales of more than two acres of land, or to gifts for such purposes without competent legal advice. Land not exceeding two acres in extent may be conveyed to 'trustees on behalf of any society or body of persons associated together for religious purposes,' 'for the erection thereon of a building for such purposes,' 'or whereon a building used or intended to be used for such purposes has been erected,' without any special formalities, provided that such conveyance be made in good faith, for full and valuable consideration. It is no longer necessary to enrol either the conveyance or the deed declaring the trusts, though the trustees may enrol such deed if they think fit. Any property, except lands, tenements and hereditaments, and personal property directed to be laid out in them, may be assured to charity, either for value or as a gift, and either by deed or will, without restriction of any kind.

Oaths Act, 1888.—The Act to amend the Law as to Oaths, passed on the 24th December, 1888, enacts that every person upon objecting to being sworn, and stating, as the ground of such objection, either that he has no religious belief, or that the taking of an oath is contrary to his religious belief, shall be permitted to make his solemn affirmation instead of taking an oath, in all places and for all purposes where an oath is or shall be required by law, which affirmation shall be of the same force and effect as if he had taken the oath. Every such affirmation shall be as follows: - 'I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm,' and then proceed with the words of the oath prescribed by law, omitting any words of imprecation or calling to witness. If any person to whom an oath is administered desires to swear with uplifted hand in the form and manner in which an oath is usually administered in Scotland, he shall be permitted to do so, and the oath shall be administered to him in such form and manner without further question. By the Act of 1909, an alteration in the manner of administering oaths is authorized.

Passports.—British subjects travelling abroad are strongly advised to obtain Passports before leaving the United Kingdom, more especially if they contemplate a prolonged stay in any foreign country. The possession of a Passport is necessary in order to enter Russia, Turkey, Rumania, Servia, Persia, Colombia, Venezuela, Eritrea, and the States bordering on the Southern frontier of Austria-Hungary. For these countries (with the exception of Servia) it is also necessary for the Passport to be vise by a Consular Officer of the State concerned. For other countries, although not absolutely necessary in order to enter, it is always advisable to carry a Passport, as the production of such a document may at any time be required, and its absence may cause the traveller considerable inconvenience. A full statement of the requirements of foreign countries may be obtained gratis on application to the Foreign Office, London, Passports are issued to British-born subjects by the Foreign Office or the various British Consuls on presentation of Form of Declaration, which is sent on application, duly verified by a Banking Firm established in the United Kingdom, or by a Mayor, Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, Minister of Religion, Barrister-at-Law, Physician, Surgeon, Solicitor, or Notary, resident in the United Kingdom. If the applicant for a Passport be a naturalized British subject the Certificate of Naturalization must be forwarded to the Foreign Office with the Declaration. Naturalized British subjects, if resident in London or in the suburbs, must apply personally for their Passports at the Foreign Office; if resident in the country, the Passport will be sent, and the Certificate of Naturalization returned to the person who may have verified the Declaration. Naturalized British subjects will be described as such in their Passports, which will be issued subject to the necessary qualifications. The charge for issue of a Passport is 2s., and for visas—Austria-Hungary (for Bosnia and Herzegovina), 2s.; Belgium, 2s. 6d.; France, 8s. (in Belgium and France, Passports must be held for a lengthened stay); Persia, 5s.; Portugal, 4s. 6d.; Russia, 4s. 10d. (Religion must be stated before visa will be granted. New visa required every six months); Servia, 2s. 6d.; Spain, 9s. 8d.; Switzerland, 2s.: Turkey, 4s. (must state at which point the traveller will enter the Turkish Dominions; a fresh visa is required for each journey); Venezuela, Agency fee 1s. 6d. extra for Passport and 1s. each visa.

Rates, Exemption from.-It is enacted by 3 & 4 William IV, c. 30, that 'no person or persons shall be rated, or shall be liable to be rated to, or to pay any church or poor rates or cesses for, or in respect of, any churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or premises, or such part thereof, as shall be exclusively appropriated to public religious worship, and which shall be 'registered under 18 & 19 Vic. c. 81, as a place of meeting for religious worship. 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be hereby exempted from any such rates or cesses, for or in respect of, any parts of such churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or other premises which are not so exclusively appropriated, and from which parts not so exclusively appropriated, such person or persons shall receive any rent or rents or shall derive profit or advantage.' Section 2 proceeds, 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be liable to any such rates or cesses because the said churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or other premises, or any vestry-rooms belonging thereto or any part thereof, may be used for Sunday or infant schools, or for the charitable education of the poor.' It is difficult to say what user of part of a chapel or school premises would bring the case within the exception from the exemption. With regard to the certification

of places of worship see 'Registration.'

By the Public Health Act the incumbent or minister of any building exempted by law from the poor rate is also exempt from rates for sewering, paving, and lighting leviable by any authority administering the Act. This provision is now extended to Trustees of Churches by the Private Street Works Act, 1892. It may be questioned whether such user (if any) of chapel or school premises as would subject the chapel or premises to the liability to pay poor rates might not also involve liability to rates levied under the Public Health Act. This Act does not apply to the metropolis, the latter being governed by the Metropolis Management Act, 1855. From that Act the exemption clause was omitted, and it has been practically held that Dissenting places of worship are 'houses,' and are not exempt from the paving, sewering, and lighting rates leviable thereunder.

Recent Statutes.—The following Acts of Parliament may be usefully consulted on the subjects named: 18 & 19 Vic. c. 81, Places of Religious Worship Registration Act; 55 & 56 Vic. c. 11, Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act Amendment: c. 32: 56 & 57 Vic. c. 53 (The Trustee Act, 1893); 57 & 58 Vic. c. 35, Charitable Trusts (Places of Religious Worship Amendment Act, 1894); 60 & 61 Vic. c. 5, The Marriage Act, 1898; 62 & 63 Vic. c. 32, The Burial Act, 1900, c. 15; The Factory and Workshops Act, 1901, c. 22; The Cremation Act, 1902, c. 8; Marriage Legalization Act, 1903, c. 26; Elementary Education Amendment Act, c. 13; Employment of Children Act, 1903, c. 45; Shop Hours Act, 1904, c. 31; Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act, 1904, c. 15: Education (Provision of Meals Act), 1906, 6 Ed. Registers, Dissenting, of Births, Baptisms, Marriages, Deaths, and Burials.—These registers and records, which were collected, examined and approved by a Royal Commission, are now deposited in the custody of the Registrar-General, at the Non-Parochial Register Office, Somerset House, London, which, for the purposes of the Act of 3 & 4 Vic. c. 92, is deemed a branch or part of the General Register Office. Searches and extracts from these registers and records will be granted on every day except Sundays, Christmas Day, and Good Friday, between the hours of ten and four, upon personal application only, and payment of legal fees. Applications by letter for search or extract cannot be complied with. Persons residing in the country, therefore, who may require searches of certificates, must, of necessity, apply to a friend in London, or employ an agent. All other communications by letter, on the subject of the above-mentioned registers and records, must be addressed to the 'Registrar-General, General Register Office, London'; and it is requested that the words 'Non-Parochial Registers' may be written on the outside of all such letters, the postage of which may be left unpaid. The fee for each search is 1s., and for each certificate, 2s. 7d.

Sites for Chapels.—By the Places of Worship Sites' Act, 1873, amended by an Act of 1883, owners of settled estates, corporations, and officers, trustees, and commissioners holding land for public purposes, are empowered, within certain limitations, to grant sites for places of religious worship, residences for ministers, and burial grounds.

Trustees' Incorporation Act.—35 & 36 Vic. c. 24.—This Act, entitled 'An Act to facilitate the Incorporation of Trustees of Charities for Religious, Educational, Literary, Scientific, and Public Charitable Purposes, and the Enrolment of certain Charitable Trust-Deeds,' was passed 27th June, 1872. The object of the Act is to facilitate the incorporation of the charities indicated in the title, and to diminish the expense of enrolment under an Act passed in the thirtieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria. Owing to the option of granting a certificate being by the Act vested in the Charity Commissioners for England and Wales, and to the latter having held that such certificate should be refused in cases where the property might be vested in the official trustee of the Commissioners under the Charity Commission Acts, the Incorporation Act has become practically useless.

Trustees, Investments by.—The Trustee Act, 1893, consolidates the various enactments relating to trustees. The first part relates to investments, and as to these it is (inter alia) enacted that a trustee may, unless expressly forbidden by the instrument (if any) creating the trust, and subject to any consent required by such instrument, in addition to the powers conferred thereby, invest any trust funds in his hands, whether at the time in a state of investment or not, as follows:—

(b) On real or heritable securities in Great Britain or Ireland.
(c) In the stock of the Bank of England or the Bank of Ireland.

(o) In any of the stocks, funds, or securities for the time being authorized for the investment of cash under the control of the High Court.

Provided that a trustee may not purchase at a price exceeding its redemption value any stock mentioned in sub-sections (g), (i), (k), (l), and (m), which is liable to be redeemed within fifteen years of the date of purchase at par or at some other fixed rate, or purchase any such stock as is mentioned in such sub-sections, which is liable to be redeemed at par or at some other fixed rate, at a price exceeding 15 per cent above par or such other fixed rate.

National Health Insurance Act, 1912.—By decision of the Commissioners, Unitarian Ministers are not required to be insured under the National Health Insurance Act.

Workmen's Compensation Act, 1907—It is desirable to insure the minister (if in receipt of a salary under £250 per annum); the chapel-keeper, and where there is an understanding (written or otherwise) that the wife or any member of the family helps, the helper also; any charwoman or other person employed regularly though for only and perhaps a part of a day a week; the grave-digger, if any; the organist and blower and members of the choir if paid; also any Bible-women or nurses. That where the chapel-keeper regularly employs any charwoman or other person to help, that an insurance should be taken out for the benefit of the chapel-keeper in respect of the persons helping, as he would probably be liable under the Act. These recommendations apply to those engaged in connexion with missions and schools.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEES

This may be made under the Act of 1850 (13 & 14 Vic. c. 28). generally known as Sir Morton Peto's Act, and the Acts of 1869 and 1890 extending the same, now together called 'the Trustees Appointment Acts, 850 to 1890,' or by 'the Trustee Act, 1893.' When there is an existing power of appointment, the appointment may be effected in the manner, and by the person appointed by the instrument, creating the trust: if here is no existing power, or the appointment under the power be not nade within twelve months, then recourse should be made to the above Acts, under which the appointment can be made, in the case of Peto's Act, by resolution of the congregation, society, or body of persons interested herein as by the Act provided, or, in the case of the Trustee Act, 1893, by vriting by the persons therein mentioned, the trust property in the former ase vesting in the new trustees by virtue of the appointment alone, and, n the latter case, by virtue of a declaration forming part of the Deed.

If none of these modes of appointment should be feasible, resort should be had to the powers of the Charity Commissioners, and in the last instance to the Court of Chancery, though this latter course should not be adopted vithout a certificate of its necessity from the Commissioners.

No form of appointment is prescribed by the Trustee Act, 1893, but in Sir Morton Peto's Act a form is given for cases under that Act only, and s as follows :--

GEORGE SMITH, OF COALVILLE. A Modern Knight-Errant.

In the present age, characterized by conflicting ideas of war and peace; by the glorification of military provess on the one hand, and by the deepening sense of the value and sacredness of human life on the other—life too often thrown away for ignoble ends it is well that our attention should be directed to one whose character and career form a standing testimony to the supreme value of noble ideals.

LIFE IN PALESTINE WHEN JESUS LIVED. Cloth 1/- net.

The Schoolmester says: 'This is perhaps the best shilling's worth of information on the Holy Land that we ever came across. Carefully written, a pleasing subject has been surrounded with additional interest, and a useful handbook to the first three gospels is now ready for public perusal. It does not require to read more than half-a-dozen pages to feel that our attention is not likely to flag during the rest of the volume. The country, people, Government, and religion are all discussed in turn—nothing hurried or curtailed, every sub-division given its due share, and the result is a whole upon which the author may fairly be congratulated. It only needs that the book have a good sale to be appreciated as we feel it.

The Bible for Young People

By Dr. H. Oort and Dr. I. Hooykaas.

A Critical, Historical, and Religious Commentary on the Old Testament.

Translated from the Dutch by the Rev. P. H. Wicksteed, M.A. 4 vols. Cloth 4/- net. Separate Volumes, 2/- each net.

It treats the Bible much in the same way that Dr. Arnold treated Roman history, giving at the beginning of each chapter the 'legend' with which we are all familar, then the criticism of it, and finally vindicating its title to a place in the instruction of the young by drawing such moral and religious lessons as seem to flow from the result thus obtained. All this is extremely well and attractively done, and young people who take it up are likely enough to be fascinated by it. It brings the discussions of foreign scholarship for the first time in an easy and accessible form before the general English public.—Guardian.

The Rev. Philip H. Wickstred, M.A., the well-known and acknowledged authority on Old Testament Criticism, and translator of the work, writes under date of 13th of Nov., 1896:—'In the main this work may be taken as representing the best opinion of Scholars, better now than when it was written. Opinion has come up to it.'

PREFACE

THE YEAR BOOK for 1914 contains the names of 360 Ministers and 6 Lay-Workers in Great Britain and Ireland.

Since the last issue of the Year Book, 8 ministers and 1 lay-worker have died. One minister has returned to America; one has withdrawn his name; another has left the ministry; three Lay-Workers' names have been omitted on their resignation.

The following names of Ministers appear in the Year Book for the first time: Edward Ernest Coleman (formerly a Baptist minister), Evan Glyn Evans (educated, 1909-13, at H.M.C.), Evan T. Evans (formerly a Coagregational minister), John Cyril Flower (formerly a Congregational minister), John Hinkins (formerly a Congregational missioner), Arnold Heynes Lewis (formerly a Baptist minister), David Basil Martin (formerly a Congregational minister), Arthur Victor Moody (educated, 1912-13, at M.C.O.), Robert Fleming Rattray (educated, 1908-11, at M.C.O.), John William Saunders (educated, 1910-13, at M.C.O.). The names of William Jellie, M. R. Scott, and Felix Taylor have been transferred from the Colonial List on their return to England.

The following names of Lay-Workers appear in the Year Book for the first time: E. A. Carlier (Deptford), Stanley Robert Gibbon (Tamworth), Harry Maguire (Wareham). In transforring the name of a Lay-Worker to the list of Ministers, the period of service as a Lay-Worker is indicated.

Of the Ministers, 120 were educated at Manchester College: this number includes 15 students from the Unitarian Home Missionary College, and 6 from the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 107 Ministers were educated at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, and 29 at the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 54 ministers were educated at 'orthodox' theological Colleges; 2 were educated at Unitarian Colleges in America; 16 ministers have had a University or College education, without special theological training; 53 have had no College training.

256 Ministers and 6 Lay-Workers are in charge of Congregations; 66 ministers have retired from active work; 11 are employed as tutors in our colleges, secretaries of associations, editors of papers, and district ministers; 7 are engaged in work not connected with the denomination; 19 are open to accept ministerial appointments.

The list of Congregations contains 369 places of worship; 289 in England; 38 in Ireland; 35 in Wales; 7 in Scotland. Blackpool (Waterloo Road), Burslem, Canterbury, Chelmsford, and Manchester (Broughton) have been omitted.

In December, 1913, the following pulpits were vacant, or about to become vacant:—England—Bath, Bedfield, Bessel's Green, Burnley, Coventry, Devonport, Heywood, Hinckley, Leicester (Narborough Road), Liverpool (Hope Street), London (Kilburn, University Hall, Woolwich), Loughborough, Manchester (Moss Side), Middlesbrough, Middleton, Newcastle (Staffs), Pudsey, Ringwood, St. Helens, Southport, Taunton, Wakefield, Yarmouth. Ireland—Belfast (York Street), Grey Abbey. Scotland—Glasgow (Ross Street), Kirkcaldy. Wales—Aberdare (Old Meeting), Dowlais, Pontypridd. Upwards of fifty congregations rely at present upon Lay-preachers, with occasional visits from ministers in the neighbourhood or from a distance.

The Essex Hall Hymnal, in its older or Revised edition, is used by 186 congregations; 'Hymns of Praise and Prayer' by 28; 'Hymns for the Christian Church and Home' by 12. In Ireland 17 congregations use 'Hymns for Christian Worship'; in Wales 22 use 'Pearls of Praise.' The Berwick Hymnal is used by 13 congregations, the New Hymnal published by Novello by 56; upwards of 30 congregations use selections more or less peculiar to themselves. Liturgies are used by 108 congregations.

Every care is taken to give accurate information; but as several ministers and secretaries take no notice of the request to furnish particulars of any changes, it is not always easy to ensure accuracy. Any errors or omissions observed by readers should be communicated to the Editor at Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London, W.C.

LONDON, 1 December, 1913.

[Revised and approved 5 November, 1913, by the joint-committee.]

The list contains the name and address, college, university degree, date of entering ministry, and congregations served by the following:—
(1) Ministers in charge of Unitarian, Free Christian, Presbytetian, and other Non-Subscribing Congregations in Great Britain and Ireland.

(2) Ministers, formerly settled with Congregations, now engaged as professors, tutors, missionaries, secretaries, etc.

(3) Ministers who have resigned their pastorates, or who have retired from active duty, but who have not withdrawn from the ministry. These names are printed in italic.

(4) Students who have completed the theological curriculum, and received the certificate of Manchester College, Oxford, the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, or the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, and desire to settle as ministers in our group of Churches. These names are printed in italic.

(5) British Ministers in charge of Unitarian Congregations in Australia,

New Zealand, Canada, and South Africa.

ADMISSION OF NAMES

(1) The name of any Minister regularly appointed by a Congregation or a Missionary Society to conduct religious services, and to take charge of the work of the Church or Society, is inserted in the list.

(2) He is described as a 'Minister,' if he (a) holds the certificate of having completed the theological curriculum at one of the foregoing Colleges, or at Harvard or Meadville, U.S.A.; or (b) has previously been in the ministry of another denomination, or educated for the ministry in another denomination, at home or abroad, and has (if required) satisfied an Advisory Committee respecting his character and personal fitness; or (c) having been a Lay-Worker is qualified as a Minister.

(3) Managers of Benevolent, Fellowship, Pension, Sustentation, and other Funds are under no obligation to admit anyone to the benefits of membership simply because his name appears in the list.

IMPORTANT TO CONGREGATIONS

As much injury has been done both to congregations and to the ministry by the appointment of unsuitable persons, congregations are urged to take no steps in respect of the selection or appointment of any Minister whose name does not appear in the Year Book, until one of the Advisory Committees has given a certificate as to his character and personal fitness.

OMISSION OF NAMES

(1) On resigning his charge, it is open to any minister to withdraw his name from the list altogether, if he so desires.

(2) On his becoming minister in another denomination, the name is omitted, unless a personal request is made for its retention.

(3) The names of ministers who have ceased to reside in the United Kingdom are omitted, but may on their personal application be included.

(4) The names of persons, whose character and conduct have, in the opinion of an Advisory Committee, a District Society, or the Ministerial Fellowship, unfitted them for continuing to hold the office of a minister.

LIST OF LAY-WORKERS

(1) The List contains the name and address, as well as the period of service, and names of Congregations served by any Lay-Worker regularly appointed by a Congregation or Missionary Society, to conduct religious services or to take charge of such a Church or Society; and who, as a rule, has received a certificate as a Lay-Worker from an Advisory Committee.

(2) A Lay-Worker, on evidence of not less than three years' satisfactory service, and of passing the prescribed examination arranged by the Committee on the Supply of Ministers, may have his name included in the List of Ministers, after having received a further certificate from an Advisory

Committee

(3) In the case of Lay-Workers who have been for two years at an approved College, or who possess an approved University degree, two years' service may be deemed sufficient.

(4) The names of Lay-Workers are omitted on the termination of their engagements, but may be reinserted on a fresh appointment.

LIST OF CONGREGATIONS

[Revised and approved by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.]

The list contains the location, the date of foundation, the hours of service, the hymn book in use, the name and address of the Secretary, the name of the Minister, Missionary, or Lay-Worker of:—

(a) All duly organized Unitarian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, and other Non-Subscribing Congregations in Great Britain and Ireland.

(b) Pioneer movements holding regular meetings for worship.(c) Places of worship closed at present, but not finally given up.

The date following the name and address of the congregation indicates the year in which it was founded, which is not necessarily the date of the existing building; when two or more dates are given, the last refers to the erection of the present building.

The names of ministers of congregations from about the year 1875 to 1913 are inserted: those printed in italic are deceased.

THE PIONEER PREACHERS

Hostel: 28, King Square, Goswell Road, London, E.C. Warden: Rev. W. Tudor Jones, Ph.D.

PREACHERS

F. G. BARRETT-AYRES FRED COTTIER ALFRED J. HEALE STANLEY MOSSOP

CHARLES A. PIPER R. W. SORENSEN

THE PIONEER PREACHERS' movement owes its inception to the Rev. R. J. Campbell, of the City Temple, London, and was an outcome of the New Theology propagandism. The Society was instituted in 1910 for the purpose of spreading the principles of Liberal Christianity among the large classes of people outside the organized churches. After a tentative experiment a hostel was opened at 28, King Square, Goswell Road, London, E.C., and here the Preachers to the number of half a dozen, resided and received instruction. They conducted open-air and indoor missions in various parts of the country, and many of their services attracted large audiences. When the Rev. R. J. Campbell retired from the Presidency of the Liberal Christian League, arrangements were made for the transfer of the hostel and of the work associated with the Pioneer Preachers' movement to a new committee acting under the auspices of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, Mr. Campbell remaining as one of the Vice-Presidents. Rev. Dr. W. Tudor Jones was appointed Warden, and with him were associated in the tutorial work, Rev. A H. Biggs, M.A., LL.M., Rev. D. W. Robson, B.D., and Rev. J. A. Pearson. The Pioneers were recognized on their own application as Unitarian Preachers, but otherwise there has been little difference made in their work. They still continue their ministry among a number of Liberal Christian societies, and in addition are now responsible for the missionary work and oversight of several churches in London and in Scotland. All communications and inquiries should be addressed to the Secretary, Rev. T. P. Spedding, Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London, W.C.

History.—The British and Foreign Unitarian Association was constituted in 1825. It arose out of the union of three Societies supported by Unitarians in all parts of the kingdom: (1) The Unitarian Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and the Practice of Virtue, by the Distribution of Books, founded in 1791; (2) The Unitarian Fund, established in 1806, which may be regarded as the most important; and (3) The Association for Protecting the Civil Rights of Unitarians, formed in 1819.

Management.—The Association is managed by a representative Committee elected annually by the whole body of its members. District and Local Associations appoint representatives to serve on the Council.

Grants of Money.—The Association assists many of the older churches, makes grants in aid of new churches, and in the maintenance of missionary work at home and abroad. The whole of the income from collections and subscriptions is expended in grants for missionary objects.

Foreign Work.—Grants have been given to assist Unitarian and other forms of liberal religion in Australia, Belgium, Bulgaria, Canada, Denmark, Hungary, India, Italy, Jamaica, New Zealand, Norway, and other Countries.

Civil Rights of Unitarians.—The Association guards the civil and religious rights and privileges of Unitarians, and gives advice concerning Trust Deeds.

Publication of Books.—Among recent publications are the following: 'The Secret of Righteousness,' by William Wooding, B.A.; 'Heresy, its Ancient Wrongs and Modern Rights, in these Kingdoms,' the Essex Hall Lecture for 1913, by Alexander Gordon, M.A.; 'Songs Devout,' by W. G. Tarrant, B.A., published for the Author; 'Gains to the Bible from Modern Criticism,' by various writers; 'Four English Unitarian Martyrs,' brief biographies, by Arthur W. Fox, M.A.; 'Unitarian Thought,' by Ephraim Emerton; Four Volumes of the Works of Theodore Parker, namely, 'A Discourse of Matters Pertaining to Religion,' edited by T. W. Higginson; 'Theism, Atheism, and the Popular Theology,' edited by Charles W. Wendté, D.D.; 'Sermons of Religion,' edited by Samuel A. Eliot, D.D.; 'The World of Matter and the Spirit of Man,' edited by George Willis Cooke; 'How to Win, and other Addresses,' by H. G. Chancellor, M.P.

Grants of Tracts.—The Association publishes a great variety of Tracts, illustrative of Unitarian Christianity; and grants are freely made to individual inquirers, congregations, missionary societies, and postal missions. 50,033 tracts were distributed in this way during 1912.

Co-operation with Local Associations.—The Association co-operates with the various District and Local Associations in different parts of the country. Support is given in aid of Missionary work in the Liverpool and Manchester Districts, the Northern Counties, the South and West of England, the Midlands, South Wales, London, the South Eastern Counties, and Yorkshire.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

The International Council of Unitarian and other Liberal Religious Thinkers and Workers ' was organized at Boston, U.S.A., 25 May, 1900. In 1910 its title was changed to 'The International Congress of Free Christians and other Religious Liberals' (in French, 'Congrès International des Chrétiens libéraux et d'autres libre-croyants,' and in German, 'Welt-Kongress für freies Christentum und religiösen Fortschritt'). The purpose of the Congress is 'to open communication with those in all lands who are striving to unite pure religion and perfect liberty, and to increase fellowship and co-operation among them.' It seeks to bring into closer union for exchange of ideas, mutual service, and the promotion of their common aims the historic liberal churches, the liberal elements in all churches, scattered liberal congregations, and isolated workers for religious freedom and progress in many lands. It aims to be a source of encouragement and strength to them in their struggles against dogmatic intolerance and ecclesiastical tyranny. It cultivates large and fraternal relations with the great liberal movements in religion now going on under various names and auspices throughout the world. To promote these ends it holds a triennial Congress in some acknowledged seat of religious enlightenment and freedom. Some one hundred religious associations are now affiliated with the Congress, send official delegates to its meetings, and make it the international organ of their fraternal relations with each other.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

There are 498 Unitarian churches and 540 Unitarian ministers in America. The Divinity School at Cambridge, Mass., in connexion with the University of Harvard, the Theological School at Meadville, Pa., and the Pacific Unitarian School for the Ministry at Berkeley, Cal., are the three Colleges at which Unitarian ministers receive their training. American Unitarian Association was formally organized on 25 May. 1825. Its object is 'to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity,' and all Unitarian churches are invited to unite and cooperate with it for that purpose. Any church or missionary organization which has made two successive annual contributions is entitled to representation by its minister and two other delegates. The head-quarters of the Association are at 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass. President, Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, D.D.; Secretary, Rev. Lewis G. Wilson; Treasurer, Henry M. Williams; Publication Agent, F. Stanley Howe. There are also Unitarian Book Rooms at Chicago, 105 South Dearborn Street; New York, 104 East 20th Street; San Francisco, 376 Sutter Street. The General Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches owes its organization to a special meeting of the American Unitarian Association. held 7 December, 1864. It is simply a 'Conference.' It 'adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its activity, and confines itself to recommending to them such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of its constituency.' The Unitarian Association is 'the executive arm of the Unitarian body, and the working missionary organization of the Unitarian churches in America.' The Unitarian Year Book, published at 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., gives full information respecting Churches, Ministers, Colleges, and Conferences. The following list of Unitarian Churches in America will be of interest and service.

LIBERAL RELIGION IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

OUTSIDE America, the Colonies, and Hungary, Liberal Religious thinkers and workers seldom use the 'Unitarian' name, but in many parts of the world there are churches and societies, as well as a large number of individuals who are in substantial agreement in thought and feeling with the Unitarians of England and of the United States.

Africa.—Free Protestant (Unitarian) Church, Hout Street, Cape Town (1867-1890). Minister, Rev. Ramsden Balmforth, Shirley, 6 Stephen Street, Cape Town. The church at Graaff Reinet, of which the late Rev. H. Rawlings, M.A., was minister from 1883 to 1886, has had no minister and no services since the latter date, though Mr. Balmforth conducted services there in October, 1899. Both these churches sprang from the Dutch Reformed Church. There are at various places in South Africa many individual sympathizers with Unitarianism. The Rev. W. G. Tarrant, B.A., visited South Africa early in 1911 on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. He preached and lectured at Cape Town, Pretoria, Johannesburg, and other places. A church was established at Johannesburg, of which the Rev. G. C. Sharpe became the first minister in October, 1911.

Australia.—There are Unitarian churches at the following places:—South Australia: Adelaide—Rev. Wilfred Harris, M.A., Clwydd, York Street, North Kensington. Victoria: Melbourne—Mr. C. Read (in temporary charge). New South Wales: Sydney—Rev. George T. Walters, Eglinton, Moruben Road, Mosman, Sydney. Queensland: Brisbane—A Liberal Church, under the ministry of the Rev. Douglas Price, formerly an Episcopalian, was established in 1911. At Melbourne, the Church of Australia, Minister, Rev. Dr. Charles Strong, is a free congregation, promulgating practically Unitarian principles. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding during a visit to Australia and New Zealand, November, 1911, to April, 1912, visited the Australian churches on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.

Austria.—A considerable number of the Protestant churches are liberal in their theology; there is a growing tendency towards what are practically Unitarian views; and the Los von Rom movement, although partly political and social, is also liberal in its theological outlook. The American Unitarian Association inaugurated in 1911, an international movement to crect a memorial chapel over the grave of Faustus Sociaus (1604), at Luctawise in Austrian Poland.

Belgium.—There is a Free Christian church at Brussels, 21 rue des Minimes, of which the Rev. Paul Teissonnière, Brussels, is minister in succession to the Rev. James Hocart, who retired in 1910.

Bulgaria.—A Unitarian Association was formed for Bulgaria in 1911.

Missionary and Secretary, Rev. Anton Toplisky, Doubnitza.

Canada.—In Canada there are ten Unitarian congregations: Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria (B.C.), Edmonton, and Moose Jaw; besides the churches of the Icelandic Unitarians in Manitoba. The Rev. F.W. Pratt, of Calgary, is the Field Agent for Western Canada, under the British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the American Unitarian Association. The churches are officially connected with the American Unitarian Association.

Denmark.—There is a Unitarian congregation in Copenhagen of which the Rev. Uffe Birkedal is minister, and one at Aarkus in Jutland with a lay-preacher, Mr. Högsted. Miss Mary B. Westenholz is joint editor of the Protestantisk Tidende, which represents the broad principles of Unitarian Christianity. There are many scattered Liberal Christians in Denmark. In 1911, the preaching of Pastor Arboe Rasmussen led to a keen discussion as to the legality of preaching Unitarianism from the pulpits of the State Church, and a charge of heresy is now pending against him.

France.—The Liberal Reformed churches, now organized under the name of 'Eglises Réformées Unies' (120 congregations and 115 ministers), hold essentially Unitarian views. The following is a list of Liberal churches and preachers in Paris:—Central Agency, 21 rue de Moscow; Churches: Oratoire, 1 rue de l'Oratoire du Louvre; Foyer de l'âme, 7 bis rue Daval, near boulevard Beaumarchais. Ministers: M. le Professeur Bonet Maury, 32 rue de Bac; MM. les l'asteurs E. Roberty, 4 rue de l'Oratoire du Louvre; Charles Wagner, D.D., 7 bis rue Daval; A. Reyss, 49 boulevard Pereire. The International Congress was held in l'aris, in July, 1913.

Germany.—The German 'Protestantenverein' (Protestant Union) forms the chief bond of union among the Liberal Christians of the Empire. It was formed in 1865, and has about forty branch societies, and about 27,000 members. The Protestantenverein consists of members of the National Church; the liberal Christians, who do not belong to the National Church, associate themselves with the Free Religious Communities of East Germany. The Friends of Protestant Freedom in the Rhinelands is an association with 4000 members for the vindication of congregational and personal freedom in the National Church. The meetings at Berlin in August, 1910, of the International Council brought together hundreds of the best known preachers and thinkers of Germany. There is a Free Protestant Church for the promotion of Unitarian Christianity at Alzey, near Worms: Minister—Rev. Rudolf Walbaum.

Holland.—The 'Nederlandsche Protestantenbond' (Protestant Union of Holland) was established in 1870 as a converging point for Liberals belonging to every church of the country—Reformed, Lutheran, Remonstrant, Mennonite, and Free. There are 20,000 members. The 'Vergadering van moderne Theologen' (a meeting of liberal Protestant ministers and scholars) is a yearly meeting of liberal ministers of various denominations. The liberal party in the Dutch Reformed Church is organized in several Provincial Unions. The Universities of Leyden and Amsterdam are the educational centres of the free Protestantism in Holland; Leyden for the Dutch Reformed and Remonstrants, Amsterdam for the Mennonites and Lutherans. The Universities of Groningen and Utrecht have also a Liberal Professor and a number of liberal students. In Amsterdam, the Vrije Gemeente was founded by the brothers Hugenholtz. Rev. Etienne Giran, pastor of the French Walloon Church, and Rev. F. C. Fleischer (Mennonite), of Winterswijk are pronounced liberals.

Hungary.—Ever since the year 1568 there has existed a fully organized Unitarian Church in Hungary. In the sixteenth century it consisted of more than 400 congregations in Transylvania, and also a considerable number in several parts of Hungary Proper. The number was greatly reduced by protracted and bitter persecution which lasted about 200 years. The present number of Unitarian congregations with ordinary ministers is 116; and there are fifty places where the minister of the neighbouring congregation renders occasional services. The oldest congregation is at Kolozsvár (1568). There is a congregation at Budapest which was established in 1869. The roll of membership in the churches of Hungary is nearly 80,000. The churches are organized under a Bishop, at present Joseph Ferencz, Kolozsvár, and two Curators (Lay-Presidents). The churches are distributed into nine districts presided over by a dean, and are governed by a representative Consistory at Kolozsvár. A chief Consistory is convened once a year. In the fourth year a Synod is held. There is an elementary school attached to each congregation, and during the three summer months Sunday School teaching is going on in most of the congregations. Theological training is carried on by the Church at Kolozsvár. There is at Kolozsvár and at Szèkelyeresztur a High School for boys with boarding. The Kolozsvár college was established about 1556 by John Sigismund, Prince of Transylvania. The theological college was reorganized in 1896, its Deam being then Professor G. Boros, D.D. Many of the professors and ministers completed their studies at Manchester College, Oxford, a scholarship being given by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the College. In 1911 Miss Emily Sharpe, of London, established a scholarship to maintain a Hungarian student at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester. There is an Emily Sharpe scholarship for girls in Channing House School, London. The Francis David Association, which was established in 1884. is doing a good work for the promotion of religious and moral culture; it has upwards of 1900 members and eleven branches. Catholics and Jews. as well as orthodox Protestants, gladly attend the meetings of the Francis Dávid Association, and often read papers there on social, religious, and educational subjects. In most of the Reformed and Lutheran churches of Hungary there is a growing tendency towards liberal opinions in religion. Unitarian literature is most welcome among the cultivated members of the various churches. Four periodicals are published—The Christian Seed Sower (1861); Unitarian Magazine (1887); Woman's World (1902); Unitarian Church (1905). The Four Hundredth anniversary of the birth of Francis Dávid, the founder of Unitarianism in Transylvania, was celebrated in August, 1910, at Kolozsvár, and at Déva, the scene of his imprisonment and death, there being present one hundred English and American Unitarians. Unitarian books are published by the Church and the Francis Dávid Association.

Iceland.—Many people in Iceland are in sympathy with Unitarian religious opinions. Mr. Matthias Jochumsson, of Akureyri, poet and writer, formerly a Lutheran pastor, is an avowed liberal theologian, and a correspondent of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. There are eight Unitarian churches among the Icelanders in Canada.

India.—There are representatives of the Unitarian faith in several parts of India. There are Mission stations at Jowai, at Nongtalong, and other places in the Khasi Hills, at each of which there is a small meeting-house where regular Sunday services are held, and also day and Sunday schools. The late Mr. Akbar Masih, of Banda, worked chiefly through correspondence, and the publication of tracts and books on Unitarianism. The various sections of the Brahmo Samaj in the Theistic Church of India are Unitarian in their theology. They have societies in many parts of India. Central office, 211 Cornwallis Street, Calcutta. Mr. Promotho Loll Sen, Mr. Bipin Chandra Pal, Mr. Hem Chandra Sarkar, Mr. V. R. Shinde, Mr. V. A.

Sukhtankar, and Mr. P. S. Bose have been students at Manchester College, Oxford, holding Scholarships from the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. There are Unitarian Postal Mission agencies at Bombay, Calcutta, Lahore, Madras, and Shillong.

Italy. -Protestantism in Italy, having been mainly promoted by the Waldensian Church, is orthodox in its leanings, but many hold liberal views. Especially in the larger towns, those who break with Catholicism, and maintain a religious connexion, are rarely content with the old dogmatic position. The late Professor Bracciforti, Milan, was long identified with the profession of Unitarian principles. The Rev. Tony André, D.D., is a well-known liberal minister and theologian in Florence, 21 Lungo Mugnone. Since 1911, the Rev. G. Conté, an ex-Methodist minister, has been engaged in spreading the principles and faith of Unitarians under the auspices of the British and Poreign Unitarian Association and the American Unitarian Association. Conferences are held in Rome, Venice, Florence, Milan, Palermo (Sicily), and other towns.

Jamaica.—Rev. E. Ethelred Brown, Unitarian missionary, assisted by the American Unitarian Association and the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, commenced services at Montego Bay in 1912.

Japan.—The American Unitarian Association founded a Mission having its head-quarters in Unity Hall, Tokio, where the Rev. Clay MacCauley laboured successfully for many years. In 1911 he was succeeded by Mr. S. Uchigasaki, the British and Foreign Unitarian Association Japanese student formerly at Manchester College, Oxford. The work is now largely supported and worked by the Japanese themselves. Japanese scholars trained for the purpose take its services, do the work of the Postal Mission, the translation of Unitarian books, and the editing of a Review. The British and Foreign Unitarian Association has assisted four Japanese students better to equip themselves for their religious work by a course of study at Manchester College, Oxford. The Rev. Clay MacCauley has now returned to Japan.

New Zealand.—The Unitarian Church, Auckland, was founded in 1898: the congregation made rapid progress under the Rev. W. Jellie's ministry, and is now self-supporting. At Wellington a new Unitarian Church was opened 18 April, 1909, under the ministry of the Rev. W. Tudor Jones, Ph.D., who began his work there early in 1906, and completed his ministry in February, 1910. A new congregation was formed at Timaru in 1911, ander the Rev. J. H. G. Chapple, formerly a Presbyterian minister. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding visited the New Zealand churches on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association in 1912.

Unitarian Missionary Conference of New Zealand.—Objects: To unite the scattered Unitarian Churches of New Zealand by means of a Van Mission or any other practical missionary method. To publish literature expository of Unitarian Christianity. To keep in communication with isolated Unitarians throughout the Dominion. President, J. C. Macky, Auckland.

Norway.—Norway has a State Church which is Lutheran, and formally includes the entire nation. There are very few Dissenting churches, and these have so far only gained ground among the less educated classes. The first Unitarian church in Norway was founded by Kristofer Janson, a Norwegian poet, at Christiania. The Unitarian congregation is now under the charge of the Rev. Herman Haugerud. In Bergen, the Rev. Carl Konow, a Lutheran pastor, has recently undergone no little persecution for his religious opinions. The late Björnstjerne Björnsen, eminent as a poet and in public affairs, sympathized with the Unitarian point of view, as do also many other scholars and public men. There are four Unitarian churches among the Norwegians in the United States. The British and Foreign Unitarian Association renders assistance to the work in Christiania.

Palestine.—In Jerusalem, Haifa, and Jaffa, the Society of Friends of the Temple, founded in 1853 in Germany, by Chr. Hoffman and others, and transferred in 1868 to the Holy Land, has founded successful agricultural colonies for the worship of the one God. They deny the Trinity, the pre-existence of Jesus, and his atoning sacrifice. Freedom from the yoke of dogma and a pure and living Christianity is the aim of these colonists, whose settlements are reported to be in a flourishing condition. In 1911 a pamphlet explanatory of Unitarianism was translated into Arabic for circulation among Mohammedans.

Russia.—The Dissenting sect known as Molokans are said to hold essentially Unitarian views. In St. Petersburg, the Dutch Reformed Church

(pastor, Rev. F. C. A. Pantakoek), is liberal and progressive.

Spain.—A considerable number of scattered Protestant congregations, some founded under orthodox auspices and others of an unmistakably liberal type, have formed an organization under the title of the 'Spanish Evangelical Church.' This movement dates from 1886. In several of the large towns there are a number of liberal Protestants; and at Madrid, Barcelona.

and other centres services and meetings are held.

Sweden.—The State Church of Sweden is Evangelical Lutheran, and its doctrines are practically the same as the tenets of the German Lutherans. Some forty years ago one of the Stockholm clergy, the Rev. Ignell, created considerable sensation by his broad and liberal-minded theology, and most of his sermons and writings show that he held nearly Unitarian views, in common with several other men in the German Lutheran Church at that time. There is no organized Unitarian movement in Sweden, but a large number of religiously inclined, educated, and thoughtful men and women favour a liberal religious movement in their country. The Rev. Beskow, Djuersholm, is pastor of a liberal society in Stockholm. Other prominent progressives are Prof. Santesson and Dr. Samuel Fries, of Stockholm, and Professor Lindberg, of Gothenburg.

Switzerland.—About half of the Protestants of the Swiss Republic are Liberal Christians. The liberal religious congregations are found in the Protestant Cantons, especially in Zurich, St. Gall, Geneva, and Basle. The Free Christian Association (Der Verein für freies Christentum) with thirteen centres and 4000 members is the chief bond of union and centre of activity. The popular religious literature issued under its auspices has assisted greatly in spreading the knowledge of Unitarian doctrines, while the free religious organs, especially the Schweizerische theologische Zeitschrift, Religiöses Volksblatt, Schweizerische Reformblätter, le Protestant libèral, and the old established Schweizerisches Protestantenblatt do excellent work in promoting religious enlightenment. It should be borne in mind that the reformers belong to the Landeskirche (Established Church) and thus leaven this with the spirit of Unitarianism. Profs. Schmiedel and Ragaz, of Zurich; Dr. Montet, rector of the University of Geneva; Rev. A. Altherr, of Basle; and Rev. E. Ryser, of Berne, are among the more prominent advocates of liberal Christianity.

Tasmania.—Unitarian Services are held at Hobart, conducted by laymen. There are quite a number of people in the island who hold Unitarian views of religion; and they look forward to the formation of a Church. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding visited Hobart on their way from Australia to New Zealand.

MINISTERS' PENSION AND INSURANCE FUND

THE object of the Fund, founded in 1902, is to assist ministers to make provision for their old age and for their families after their death. The following ministers are entitled to make application for assistance:-(a) Any minister for the time being of the congregation of any church, society, or mission on the roll of the National Conference (or should the National Conference cease to have a roll, of any Unitarian, Liberal Christian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, or other non-subscribing or kindred congregation in the British Isles) that regularly assembles for the public worship of God; (b) The minister-at-large, missionary, or ministerial secretary, or agent, of any association, mission, society, or assembly mentioned in the rules of the National Conference adopted at Leicester in April, 1900; (r) Any Professor of the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Manchester College, Oxford, or the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, who has at any time been minister of one of the congregations mentioned in (a), and who still occasionally preaches; (d) Any minister who has been minister of any of the congregations mentioned in (a), and who is now the minister of any similar congregation in any colony or dependency of the United Kingdom. Provided that no person shall be entitled to apply to the Managers for such assistance until he has been such minister or held such a post or professorship for at least one year. The word 'minister' does not include a lay-preacher or a lay-worker at a mission. The fund is administered by a Board of twelve Managers, four of whom are ministers. The capital of the fund is invested in the names of four Trustees. The following persons are entitled to vote at a General Meeting: -(a) Donors of £5 or upwards to the fund; (b) Annual subscribers of not less than ten shillings, who became subscribers not less than six months before the date of the meeting; (c) The Managers, Trustees, and Auditors for the time being of the fund; (d) Members of the National Conference, so long as it exists, who represent churches that subscribe not less than £1 per annum to the fund; (e) all persons receiving assistance from the fund. Pension and Insurance.—The income of the fund, in the first instance, is employed in assisting ministers to pay the premiums on benefit policies effected by them with the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Such policy entitles the minister to an annuity of either £52 or £104 a year, payable half-yearly, the first instalment to be paid six months after he has reached the age of sixty-five; it may also entitle the minister to the sum of £250, with or without profits, to be paid to his representatives on his death within the age of sixty-five, or on his death at any age. To entitle the minister to these benefits, he will have to pay the Assurance Society an annual premium varying with his age and the table which he selects. If that premium does not exceed £20, the Managers pay to the Assurance Society half the premium out of the income of the fund; if it exceeds £20, the Managers pay £10, and no more, towards the premium. After the Managers have paid, or made provision for paying, their proportion of such premiums, they may employ the balance, if any, of the income for that year in assisting any minister, not insured as above, to make provision for his old age, and for his family after his death, in such manner as they may think best. The number of beneficiary members on the books is now 114, of whom six are in receipt of pensions in the ordinary course, five are insurances assisted under special circumstances, and three are aged ministers to whom grants are made by way of annuity. The representatives of six deceased beneficiary members have received £1627 2s. 3d. by way of insurance. Minsters desiring further information should write to the Hon. Sec. for a copy of the Constitution, By-Laws, Table of Premiums, and Form of Application. Managers, Robert Blake, Rev. Dr. J. Estlin Carpenter, M.A., Howard Chatfeild Clarke, Bryan E. Johnson, C. Sydney Jones, M.A., John Lawson, R. Mortimer Montgomery, M.A., Dr. W. Blake Odgers, K.C., Rev. H. J. Rossington, M.A., B.D., Rev. C. J. Street, M.A., LL.B., Rev. W. G. ## MINISTERS' CONFERENCES

Ministerial Fellowship (1899) is an Association of Ministers for the promotion of ministerial fellowship in such manner as may be from time to time declared and defined by the Members in and by their Rules. The objects are (1) the establishment of a fund or funds to assist in the support of Members, entitled under the Rules, who are temporarily without a ministerial charge; (2) to afford counsel, sympathy, and brotherly aid to such Members as may be found to need them. The General Fund is utilized for giving benefit to Members in the interval between pastorates. A Benevolent Fund makes grants in cases of temporary need or difficulty. ## COURSE OF READING FOR LAY-WORKERS

The following Course of Reading has been prepared by a Committee of the National Conference, especially for Lay-Workers on Probation who desire eventually to be admitted into the regular ministry. It is intended to cover three years, and embraces four subjects, the Old and New Testaments, Church History, and Philosophy. A fifth subject, the Work of the Minister, with the practical preparation of Sermons, etc., will be dealt with under a separate arrangement.

In the first four prescribed subjects an Examination will be held in October of each year. The Biblical subjects, I and II, will be compulsory throughout the course, but an alternative is offered between III and IV, in such a way, however, that some portion of both subjects will be studied in the course of the triennial period.

Special importance will be attached to a competent and accurate knowledge of the contents of the prescribed portions of the Bible.

Two Sermons and two brief Outlines of Sermons will be expected in each of the three years.

Throughout (a) represents books prescribed; (b) books recommended (but not prescribed) for the guidance of the more educated or advanced students who may wish for further reading.

It is hoped that arrangements may be made to lend to intending candidates some of the more expensive books. The British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the Sunday School Association will provide accredited Lay-Workers with the books in the list which are published at Essex Hall at half-price.

THE UNITARIAN HOME MISSIONARY COLLEGE

Summerville, Victoria Park, Manchester

This institution was founded in 1854, by the late Rev. Dr. J. R. Beard and others, 'to assist young men of earnest and religious character, active habits, and benevolent disposition, in training themselves for the work of spreading the Gospel of Christ among the people, especially among the ignorant and sinful.' While still endeavouring to carry out its original purpose, the institution has gradually been developed into a complete Training College for the Unitarian ministry. It was established under the title of the Unitarian Home Missionary Board, but at a special meeting of members, held 7 October, 1889, it was decided that it should henceforward be called the Unitarian Home Missionary College. The institution adheres to the principle of freely imparting theological knowledge, without insisting on the adoption of particular theological doctrines.

An important event in the recent history of the College has been the constitution by the Victoria University of Manchester of a free Faculty of Theology, and the association of the College and its Principal with this Faculty.

In the year 1904 the College celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its foundation, and in commemoration of this event a Memorial Fund of £20,000 has been raised to provide Collegate and Residential buildings at Summerville, Victoria Park, Manchester. A residence for the Warden and twelve students has been provided. The building was opened 4 October, 1905.

COLLEGIATE COURSE.—The normal Collegiate Course will in future extend over at least five years; namely, an Arts Curriculum of two years, which may be extended for graduation by means of Scholarships for the purpose of Graduation; and a Theological Curriculum of three years. A shorter course in Theology may be taken only in exceptional cases by special permission of the Committee.

Admission of Students.—Students may be admitted to the Collegiate Course after having attained the age of eighteen years; and to the Theological Curriculum (a) After having completed the Arts Curriculum; or, (b) After having obtained a degree; or, (c) After having attained the age of 25 years, and shown special aptitude for the work of the ministry.

Students in the Arts Curriculum attend classes in the Faculty of Arts at the University of Manchester. Students in the Theological Curriculum attend classes in the College and also in the Faculty of Theology at the University. The Principal is a member of the Faculty of Theology and one of the University Lecturers in the History of Doctrine.

OCCASIONAL STUDENTS.—Certain Courses of Lectures in each Session may be open to occasional Students, upon such terms and conditions as the Committee may appoint.

REGULATIONS AS TO STUDENTS may be obtained on application to the Secretaries.

THE TATE SCHOLARSHIP in connexion with the College is of the annual value of £70, and may be held for one, two, or three years. It was founded in 1878 by the late Sir Henry Tate, Bart. Committees should lay the facts of the financial condition of their Churches before all the members, and so prevent the responsibility from falling on a few persons.

Marriage Laws 1

England and Wales.—Marriages may be solemnized in any registered building, or in a district registry office either by certificate or by licence. If by certificate, notice (accompanied with fee of 1s. for entry in 'Marriage Notice Book') must be given by one of the parties, if both live in one district, to the Superintendent Registrar, on form furnished for purpose, containing solemn declaration of absence of impediment to intended marriage, certifying that one of the parties has dwelt at least soven days in district, and must be signed in presence of Registrar or deputy; but if parties live in different districts, notices must be sent to respective Superintendent Registrars Twenty-one clear days after entry of notice the certificate (for which 1s. must be paid) will be granted on application.

The same applies if one party lives in Ireland, only notice must be given on form used in Ireland. If one party lives in Scotland, Scotch certificate of

proclamation of banns will be accepted as equal to certificate

If by licence, though both parties do not dwell in same district, only one need give notice, certifying that he or she has resided at least fifteen days in district, though marriage may be held in district of either party. Both parties, however, must be in England at time of notice, though only one clear day is required (unless marriage take place in Iroland with some one there, when seven days are required) between notice and granting of licence. Cost of licence, £2 2s.

If there be no registered building in the district according to rites or ceremonies desired by parties, by endorsing notice with such declaration marriage may be held in another district.

If usual 'place of worship' at which ceremony is desired, be out of district of either's dwelling, by inserting words:—' Such building being usual place of worship of said——, and situate not more than two miles beyond limits of

district of ____,' certificate will be granted accordingly.

The marriage must take place in registered building specified in certificate, with open doors, between the hours of eight in the morning and three in the afternoon, within three calendar months from day of entry of notice, in presence of Registrar (or his deputy, or, if the Marriage Act of 1898 has been adopted, in the presence of the Authorized person) and two or more credible witnesses besides minister, if any. At some part of ceremony the words must be said:—'I do solemnly declare that I know not of any lawful impediment why I—— may not be joined in matrimony to——'; and each must say to other: 'I call upon these persons here present to witness that I—— do take thee—— to be my lawful wedded wife (or husband)'; without which it is not a marriage.

Registrar's fee for attending marriage by certificate, 5s.; by licence, 10s.;

for copy of certificate, 2s. 6d., and stamp 1d.

In marriages in district registry office, the same conditions (only the Superintendent-Registrar must be present) and words as above must be observed. There must, however, be no religious service, though this does not prevent such service being subsequently held if desired.

Quakers and Jews are excepted so far from the ordinary operation of the Marriage Acts as to be allowed their respective usages, provided due notice be given and certificate shall have issued.

By the Marriage Act, 1898 (61 & 62 Vic. c. 58), marriage may be solemnized in the registered building named in the Superintendent's certificate or certificate and licence authorized by law, without the presence of any Registrar, but in the presence of such duly authorized person as mentioned in the Statute. The Statute provides for the notices and forms required to be given or complied with and the registers to be kept.

Ireland.—Marriages according to the form and discipline of the Presbyterian Church may be celebrated—

1. By special licence;

2. By licence; or

3. After publication of banns.

(1.) In the first case 'Both parties must be members of the same Church as the Moderator who grants the Special Licence'—that is to say the Remonstrant Synod of Ulster, the Presbytery of Antrim, and the Synod of Munster, are traced as three separate denominations, and the Moderator of each has the privilege of granting special licences to the members of his own body.

(2.) Ordinary licences can be granted when only one of the parties is a Presbyterian. Each Presbytery is authorized to appoint, subject to the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, a sufficient number of Presbyterian ministers to issue licences for marriage in meeting-houses duly certified, in connexion with the Presbytery.

Anyone wishing to obtain a licence must, seven days before the licence shall be delivered to him or her, produce to the licensing minister a certificate from the minister of the congregation of which he or she shall be a member and has been a member for at least one calendar month preceding. This congregation must be in connexion with the Presbytery to which the licensing minister belongs.

(3.) When both parties are Presbyterians, marriages may be celebrated after the banns have been proclaimed for three Sundays in the Presbyterian meeting-houses attended by each of the parties.

The presence of the Registrar is not required at a marriage celebrated in a place of worship whether Presbyterian or otherwise.

Scotland.—The ceremony can be performed by the minister of any denomination, in any place, at any time, with or without any particular form. The law has been amended so as to put an end, as far as possible, to what were known as 'irregular' marriages. Legal notice must now be given to the Registrar of the parish or district, as in England, the names of the contracting parties being exhibited for seven days on the notice board outside the office of the Registrar in whose district the parties have resided for at least fifteen days immediately preceding. At the expiration of the period named a certificate will be granted, and on this the marriage may take place either in a church or elsewhere. Any person who has resided for at least twenty-one days in Scotland may be married by going to the Registrar's office in which he or she may reside, accompanied by two witnesses who can certify as to the term of residence, and exchanging written contract with the other party, afterwards proceeding to the County Sheriff's chambers to have the marriage registered.

Burial Laws: England and Wales

If a death is due to violence or accident, or is sudden, or its cause is unknown, or no certificate of any registered medical practitioner can be procured specifying the cause of death, notice should be given to the Coroner. Such notice may be given through the police. The police indeed often give such notice of their own accord. It is also the duty of the Registrar of deaths to give such notice in any of these cases, and to delay registering the death until the Coroner has investigated the matter.

A body ought not to be buried without either a Coroner's order or a Registrar's certificate of the death, and a minister should decline to conduct a funeral service over a body unless one of these two documents is produced to him or their absence can be satisfactorily explained.

In the early days of Nonconformity a good many churches had burial grounds attached to them, following the example of the Established Church; and it was lawful for interments to be made in such grounds accompanied by any service which the parties desired. It is possible that some such grounds may still be in use, but we fancy that most of them lay within areas wherein interments have been prohibited for sanitary reasons, and that they have been closed accordingly. As old burial grounds were thus closed or became filled, the need was felt for new spaces devoted to the same purpose; and this need was supplied in many localities by private companies, which bought land and laid it out as cemeteries, and allowed burials to take place therein on the payment of fees. Such companies always obtained private Acts of Parliament authorizing them to carry on their business; and in 1847 an Act called the Cemeteries Clauses Act was passed specifying the provisions, which were to be incorporated in all future Acts authorizing cometeries. This Act permitted the Company to have part of the cemetery consecrated and set apart for the burial of Conformists (s. 23); and we have no doubt that all cemetery companies have availed themselves of this permission, for they could hardly have carried on their business profitably if they had not done so. The Act also (ss. 35, 36) allowed the Company to provide for Nonconformist burials, and to make regulations for the same; and we have no doubt that this power also has always been exercised. In some quarters also Roman Catholics and Jews provided cemeteries for their own people. It was, however, clearly insufficient to rely on private enterprise to supply the places of all closed burial grounds; and the same Statutes, which directed the closing of old burial grounds, authorized also the formation of Burial Boards to provide new burial grounds in place of them (15 & 16 Vic. c. 85; 16 & 17 Vie. c. 134; 17 & 18 Vie. c. 87; 18 & 19 Vie. c. 128, etc.). was absolutely necessary, for the old grounds included parish churchyards, each of which was available for the burial of the bodies of all persons who died within the parish, and these grounds could not have been closed unless new grounds had been provided. The new grounds have accordingly been provided by parish authorities, and they are often called parochial cemeteries; and the law gives a right to inter in them the body of any person who dies in the parish, which provided them. The parochial cemeteries, however, do not altogether follow the old parochial divisions; but parishes have been combined or divided for burial purposes, to suit the convenience of different localities. In parochial cemeteries, however, it was at first made necessary to follow the same customs as in non-parochial cemeteries, and to set apart some ground as consecrated ground for the burial of Conformists, and other ground for Nonconformists, and to build chapels for both, and now it is permissible to have one ground and one chapel common to all parties. Wherever there is a cemetery, therefore, parochial or non-parochial, there is no difficulty in the way of a Nonconformist minister conducting a funeral service. In the absence, however, of a cemetery a difficulty was experienced down to the year 1880, for the only burial ground available was the parish churchyard, and a burial therein involved a Church of England burial service conducted by a minister of the Church of England, and the payment of a fee to him, or no service at all. Indeed, the Prayer Book of the Church of England forbids the service to be read over the bodies of any who die unbaptized.

This state of affairs was remedied in 1880 by the Burial Laws Amendment Act of that year, which permitted Nonconformist ministers to conduct burial services in parish churchyards; and, by way of doing even justice all round, gave them also power to officiate at burials in the consecrated parts of cemeteries, and gave the clergy of the Church of England power to conduct burials in the unconsecrated parts.

This Act authorizes any person responsible for the burial of a body to give forty-eight hours notice to the incumbent of the parish in which the death took place, or in his absence to his deputy, that it is intended that the body shall be buried in the churchyard of the parish without the Church of England service. The Act allowed a like notice to be given to the chaplain of a parochial cemetery if a burial was intended to be made there; but the Burial Act, 1900 (63 & 64 Vic. c. 15, s. 8) requires that in the last-mentioned case the notice shall be given at such time and to such person as the burial authority directs. It is therefore necessary in that case to inquire at the office of the cemetery, and to give such notice as the rules of the cemetery prescribe. It is said that the notice may be given by the minister who is to conduct the service, or by the undertaker; at least, if the person responsible for the burial authorizes them to give it.

In the case of burials in churchyards the form of notice is specified

, being the relative for

in the Act of 1880, and the requirements are as follows:-

The Notice must be in writing; must be endorsed on the outside 'Notice of Burial'; must be signed with the name and address of the person giving it, and be in the form, or to the effect, following:—

'friend, or legal representative, as the case may be, describing the relation, 'if a relative], having the charge of, or being responsible for, the burial of ' A. B., of , who died at , in the parish , on the day of , do hereby 'give you notice that it is intended by me that the body of the said A. B. 'Amendment Act, 1880.

[N.B.—While it is desirable to keep to this form, the person receiving it will not be at liberty to object to its sufficiency because the exact words are not used; the Act only requiring that the notice shall be in the form, for to the effect, of the above.]

In the case of a churchyard, the notice is to be left at the house of the elergyman, or, in his absence, of the clergyman in charge of the parish, or of any person appointed to receive such notices.

In the case of a pauper, notice may be given to the incumbent, and also to the master of the workhouse, or to the clerk to the Guardians, by the husband, wife, or next of kin. The Guardians will be bound to allow the burial to be in accordance with the Act.

It is not necessary that the clergyman should consent to a burial under the Act. He can object only to the time proposed, and do that only in certain cases. Unless it be otherwise mutually arranged, burials must be between 10 and 6 o'clock from April 1st to October 1st, and between 10 and 3 from

October 1st to April 1st.

A burial may take place either without 'auy religious service' or 'with such Christian and orderly religious service' at the grave as the person responsible for the burial may think fit, and any person or persons - whether ministers or laymen-who may be invited or authorized, may conduct such service, or take part in any religious act thereat. The words 'Christian service ' include ' every religious service used by any church, denomination, or person, professing to be Christian.'

All burials must be decent and orderly, and anyone guilty of riotous, violent, or indecent behaviour, or of obstructing any service, will be guilty of a misdemeanour.

So also will any person who shall 'deliver any address, not being part of, or incidental to, any religious service' permitted by the Act, or who wilfully endeayours 'to bring into contempt or obloquy the Christian religion. or the belief or worship of any church or denomination of Christians, or the members or any minister of any such church or denomination, or any other person.'

The person having charge of a burial under the Act must, either on the same day or the day after, send to the incumbent or his representative—or, in the case of a cemetery, to the clerk—a certificate of the burial in prescribed orm.

The clergy of the Church of England are at liberty to use the burial service of that Church in any unconsecrated burial ground, or in the chapel therein. The relatives may have such service performed in unconsecrated ground by iny clergyman of the Church of England who may be willing to perform the same.

In cases where the Church of England service cannot legally be used, and in any other case, at the request of the relatives, the clergy may use some other than the ordinary burial service of the Church of England, provided that it has been approved by the Bishop, and is taken wholly from the Bible and Praver Book.

The Act of 1880 does not entitle anyone to be buried in any place in which he would have no right to be buried if the Act had not passed.

When permission to bury a non-parishioner is given, the service may be conducted under the Act. The incumbent has no legal right to make his consent to the burial of a non-parishioner dependent on the service being conducted by himself, or some other clergyman.

Neither does it affect previously existing regulations or authority in regard to the position of graves, inscriptions on gravestones, etc. The same fees will also have to be paid as though the burial were conducted by a clergyman.

The Act of 1880 applies only to England and Wales and the Channel Islands.

Burial Grounds Act, 1900.—This Act, which came into operation January 1st, 1901, modifies the Act of 1880 in the case of the consecrated parts of parochial cemeteries. The Act does not deal with churchyards. In future, Burial Boards 'may, if they think fit,' apply to have a portion of the cemetery consecrated; formerly they were compelled to have a portion consecrated. Burial Boards are no longer compelled to erect two cemetery chapels, one for Anglicans and one for Nonconformists. They may erect any chapel 'they may consider necessary'; but any chapel so erected 'shall not be consecrated, or reserved for the exclusive use of any denomination.' The payment of fees to an incumbent of a parish will no longer be required 'except for services rendered by him.' In future, when a Nonconformist minister officiates in the consecrated part of a parochial cemetery, he, and not the clergyman, will receive the fee. These provisions apply to cemeteries opened after the passing of the Act. In the case of cemeteries already existing the old fees will continue to be exacted for fifteen years, or on the vacating of the incumbency, whichever is the longer period.

Cremation.—This is regulated by the Cremation Act, 1902, and the Regulations made by the Home Secretary in pursuance of that Act.

Charitable Trusts, Investments, and General

Bequests to Charities.—(1) Bequest of an ordinary pecuniary Legacy. In this case there is no need for the provision formerly inserted in wills directing the legacy to be paid exclusively out of such parts of the testator's estate as might lawfully be disposed of for charitable purposes. The bequest may be in the following form :-

'I give to the treasurer or treasurers for the time being of the pounds, free of duty, for the general purposes Society the sum of of the said society, and his or their receipt shall be a sufficient discharge for the same.'

(2) Bequest of a pecuniary legacy made payable out of the proceeds of sale and conversion of the testator's real and personal estate, or of a share of such proceeds.-Very frequently a testator gives his real and personal estate, or his residuary estate, to trustees on trust to sell, and out of the proceeds of sale to pay the legacies previously bequeathed, which may include a legacy to a charitable society, and a testator may now bequeath a share of such proceeds to such society. In these cases, although perhaps not essential, it is considered prudent, at all events until the interpretation of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, has been settled by judicial decision, to add to the gift of the pecuniary legacy or share to the society the following direction:—

'And I direct that in case all the real and leasehold estate comprised in the devise and bequest in trust for sale herein contained shall not be sold within one year from my death, then the said legacy (or share) herein bequeathed to the said treasurer or treasurers for the time being of the society, and the duty thereon shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale and conversion of my personal estate and the proceeds of sale of such of my real and leasehold estate as shall be sold within one year after my death.

in priority to all other legacies (or shares) payable thereout.'

Charitable Trusts.—The Acts relating to Charitable Trusts give the Charity Commissioners very extensive jurisdiction over all charitable trusts (except certain exempted charities), and empower the Commissioners to inquire into the management of charities, to oblige their trustees to render accounts, to advise such trustees on the administration of the trusts, to authorize or direct legal proceedings to be taken, to authorize the granting of leases and making of improvements, and raising of money by mortgage, to authorize trustees to remove schoolmasters and other officers, to authorize the sale, exchange, or partitions of lands, to remove and appoint trustees, and to make new schemes for the administration of charities. Among the charities exempted from the operations of these Acts are any buildings registered as places of meeting for religious worship with the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, and bona fide used as places of meeting for religious worship. Exempted charities can, by application under certain sections of one of the Acts, have the benefits of the Acts extended to them.

Dissenters' Chapels Act.—It is under this Act (7 & 8 Vic. c. 45), passed 19th July, 1844, that many of the old Presbyterian Chapels are secured to the Unitarians. The Act provides in substance that where there is no express statement in the deed of foundation as to the particular doctrines for which a chapel was to be employed, twenty-five years' usage shall be conclusive evidence of the legality of the doctrine.

Dissenters in Established Church Pulpits.—The Act by which it is considered that the Clergy are restrained from inviting Dissenters to occupy their pulpits is the Act of Uniformity of 1662 (13 & 14 Car. II, c. 14). By this Act no one may act or preach as a lecturer (in which capacity it is conceived a Dissenter or layman would appear, if so invited to preach) without a licence from the Bishop, and it has been decided that the discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence cannot be questioned. Any lecturer who acts in contravention of this enactment 'shall suffer three months' imprisonment without bail or mainprize.' No penalty, however, appears to be incurred by a parson inviting or permitting an unlicensed lecturer to use his pulpit; though a Bishop who grants a licence to anyone who has not first subscribed to the Three Articles concerning 'the King's supremacy, the Book of Common Prayer, and the Thirty-nine Articles,' will have to suffer the serious inconvenience of being suspended from giving licences to preach for the space of twelve months.

Executors and their Duties.—Immediately on the death of a testator his personal property passes to his executors to be distributed (after the payment of his funeral expenses and debts) in the manner directed by the will. The real property also (except land of copyhold tenure or customary freehold) vests in the executors, who hold it as trustees for the persons beneficially entitled thereto, subject to a liability on account of the testator's debts, should the personal property which he leaves prove insufficient to pay them. They must take out a probate of the will, either personally or through a solicitor, either at Somerset House or at the Registry of the district in which the testator resided. The original will is then deposited in one of the registries of the Court, and the executors obtain a copy of it certified under the seal of the Probate Division. Estate duty is payable upon the principal value of all property, real or personal, settled or not settled, which passes on a death.

Land, Gifts and Sales of .- The law relating to gifts and sales of land and other property for charitable uses (amongst which are included the erection of chapels, schools, etc.), has been recently consolidated by the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888 (51 & 52 Vic. c. 42) and the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891 (54 & 55 Vic. c. 73), but is still very complicated. No attempt should be made to give effect to sales of more than two acres of land, or to gifts for such purposes without competent legal advice. Land not exceeding two acres in extent may be conveyed to 'trustees on behalf of any society or body of persons associated together for religious purposes,' 'for the erection thereon of a building for such purposes,' 'or whereon a building used or intended to be used for such purposes has been erected,' without any special formalities, provided that such conveyance be made in good faith, for full and valuable consideration. It is no longer necessary to enrol either the conveyance or the deed declaring the trusts, though the trustees may enrol such deed if they think fit. Any property, except lands, tenements and hereditaments, and personal property directed to be laid out in them, may be assured to charity, either for value or as a gift, and either by deed or will, without restriction of any kind.

Oaths Act, 1888.—The Act to amend the Law as to Oaths, passed on the 24th December, 1888, enacts that every person upon objecting to being sworn, and stating, as the ground of such objection, either that he has no religious belief, or that the taking of an oath is contrary to his religious belief, shall be permitted to make his solemn affirmation instead of taking an oath, in all places and for all purposes where an oath is or shall be required by law, which affirmation shall be of the same force and effect as if he had taken the oath. Every such affirmation shall be as follows:—' I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm,' and then proceed with the words of the oath prescribed by law, omitting any words of imprecation or calling to witness. If any person to whom an oath is administered desires to swear with uplifted hand in the form and manner in which an oath is usually administered in Scotland, he shall be permitted to do so, and the oath shall be administered to him in such form and manner without further question. By the Act of 1909, an alteration in the manner of administering oaths is authorized.

Passports.—British subjects travelling abroad are strongly advised to obtain Passports before leaving the United Kingdom, more especially if they contemplate a prolonged stay in any foreign country. The possession of a Passport is necessary in order to enter Russia, Turkey, Rumania, Servia, Persia, Colombia, Venezuela, Eritrea, and the States bordering on the Southern frontier of Austria-Hungary. For these countries (with the exception of Servia) it is also necessary for the Passport to be visi by a Consular Officer of the State concerned. For other countries, although not absolutely necessary in order to enter, it is always advisable to carry a Passport, as the production of such a document may at any time be required. and its absence may cause the traveller considerable inconvenience. A full statement of the requirements of foreign countries may be obtained gratis on application to the Foreign Office, London. Passports are issued to British-born subjects by the Foreign Office or the various British Consuls on presentation of Form of Declaration, which is sent on application, duly verified by a Banking Firm established in the United Kingdom, or by a Mayor, Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, Minister of Religion, Barrister-at-Law, Physician, Surgeon, Solicitor, or Notary, resident in the United Kingdom. If the applicant for a Passport be a naturalized British subject the Certificate of Naturalization must be forwarded to the Foreign Office with the Declaration. Naturalized British subjects, if resident in London or in the suburbs, must apply personally for their Passports at the Foreign Office; if resident in the country, the Passport will be sent, and the Certificate of Naturalization returned to the person who may have verified the Declaration. Naturalized British subjects will be described as such in their l'assports, which will be issued subject to the necessary qualifications. The charge for issue of a Passport is 2s., and for visas—Austria-Hungary (for Bosnia and Herzegovina), 2s.; Belgium, 2s. 6d.; France, 8s. (in Belgium and France, Passports must be held for a lengthened stay); Persia, 5s.; Portugal, 4s. 6d.; Russia, 4s. 10d. (Religion must be stated before visa will be granted. New visa required every six months); Servia, 2s. 6d.; Spain, 9s. 8d.; Switzerland, 2s.; Turkey, 4s. (must state at which point the traveller will enter the Turkish Dominions; a fresh visa is required for each journey); Venezuela, Agency fee Is. 6d. extra for Passport and Is. each visa.

Rates, Exemption from. It is enacted by 3 & 4 William IV, c. 30, that 'no person or persons shall be rated, or shall be liable to be rated to, or to pay any church or poor rates or cesses for, or in respect of, any churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or premises, or such part thereof, as shall be exclusively appropriated to public religious worship, and which shall be 'registered under 18 & 19 Vic. c. 81, as a place of meeting for religious worship. 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be hereby exempted from any such rates or cesses, for or in respect of, any parts of such churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or other premises which are not so exclusively appropriated, and from which parts not so exclusively appropriated, such person or persons shall receive any rent or rents or shall derive profit or advantage.' Section 2 proceeds, 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be liable to any such rates or cesses because the said churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or other premises, or any vestry-rooms belonging thereto or any part thereof, may be used for Sunday or infant schools, or for the charitable education of the poor.' It is difficult to say what user of part of a chapel or school premises would bring the case within the exception from the exemption. With regard to the certification

By the Public Health Act the incumbent or minister of any building exempted by law from the poor rate is also exempt from rates for sewering, paving, and lighting leviable by any authority administering the Act. This provision is now extended to Trustees of Churches by the Private Street Works Act, 1892. It may be questioned whether such user (if any) of chapel or school premises as would subject the chapel or premises to the liability to pay poor rates might not also involve liability to rates levied under the Public Health Act. This Act does not apply to the metropolis, the latter being governed by the Metropolis Management Act, 1855. From that Act the exemption clause was omitted, and it has been practically held that Dissenting places of worship are 'houses,' and are not exempt from the paving, sewering, and lighting rates leviable thereunder.

Registers, Dissenting, of Births, Baptisms, Marriages, Deaths, and Burials.—These registers and records, which were collected, examined and approved by a Royal Commission, are now deposited in the custody of the Registrar-General, at the Non-Parochial Register Office, Somerset House, London, which, for the purposes of the Act of 3 & 4 Vic. c. 92, is deemed a branch or part of the General Register Office. Searches and extracts from these registers and records will be granted on every day except Sundays, Christmas Day, and Good Friday, between the hours of ten and four, upon personal application only, and payment of legal fees. Applications by letter for search or extract cannot be complied with. Persons residing in the country, therefore, who may require searches of certificates, must, of necessity, apply to a friend in London, or employ an agent. All other communications by letter, on the subject of the above-mentioned registers and records, must be addressed to the 'Registrar-General, General Register Office, London'; and it is requested that the words 'Non-Parochial Registers' may be written on the outside of all such letters, the postage of which may be left unpaid. The fee for each search is 1s., and for each certificate, 2s. 7d.

Sites for Chapels.—By the Places of Worship Sites' Act, 1873, amended by an Act of 1883, owners of settled estates, corporations, and officers, trustees, and commissioners holding land for public purposes, are empowered, within certain limitations, to grant sites for places of religious worship, residences for ministers, and burial grounds.

Trustees' Incorporation Act.—35 & 36 Vic. c. 24.—This Act, entitled 'An Act to facilitate the Incorporation of Trustees of Charities for Religious, Educational, Literary, Scientific, and Public Charitable Purposes, and the Enrolment of certain Charitable Trust-Deeds,' was passed 27th June, 1872. The object of the Act is to facilitate the incorporation of the charities indicated in the title, and to diminish the expense of enrolment under an Act passed in the thirtieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria. Owing to the option of granting a certificate being by the Act vested in the Charity Commissioners for England and Wales, and to the latter having held that such certificate should be refused in cases where the property might be vested in the official trustee of the Commissioners under the Charity Commission Acts, the Incorporation Act has become practically useless.

Trustees, Investments by.—The Trustee Act, 1893, consolidates the various enactments relating to trustees. The first part relates to investments, and as to these it is (inter alia) enacted that a trustee may, unless expressly forbidden by the instrument (if any) creating the trust, and subject to any consent required by such instrument, in addition to the powers conferred thereby, invest any trust funds in his hands, whether at the time in a state of investment or not, as follows:—

(a) In any of the Parliamentary stocks or public funds or Government securities of the United Kingdom.

(b) On real or heritable securities in Great Britain or Ireland.(c) In the stock of the Bank of England or the Bank of Ireland.

(d) In India three-and-a-half per cent. stock and India three per cent. stock, or in any other capital stock which may at any time hereafter be issued by the Secretary of State for India in Council under the authority of Act of Parliament and charged on the revenues of India.

(e) In any securities the interest of which is for the time being guaranteed by Parliament.

(f) In consolidated stock created by the Metropolitan Board of Works or by the London County Council or in Debenture stock created by the Receiver for the Metropolitan Police District.

(g) In the debenture or rent charge or guaranteed or preference stock of any railway company in Great Britain or Ireland incorporated by special Act of Parliament and having during each of the ten years last past before the date of investment paid a dividend at the rate of not less than three per centum per annum on its ordinary stock.

(h) In the stock of any railway or canal company in Great Britain or Ireland whose undertaking is leased in perpetuity or for a term of not less than two hundred years at a fixed rental to any such railway company as is mentioned in sub-section g either alone or jointly with any other railway company.

(i) In the debenture stock of any railway company in India the interest on which is paid or guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

(j) In the 'B' annuities of the Eastern Bengal, the East Indian and the Scinde, Punjaub, and Delhi Railways and any like annuities which may at any time hereafter be created on the purchase of any other railway by the Secretary of State for India in Council and charged on the revenues of India and which may be authorized by Act of Parliament to be accepted by trustees in lieu of any stock held by them in the purchased railway, also in deferred annuities comprised in the register of holders of annuity Class D and annuities comprised in the register of annuitants Class C of the East Indian Railway Company.

(k) In the stock of any railway company in India upon which a fixed or minimum dividend in sterling is paid or guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council or upon the capital of which the interest is so guaranteed.

(l) In the debenture or guaranteed or preference stock of any company in Great Britain or Ireland established for the supply of water for profit and incorporated by special Act of Parliament or by Royal Charter and having during each of the ten years last past before the date of investment paid a dividend of not less than £5 per centum per annum on its ordinary stock.

(m) In nominal or inscribed stock issued or to be issued by the corporation of any municipal borough having according to the returns of the last census prior to the date of investment a population exceeding fifty thousand or by any county council under the authority of any Act of Parliament or

Provisional Order.

(n) In nominal or inscribed stock issued or to be issued by any commissioners incorporated by Act of Parliament for the purpose of supplying water and having a compulsory power of levying rates over an area having according to the returns of the last census prior to the date of investment a population exceeding fifty thousand, provided that during each of the ten years last past before the date of investment the rates levied by such commissioners shall not have exceeded eighty per centum of the amount authorized by law to be levied.

(o) In any of the stocks, funds, or securities for the time being authorized for the investment of cash under the control of the High Court.

Provided that a trustee may not purchase at a price exceeding its redemption value any stock mentioned in sub-sections (y), (i), (k), (l), and (m), which is liable to be redeemed within fifteen years of the date of purchase at par or at some other fixed rate, or purchase any such stock as is mentioned in such sub-sections, which is liable to be redeemed at par or at some other fixed rate, at a price exceeding 15 per cent above par or such other fixed rate.

National Health Insurance Act, 1911.—By decision of the Commissioners (August, 1912), Unitarian Ministers are not required to be insured under the National Health Insurance Act.

Workmen's Compensation Act, 1907.—It is desirable to insure the minister (if in receipt of a salary under £250 per annum); the chapel-keeper, and where there is an understanding (written or otherwise) that the wife or any member of the family helps, the helper also; any charwoman or other person employed regularly though for only and perhaps a part of a day a week; the grave-digger, if any; the organist and blower and members of the choir if paid; also any Bible-women or nurses. That where the chapel-keeper regularly employs any charwoman or other person to help, that an insurance should be taken out for the benefit of the chapel-keeper in respect of the persons helping, as he would probably be liable under the Act. These recommendations apply to those engaged in connexion with missions and schools.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEES

This may be made under the Act of 1850 (13 & 14 Vic. c. 28), generally known as Sir Morton Peto's Act, and the Acts of 1869 and 1890 extending the same, now together called 'the Trustees Appointment Acts, 1850 to 1890,' or by 'the Trustee Act, 1893.' When there is an existing power of appointment, the appointment may be effected in the manner, and by the person appointed by the instrument, creating the trust; if there is no existing power, or the appointment under the power be not made within twelve months, then recourse should be made to the above Acts, under which the appointment can be made, in the case of Peto's Act, by resolution of the congregation, society, or body of persons interested therein as by the Act provided, or, in the case of the Trustee Act, 1893, by writing by the persons therein mentioned, the trust property in the former case vesting in the new trustees by virtue of the appointment alone, and, in the latter case, by virtue of a declaration forming part of the Deed.

If none of these modes of appointment should be feasible, resort should be had to the powers of the Charity Commissioners, and in the last instance to the Court of Chancery, though this latter course should not be adopted without a certificate of its necessity from the Commissioners.

No form of appointment is prescribed by the Trustee Act, 1893, but in Sir Morton Peto's Act a form is given for cases under that Act only, and is as follows :-

PREFACE

THE YEAR BOOK for 1915 contains the names of 359 Ministers and 10 Lay-Workers in Great Britain and Ireland.

Since the last issue of the Year Book 11 ministers have died. Three ministers have joined other denominations; two have been transferred to the Colonial list; one Lay-Worker's name has been omitted on his resignation.

The following names of Ministers appear in the Year Book for the first time: Græme Maurice Elliott (formerly a Congregational minister), Herbert Hugh Ceiron Jones (educated, 1910–14, at H.M.C.), John William Lee (formerly a Baptist minister), Richard Lee (formerly a Congregational minister), Irvine Lister (formerly a Congregational minister), Joshua Lord (educated, 1912–14, at H.M.C.), Frederick Munford (formerly a Congregational minister), Lawrence Redfern (educated, 1907–13, at H.M.C.), Thomas Meurug Salmon (educated, 1910–14, at H.M.C.), Sidney Spencer (educated, 1911–14, at M.C.O.), William Henry Townley Tilson (formerly an Anglican Clergyman), George Saville Woods (educated, 1913–14, at M.C.O.). The names of George Stewart Hitchcock and Henry Harrold Johnson have been reinserted on their return to the ministry. Harry Maguire (Wareham), having completed a period of probationary service as a Lay-Worker, is now regarded as belonging to the regular ministry.

G. Ernest Hale (formerly a Baptist minister), Wyndham S. Heathcote (formerly an Anglican Clergyman), have been added this year to the Colonial list; F. W. Pratt has returned to the United States of America. The Colonial list now includes all ministers of Unitarian congregations in Canada.

The following names of Lay-Workers appear in the Year Book for the first time: F. A. Bullock (Trowbridge), T. Gaylard (Bristol Domestic Mission), Neone Raad (Ringwood), W. H. Sands (Framlingham and Bedfield), C. Smith (Middleton), H. W. Stephenson (Loughborough). In transferring the name of a Lay-Worker to the list of Ministers, the period of service as a Lay-Worker is indicated.

Of the Ministers, 116 were educated at Manchester College: this number includes 15 students from the Unitarian Home Missionary College, and 6 from the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 110 Ministers were educated at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, and 27 at the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 56 ministers were educated at 'orthodox' theological Colleges; 2 were educated at Unitarian Colleges in America; 16 ministers have had a University or College education, without special theological training; 53 have had no College training.

255 Ministers and 10 Lay-Workers are in charge of Congregations; 65 ministers have retired from active work; 11 are employed as tutors in our colleges, secretaries of associations, editors of papers, and district ministers; 8 are engaged in work not connected with the denomination; 20 are apparently open to accept ministerial appointments.

The list of Congregations contains 371 places of worship; 290 in England; 38 in Ireland; 35 in Wales; 8 in Scotland. Blackpool (Waterloo Road), and Perth have been reinserted.

In December, 1914, the following pulpits were vacant, or about to become vacant:—England—Birmingham (Church of the Messiah), Bolton (Bank Street), Bradford (Broadway Avenue), Bury St. Edmunds, Coventry, Hindley, Huddersfield, Ipswich, Leigh, London (University Hall), Manchester (Willert Street Mission), Middlesbrough, Southampton, Wood Green, Yarmouth. Ireland—Belfast (Mountpottinger, York Street). Wales—Aberdare (Old Meeting), Pontypridd. Upwards of fifty congregations rely at present upon Lay-preachers, with occasional visits from ministers in the neighbourhood or from a distance.

The Essex Hall Hymnal, in its older or Revised edition, is used by 185 congregations; 'Hymns of Praise and Prayer' by 25; 'Hymns for the Christian Church and Home' by 10. In Ireland 14 congregations use 'Hymns for Christian Worship'; in Wales 21 use 'Pearls of Praise.' The Berwick Hymnal is used by 12 congregations, the New Hymnal published by Novello by 64; upwards of 30 congregations use selections more or less peculiar to themselves. Liturgies are used by 108 congregations.

Every care is taken to give accurate information; but as several ministers and secretaries take no notice of the request to furnish particulars of any changes, it is not always easy to ensure accuracy. Any errors or omissions observed by readers should be communicated to the Editor at Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London, W.C.

THE ESSEX HALL YEAR BOOK, 1915

MINISTERS

[Revised and approved 4 November, 1914, by the joint-committee.]

The list contains the name and address, college, university degree, date of entering ministry, and congregations served by the following:—

(1) Ministers in charge of Unitarian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, and other Non-Subscribing Congregations in Great Britain and Ireland.

(2) Ministers, formerly settled with Congregations, now engaged as professors, tutors, missionaries, secretaries, etc.

(3) Ministers in charge of Unitarian Congregations in Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and South Africa.

(4) Ministers who have resigned their pastorates, or who have retired from active duty, but who have not withdrawn from the ministry. These names are printed in italic.

Important to Congregations

As much injury has been done both to congregations and to the ministry by the appointment of unsuitable persons, congregations are urged to take no steps in respect to the selection or appointment of any Minister whose name does not appear in the Year Book, until one of the Advisory Committees has given a certificate as to his character and personal fitness.

ADMISSION OF NAMES

(1) The name of any Minister regularly appointed by a Congregation or a Missionary Society to conduct religious services, and to take charge of the work of the Church or Society, is inserted in the list.

(2) He is described as a 'Minister,' if he (a) holds the certificate of having completed the theological curriculum at Manchester College, Oxford, the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, or at Harvard or Meadville, U.S.A.; or (b) has previously been in the ministry of another denomination, or educated for the ministry in another denomination, at home or abroad, and has (if required) satisfied an Advisory Committee respecting his character and personal fitness; or (c) having been a Lay-Worker is qualified as a Minister.

Note.—Managers of Benevolent, Fellowship, Pension, Sustentation, and other Funds are under no obligation to admit anyone to benefits simply because his name appears in the Year Book.

OMISSION OF NAMES

(1) On resigning his charge, it is open to any minister to withdraw his name from the list altogether, if he so desires.

(2) On his becoming minister in another denomination, the name is omitted, unless a personal request is made for its retention.

(3) The names of ministers who have ceased to reside in the United Kingdom are omitted, but may on their personal application be included.

(4) The names of persons, whose character and conduct have, in the opinion of an Advisory Committee, a District Society, or the Ministerial Fellowship, unfitted them for continuing to hold the office of a minister.

LAY-WORKERS

(I) The List contains the name and address, as well as the period of service, and names of Congregations served by any Lay-Worker regularly appointed by a Congregation or Missionary Society, to conduct religious services or to take charge of such a Church or Society; and who, as a rule, has received a certificate as a Lay-Worker from an Advisory Committee.

(2) A Lay-Worker, on evidence of not less than three years' satisfactory service, and of passing the prescribed examination arranged by the Committee on the Supply of Ministers, may have his name included in the List of Ministers, after having received a further certificate from an Advisory Committee.

(3) In the case of Lay-Workers who have been for two years at an approved College, or who possess an approved University degree, two years' service may be deemed sufficient.

(4) The names of Lay-Workers are omitted on the termination of their engagements, but may be reinserted on a fresh appointment.

CONGREGATIONS

[Revised and approved II November, 1914.]

The list contains the location, the date of foundation, the hours of service, the hymn book in use, the name and address of the Secretary, the name of the Minister, Missionary, or Lay-Worker of:—

(a) All duly organized Unitarian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, and other Non-Subscribing Congregations in Great Britain and Ireland.

(b) Pioneer movements holding regular meetings for worship.
(c) Places of worship closed at present, but not finally given up.

The date following the name and address of the congregation indicates the year in which it was founded, which is not necessarily the date of the existing building; when two or more dates are given, the last refers to the erection of the present building.

The names of Ministers of Congregations during the past twenty-five years are usually inserted. Those printed in italic are deceased.

PIONEER PREACHERS

HOSTEL: Unity House, 23, Highbury Place, London, N.

IN RESIDENCE, 1915

F. G. BARRETT-AYRES SYDNEY FRANKLIN H. G. SMITH R. W. SORENSEN JOHN BEGG ALFRED J. HEALE PERCIVAL CHALK JESSE PIPKIN

THE PIONEER PREACHERS' movement owes its inception to the Rev. R. J. Campbell, of the City Temple, London, and was an outcome of the New Theology propaganda. When the Rev. R. J. Campbell retired from the Presidency of the Liberal Christian League, arrangements were made by the Rev. W. Tudor Jones, Ph.D., for the transfer of the Hostel and of the work associated with the Pioneer Preachers' movement to a new committee acting under the auspices of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, Mr. Campbell remaining as one of the Vice-Presidents. They still continue their ministry among a number of Liberal Christian Societies, and in addition are now responsible for the missionary work and oversight of several churches in London and elsewhere. In May, 1914, a new Hostel was opened at 23, Highbury Place, N. The promises, including freehold site, alterations, and equipment, cost £1400; and over £1200 of this amount was subscribed in 1914. Messrs. F. Cottier, S. Mossop, and C. A. Piper, former residents, are now studying at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, in preparation for the regular ministry. Tutors: Rev. A. H. Biggs, M.A., LL.M., Rev. J. A. Pearson, Rev. D. W. Robson, B.D., Rev. W. Wooding, B.A. All communications and inquiries should be addressed to the Secretary, Rev. T. P. Spedding, Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London, W.C.

Mr. R. O. LOVBLL, Hobart,

History.—The British and Foreign Unitarian Association was constituted in 1825. It arose out of the union of three Societies supported by Unitarians in all parts of the kingdom: (1) The Unitarian Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and the Practice of Virtue, by the Distribution of Books, founded in 1791; (2) The Unitarian Fund, established in 1806, which may be regarded as the most important; and (3) The Association for Protecting the Civil Rights of Unitarians, formed in 1819.

Management.—The Association is managed by a representative Committee elected annually by the whole body of its members. District and Local Associations appoint representatives to serve on the Council.

Grants of Money.—The Association assists many of the older churches, makes grants in aid of new churches, and in the maintenance of missionary work at home and abroad. The whole of the income from collections and subscriptions is expended in grants for missionary objects.

Foreign Work.—Grants have been given to assist Unitarian and other forms of liberal religion in Australia, Belgium, Bulgaria, Canada, Denmark, Hungary, India, Italy, Jamaica, New Zealand, Norway, and other Countries.

Civil Rights of Unitarians.—The Association guards the civil and religious rights and privileges of Unitarians, and gives advice concerning Trust Deeds.

Publication of Books.—Among recent publications are the following: 'The Religious Philosophy of Plotinus and some Modern Philosophies of Religion,' the Essex Hall Lecture for 1914, by W. R. Inge, D.D., Dean of St. Paul's; three volumes of the new series of Modern Handbooks of Religion, namely, 'Religion as Affected by Modern Science and Philosophy,' by Stanley A. Mellor, B.A., Ph.D.; 'The New Testament in the Light of Modern Knowledge,' by Herbert McLachlan, M.A., B.D.; 'Religion in Social and National Life,' by H. D. Roberts; 'Nonconformist Church Architecture,' an Essay by Ronald P. Jones, M.A., published for the Author; 'Clear Grit,' a Collection of Lectures, Addresses, and Poems, by the late Dr. Robert Collyer; 'Bergson and the Modern Spirit,' by G. R. Dodson, Ph.D.; 'Francis Dávid, Founder and Martyr of Unitarianisma in Hungary,' by William C. Gannett, D.D.; 'Unto this Generation,' Ten Essays with Hymns and Prayers, by various Writers, from the Unitarian Penny Library.

Grants of Tracts.—The Association publishes a great variety of Tracts, illustrative of Unitarian Christianity; and grants are freely made to individual inquirers, congregations, missionary societies, and postal missions. 46,904 tracts were distributed in this way during 1913.

Co-operation with Local Associations.—The Association co-operates with the various District and Local Associations in different parts of the country. Support is given in aid of Missionary work in the Liverpool and Manchester Districts, the Northern Counties, the South and West of England, the Midlands, South Wales, London, the South Eastern Counties, and Yorkshire.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

'The International Council of Unitarian and other Liberal Religious Thinkers and Workers' was organized at Boston, U.S.A., 25 May, 1900. In 1910 its title was changed to 'The International Congress of Free Christians and other Religious Liberals' (in French, 'Congrès International des Chrétiens libéraux et d'autres libre-croyants,' and in German, 'Welt-Kongress für freies Christentum und religiösen Fortschritt'). The purpose of the Congress is 'to open communication with those in all lands who are striving to unite pure religion and perfect liberty, and to increase fellowship and co-operation among them.' It seeks to bring into closer union for exchange of ideas, mutual service, and the promotion of their common aims the historic liberal churches, the liberal elements in all churches, scattered liberal congregations, and isolated workers for religious freedom and progress in many lands. It aims to be a source of encouragement and strength to them in their struggles against dogmatic intolerance and ecclesiastical tyranny. It cultivates large and fraternal relations with the great liberal movements in religion now going on under various names and auspices throughout the world. To promote these ends it holds a triennial Congress in some acknowledged seat of religious enlightenment and freedom. Some one hundred religious associations are now affiliated with the Congress, send official delegates to its meetings, and make it the international organ of their fraternal relations with each other.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

There are 498 Unitarian churches and 540 Unitarian ministers in America. The Divinity School at Cambridge, Mass., in connexion with the University of Harvard, the Theological School at Meadville, Pa., and the Pacific Unitarian School for the Ministry at Berkeley, Cal., are the three Colleges at which Unitarian ministers receive their training. The American Unitarian Association was formally organized on 25 May, 1825. Its object is 'to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity,' and all Unitarian churches are invited to unite and cooperate with it for that purpose. Any church or missionary organization which has made two successive annual contributions is entitled to representation by its minister and two other delegates. The head-quarters of the Association are at 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass. President, Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, D.D.; Secretary, Rev. Lewis G. Wilson; Treasurer, Henry M. Williams: Publication Agent, F. Stanley Howe. There are also Unitarian Book Rooms at Chicago, 105 South Dearborn Street: New York, 104 East 20th Street; San Francisco, 376 Sutter Street. The General Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches owes its organization to a special meeting of the American Unitarian Association, held 7 December, 1864. It is simply a 'Conference.' It 'adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its activity, and confines itself to recommending to them such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of its constituency,' The Unitarian Association is the executive arm of the Unitarian body, and the working missionary organization of the Unitarian churches in America.' The Unitarian Year Book, published at 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., gives full information respecting Churches, Ministers, Colleges, and Conferences. The following list of Unitarian Churches in America will be of interest and service.

LIBERAL RELIGION IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

OUTSIDE America, the Colonies, and Hungary, Liberal Religious thinkers and workers soldom use the 'Unitarian' name, but in many parts of the world there are churches and societies, as well as a large number of individuals who are in substantial agreement in thought and feeling with the Unitarians of England and of the United States.

Africa.—Free Protestant (Unitarian) Church, Hout Street, Cape Town (1867-1890). Minister, Rev. Ramsden Balmforth, Shirley, 6 Stephen Street, Cape Town. The church at Grauff Reinet, of which the late Rev. II. Rawlings, M.A., was minister from 1883 to 1886, has had no minister and no services since the latter date, though Mr. Balmforth conducted services there in October, 1899. Both these churches sprang from the Dutch Reformed Church. There are at various places in South Africa many individual sympathizers with Unitarianism. The Rev. W. G. Tarrant, B.A., visited South Africa early in 1911 on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. He preached and lectured at Cape Town, Pretoria, Johannesburg, and other places. A church was established at Johannesburg, of which the Rev. G. C. Sharpe became the first minister in October, 1911. Rev. R. J. Hall, M.A., is now the minister.

Australia.—There are Unitarian churches at the following places:—South Australia: Adelaide—Rev. Wilfred Harris, M.A., Clwydd, York Street, North Kensington. Victoria: Melbourne—Rev. Wyndham S. Heathcote, B. A. New South Wales: Sydney—Rev. George T. Walters, Eglinton, Moruben Road, Mosman, Sydney. Queensland: Brisbane A Liberal Church, under the ministry of the Rev. Douglas Price, formerly an Episcopalian, was established in 1911. At Melbourne, the Church of Australia, Minister, Rev. Dr. Charles Strong, is a free congregation, promulgating practically Unitarian principles. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding during a visit to Australia and New Zealand, November, 1911, to April, 1912, visited the Australian churches on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.

Austria. A considerable number of the Protestant churches are liberal in their theology; there is a growing tendency towards what are practically Unitarian views; and the Los von Rom movement, although partly political and social, is also liberal in its theological outlook. The American Unitarian Association inaugurated in 1911, an international movement to erect a memorial chapel over the grave of Faustus Sociaus (1604), at Luctawise in Austrian Poland.

Belgium. There is a Free Christian church at Brussels, 21 rue des Minimes, of which the Rev. Paul Teissonnière, Brussels, is minister in succession to the Rev. James Hocart, who retired in 1910.

Bulgaria.—A Unitarian Association was formed for Bulgaria in 1911. Missionary and Secretary, Rev. Anton Toplisky, Doubnitza.

Canada.—In Canada there are nine Unitarian congregations: Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria (B.C.), and Edmouton; besides the churches of the Icelandic Unitarians in Manitoba. For list of Churches see page 85.

Denmark.—There is a Unitarian congregation in Copenhagen of which the Rev. Uffe Birkedal is minister, and one at Aarkus in Jutland with a lay-preacher, Mr. Hogsted. Miss Mary B. Westenholz is joint editor of the Protestantisk Telende, which represents the brond principles of Unitarian Christianity. There are many scattered Liberal Christians in Denmark. In 1911, the preaching of Pustor Arboe Rusmussen led to a keen discussion as to the legality of preaching Unitarianism from the pulpits of the State Church, and a charge of heresy is now pending against him.

France—The Liberal Reformed churches have a Central Agency in Paris—Union Nationale des Eglises Reformées. Churches: Oratoire, I rue de l'Oratoire du Louvre: Foyer de l'amo, 7 bis rue Daval, near boulevard Beaumarchais. Munisters: M. le Professeur Bonet-Maury, M.M. les Pasteurs Wilfrid Monod, E. Roberty, John Vienot, Charles Wagner, D.D., A. Reyss, 49 boulevard Pereire. The International Congress was held in Paris, in July, 1913.

Germany. -The German 'Protestantenverein' (Protestant Union) forms the chief bond of union among the Liberal Christians of the Empire. It was formed in 1865, and has about forty branch societies, and about 27,000 members. The Protestantenverein consists of members of the National Church; the liberal Christians, who do not belong to the National Church, associate themselves with the Free Religious Communities of East Germany. The Friends of Protestant Freedom in the Rhmelands is an association with 4000 members for the vindication of congregational and personal freedom in the National Church. The meetings at Berlin in August, 1910, of the International Council brought together hundreds of the best known preachers and thinkers of Germany. There is a Free Protestant Church for the promotion of Unitarian Christianity at Alzey, near Worms: Minister—Rev. Rudolf Walbaum.

Holland. -The 'Nederlandsche Protestantenbond' (Protestant Union of Holland) was established in 1870 as a converging point for Liberals belonging to every church of the country -Reformed, Lutheran, Remonstrant, Mennonite, and Free. There are 20,000 members. The 'Vergadering van moderne Theologen' (a meeting of liberal Protestant ministers and scholars) is a yearly meeting of liberal ministers of various denominations. The liberal party in the Dutch Reformed Church is organized in several Provincial Unions. The Universities of Leyden and Amsterdam are the educational centres of the free Protestantism in Holland; Leyden for the Dutch Reformed and Remonstrants, Amsterdam for the Mennonites and Lutherans. The Universities of Groningen and Utrecht have also a Liberal Professor and a number of liberal students. In Amsterdam, the Vrije Gemeente was founded by the brothers Hugenholtz. Rev. Etienne Giran, pastor of the French Walloon Church, and Rev. F. C. Fleischer (Mennonite), of Winterswijk are pronounced liberals.

Hungary.—Ever since the year 1568 there has existed a fully organized Unitarian Church in Hungary. In the sixteenth century it consisted of more than 400 congregations in Transylvania, and also a considerable number in several parts of Hungary Proper. The number was greatly reduced by protracted and bitter persecution which lasted about 200 years. The present number of Unitarian congregations with ordinary ministers is 116; and there are fifty places where the minister of the neighbouring congregation renders occasional services. The oldest congregation is at Kolozsvár (1568). There is a congregation at Budapest which was established in 1869. The roll of membership in the churches of Hungary is nearly 80,000. The churches are organized under a Bishop, at present Joseph Ferencz, Kolozsvár, and two Curators (Lay-Presidents). The churches are distributed into nine districts presided over by a dean, and are governed by a representative Consistory at Kolozsvár. A chief Consistory is convened once a year. In the fourth year a Synod is held. There is an elementary school attached to each congregation, and during the three summer months Sunday School teaching is going on in most of the congregations. Theological training is carried on by the Church at Kolozsvár. There is at Kolozsvár and at Szekelyeresztur a High School for boys with boarding. The Kolozsvár college was established about 1556 by John Sigismund, Prince of Transylvania. The theological college was reorganized in 1896, its Dean being then Professor G. Boros, D.D. Many of the professors and ministers completed their studies at Manchester College, Oxford, a scholarship being given by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the College. In 1911 the late Miss Emily Sharpe established a scholarship to maintain a Hungarian student at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester. There is an Emily Sharpe scholarship for girls in Channing House School, London. The Francis David Association, which was established in 1884. is doing a good work for the promotion of religious and moral culture; it has upwards of 1900 members and eleven branches. Catholics and Jews, as well as orthodox Protestants, gladly attend the meetings of the Francis David Association, and often read papers there on social, religious, and educational subjects. In most of the Reformed and Lutheran churches of Hungary there is a growing tendency towards liberal opinions in religion. Unitarian literature is most welcome among the cultivated members of the various churches. Four periodicals are published-The Christian Seed Sower (1861); Unitarian Magazine (1887); Woman's World (1902); Unitarian Church (1905). The Four Hundredth anniversary of the birth of Francis Dávid, the founder of Unitarianism in Transylvania, was celebrated in August, 1910, at Kolozsvár, and at Déva, the scene of his imprisonment and death, there being present one hundred English and American Unitarians. Unitarian books are published by the Church and the Francis Dávid Association.

Iceland.—Many people in Iceland are in sympathy with Unitarian religious opinions. Mr. Matthias Jochumsson, of Akureyri, poet and writer, formerly a Lutheran pastor, is an avowed liberal theologian, and a correspondent of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. There are eight Unitarian churches among the Icelanders in Canada.

India.—There are representatives of the Unitarian faith in several parts of India. There are Mission stations at Jowai, at Nongtalong, and other places in the Khasi Hills, at each of which there is a small meeting-house where regular Sunday services are held, and also day and Sunday schools. The late Mr. Akbar Masih, of Banda, worked chiefly through correspondence, and the publication of tracts and books on Unitarianism. The various sections of the Brahmo Samaj in the Theistic Church of India are Unitarian in their theology. They have societies in many parts of India. Central office, 211 Cornwallis Street, Calcutta. Mr. Promotho Loll Sen, Mr. Bipin Chandra Pal, Mr. Hem Chandra Sarkar, Mr. V. R. Shinde, Mr. V. A.

Sukhtankar, and Mr. P. S. Bose have been students at Manchester College, Oxford, holding Scholarships from the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. There are Unitarian Postal Mission agencies at Bombay, Calcutta, Lahore, Madras, and Shillong.

Italy. -Protestantism in Italy, having been mainly promoted by the Waldensian Church, is orthodox in its learnings, but many hold liberal views. Especially in the larger towns, those who break with Cathoheism, and maintain a religious connexion, are rarely content with the old dogmatic position. The late Professor Braceforti, Milan, was long identified with the profession of Unitarian principles. The Rev. Tony André, D.D., is a well known liberal minister and theologian in Florence, 21 Lungo Mugnone. Since 1911, the Rev. G. Conté, an ex Methodist munister, has been engaged in spreading the principles and faith of Unitarians under the auspices of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association and the American Unitarian Association. Conferences are held in Rome, Venice, Florence, Milan, Palermo (Sicily), and other towns.

Japan.— The American Unitarian Association founded a Mission having its head quarters in Unity Hall, Tokio, where the Rev. (lay MacCauley laboured successfully for many years. In 1911 he was succeeded by Mr. S. Uchigasaki, the British and Foreign Unitarian Association Japanese student formerly at Manchester College, Oxford. The work is now largely supported and worked by the Japanese themselves. Japanese scholars trained for the purpose take its services, do the work of the Postal Mission, the translation of Unitarian books, and the editing of a Review. The British and Foreign Unitarian Association has assisted four Japanese students better to equip themselves for their religious work by a course of study at Manchester College, Oxford. The Rev. Clay MacCauley has now returned to Japan.

New Zealand.—The Unitarian Church, Auckland, was founded in 1898: the congregation made rapid progress under the Rev. W. Jellie's ministry, and is now self-supporting. Rev. W. E. Williams, B.A., is now minister. At Wellington a new Unitarian Church was opened 18 April, 1909, under the ministry of the Rev. W. Tudor Jones, Ph.D. The present minister is the Rev. G. Ernest Hale, B.A. A new congregation was formed at Timaru in 1911, under the Rev. J. H. G. Chapple, formerly a Presbyterian minister. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding visited the New Zealand churches on behalf of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association in 1912.

Unitarian Missionary Conference of New Zealand.—Objects: To unite the scattered Unitarian Churches of New Zealand by means of a Van Mission or any other practical missionary method. To publish literature expository of Unitarian Christianity. To keep in communication with isolated Unitarians throughout the Dominion. President, J. C. Macky, Auckland.

Norway.—Norway has a State Church which is Lutheran, and formally includes the entire nation. There are very few Dissenting churches, and those have so far only gained ground among the less educated classes. The first Unitarian church in Norway was founded by Kristofer Janson, a Norwegian poet, at Christiania. The Unitarian congregation is now under the charge of the Rev. Herman Haugerud. In Bergen, the Rev. Carl Konow, a Lutheran pastor, has recently undergone no little persecution for his religious opinions. The late Björnstjerne Björnsen, eminent as a poet and in public affairs, sympathized with the Unitarian point of view, as do also many other scholars and public men. There are four Unitarian churches among the Norwegians in the United States. The British and Foreign Unitarian Association renders assistance to the work in Christiania.

Palestine. In Jerusalem, Haifa, and Jaffa, the Society of Friends of the Temple, founded in 1853 in Germany, by Chr. Hoffman and others, and transferred in 1868 to the Holy Land, has founded successful agricultural colonies for the worship of the one God. They deny the Trinity, the preexistence of Jesus, and his atoning sacrifice. Freedom from the yoke of dogma and a pure and living Christianity is the aim of these colonists, whose settlements are reported to be in a flourishing condition. In 1911 a pamphlet explanatory of Unitarianism was translated into Arabic for circulation among Mohammedans.

Russia.-The Dissenting sect known as Molokans are said to hold essentially Unitarian views. In St. Petersburg, the Dutch Reformed Church

(pastor, Rev. F. C. A. Pantakoek), is liberal and progressive.

Spain. A considerable number of scattered Protestant congregations. some founded under orthodox auspices and others of an unmistakably liberal type, have formed an organization under the title of the 'Spanish Evangelical Church.' This movement dates from 1886. In several of the large towns there are a number of liberal Protestants; and at Madrid, Barcelona,

and other centres services and meetings are held.

Sweden.-The State Church of Sweden is Evangelical Lutheran, and its doctrines are practically the same as the tenets of the German Lutherans. Some forty years ago one of the Stockholm clergy, the Rev. Ignell, created considerable sensation by his broad and liberal-minded theology, and most of his sermons and writings show that he held nearly Unitarian views, in common with several other men in the German Lutheran Church at that time. There is no organized Unitarian movement in Sweden, but a large number of religiously inclined, educated, and thoughtful men and women favour a liberal religious movement in their country. The Rev. Beskow, Djuersholm, is pastor of a liberal society in Stockholm. Other prominent progressives are Prof. Santesson and Dr. Samuel Fries, of Stockholm, and Professor Lindberg, of Gothenburg. Switzerland. - About half of the Protestants of the Swiss Republic are Liberal Christians. The liberal religious congregations are found in the Protestant Cantons, especially in Zurich, St. Gall, Geneva, and Basle. The Free Christian Association (Der Verein für freies Christentum) with thirteen centres and 4000 members is the chief bond of union and centre of activity. The popular religious literature issued under its auspices has assisted greatly in spreading the knowledge of Unitarian doctrines, while the free religious organs, especially the Schweizerische theologische Zeitschrift, Religiöses Volksblatt, Schweizerische Reformblätter, le Protestant liberal, and the old established Schweizerisches Protestantenblatt do excellent work in promoting religious enlightenment. It should be borne in mind that the reformers belong to the Landeskirche (Established Church) and thus leaven this with the spirit of Unitarianism. Profs. Schmiedel and Ragaz, of Zurich; Dr. Montet, rector of the University of Geneva; Rev. A. Altherr, of Basle; and Rev. E. Ryser, of Berne, are among the more prominent advocates of liberal Christianity.

Tasmania.—Unitarian Services are held at Hobart, conducted by laymen. There are quite a number of people in the island who hold Unitarian views of religion; and they look forward to the formation of a Church. The Rev. W. Wooding and Mrs. Wooding visited Hobart on their way from Australia to New Zealand.

The fund now amounts to upwards of £50,000, besides which there are annual subscriptions amounting to about £150. Treasurer, Richard D. Holt, M.P., India Buildings, Liverpool. Applications for grants should be made in the month of April to the Secretary, B. P. Burroughs, 15, Sweeting Street, Liverpool.

Its object was to aid, in the maintenance of faithful and efficient ministers, such congregations coming under the above description as regularly assemble for the public worship of God. An addition to the Fund of £50,000 was resolved upon at a Meeting of the National Conference held in Birmingham in 1912 with the view of securing subject to certain conditions a minimum stipend to all accredited ministers of such congregations as aforesaid in England and Wales. The whole of the £50,000 is already promised though not yet fully paid. The Fund is administered by a Board of twenty-seven Managers (ministerial and lay), of whom twelve are elected by the contributors, six by the Board, six by the National Conference, and three by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. Managers are elected for three years and are then eligible for re-election. The Annual Meeting is held in February of each year, and the Board meets in June to consider applications for grants. # MINISTERS' PENSION AND INSURANCE FUND

THE object of the Fund, founded in 1902, is to assist ministers to make provision for their old age and for their families after their death. 'Minister' does not include lay-preacher or lay-worker. The Fund is administered by a Board of twelve Managers, four of whom are ministers. The capital of the Fund is invested in the names of four Trustees. Triennial Meetings of the Fund are held at the time of the National Conference, the constituent members being (a) Donors of £5 or upwards; (b) Annual subscribers of not less than ten shillings; (c) The Managers, Trustees, and Auditors for the time being; (d) Members of the National Conference, who represent churches that subscribe not less than £1 per annum; (e) Beneficiaries. The income of the Fund, in the first instance, is employed in assisting ministers to pay the premiums on benefit policies effected by them with the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Such policy entitles the minister to an annuity of either £52 or £104 a year, payable halfyearly, the first instalment to be paid six months after he has reached the age of sixty-five; it may also entitle the minister to the sum of £250, with or without profits, to be paid to his representatives on his death within the age of sixty-five, or on his death at any age. To entitle the minister to these benefits, he will have to pay the Assurance Society an annual premium varying with his age and the table which he selects. If that premium does not exceed £20, the Managers pay to the Assurance Society half the premium out of the income of the fund; if it exceeds £20, the Managers pay £10, and no more, towards the premium. After the Managers have paid, or made provision for paying, their proportion of such premiums, they may employ the balance, if any, of the income for that year in assisting any minister, not insured as above, and still in active service, to make provision for his old age, and for his family after his death, in such manner as they may think best. The number of beneficiary members on the books is now 118, of whom ten are in receipt of pensions in the ordinary course, six are insurances assisted under special circumstances, and two are aged ministers to whom grants are made by way of annuity. The representatives of seven deceased beneficiary members have received £1894 7s. 3d. by way of insurance. Ministers desiring further information should write to the Hon. Sec. for a copy of the Constitution, By-Laws, Table of Premiums, and Form of Application. Managers, Robert Blake, Rev. Dr. J. Estlin Carpenter, M.A., Howard Chatfeild Clarke, Bryan E. Johnson, Ronald P. Jones, M.A., R. Mortimer Montgomery, K.C., Dr. W. Blake Odgers, K.C., Rev. H. J. Rossington, M.A., B.D., Rev. C. J. Street, M.A., LL.B., Rev. W. G. ### USEFUL LEGAL INFORMATION

Registration of Births and Deaths

Births.—Parents are required to see to the registration of Births (at the Registrar's office for the district in which they reside, within six weeks, under a penalty of 40s. for default. There is no charge for such registration, unless the Registrar attends, by a written request, at the house of the parents, when he becomes entitled to a fee of 1s. In default of the parents, the occupier of the house in which the child was born, and other persons, are held responsible for giving information to the Registrar. After the lapse of three months from the date of birth, the registration can only be effected by paying fees of 2s. 6d. each to the Registrar and Superintendent Registrar.

Deaths must be registered within five days, but registration may be delayed for fourteen days provided written information of the death, together with a medical certificate of its cause, be forwarded to the Registrar within five days. The nearest relative present at the death or during the last illness is the responsible person, or should there be no relative present, then the occupier of the house, or the person who causes the body to be Penalty for default, 40s. The doctor's certificate must be produced to the Registrar at the time of registration, and the Registrar's certificate to the officiating Minister at the interment. No fee is payable if the informants attend at the Registrar's office, but he becomes entitled to a fee of 1s. if he attends by request at their houses.

Registration of Chapels

Ordinary Registration. - All dissenting places of worship should be registered. Registration is effected by giving a certificate in writing that the chapel is used for worship to the Superintendent-Registrar of the District on a form which he will supply on application. The fee on registration is 2s. 6d., and a certified copy of the Registrar-General's certificate of the Registration can be obtained for a further payment of 2s. 6d. The Registers can at any time be inspected at the Superintendent-Registrar's office on payment of a fee of 1s. Registered places of worship are exempt from the provisions of the Charitable Trusts Acts. When a place of worship is rebuilt, either on the same or another site, the old certificate of registration must be cancelled and the place re-registered.

Registration of Chapels for Marriages.-A place of worship must, before marriages can legally be celebrated therein, in addition to being registered as above mentioned, be separately registered for the performance of marriages. Before registering a place for marriages, the Superintendent-Registrar of the district must be satisfied by certificate that the building has been used for worship for one year previous to the application. A fee of £3 is payable, and the Registration is advertised in the London Gazette and in a local When a chapel ceases to be used for worship or is rebuilt, the certificate is cancelled, and in that case it requires to be renewed if worship is resumed. When a congregation has removed from one chapel to another, and the old building has ceased to be used as a place of public worship, the certificate of the old chapel may be cancelled, and the new building registered for the solemnization of marriages, without waiting for a year to elapse. All necessary forms and information will be supplied by the Superintendent-Registrar of the District.

Marriage Laws

England and Wales.—Marriages may be solemnized in any registered building, or in a district registry office either by certificate or by licence. If by certificate, notice (accompanied with fee of 1s. for entry in 'Marriage Notice Book') must be given by one of the parties, if both live in one district, to the Superintendent-Registrar, on form furnished for purpose, containing solemn declaration of absence of impediment to intended marriage, certifying that one of the parties has dwelt at least seven days in district, and must be signed in presence of Registrar or deputy; but if parties live in different districts, notices must be sent to respective Superintendent-Registrars. Twenty-one clear days after entry of notice the certificate (for which 1s. must be paid) will be granted on application.

The same applies if one party lives in Ireland, only notice must be given on form used in Ireland. If one party lives in Scotland, Scotch certificate of proclamation of banns will be accepted as equal to certificate.

If by licence, though both parties do not dwell in same district, only one need give notice, certifying that he or she has resided at least fifteen days in district, though marriage may be held in district of either party. Both parties, however, must be in England at time of notice, though only one clear day is required (unless marriage take place in Ireland with some one there, when seven days are required) between notice and granting of licence. Cost of licence, £2 2s.

If there be no registered building in the district according to rites or ceremonies desired by parties, by endorsing notice with such declaration marriage may be held in another district.

If usual 'place of worship' at which ceremony is desired, be out of district of either's dwelling, by inserting words:—'Such building being usual place of worship of said——, and situate not more than two miles beyond limits of

district of ---, certificate will be granted accordingly.

The marriage must take place in registered building specified in certificate, with open doors, between the hours of eight in the morning and three in the afternoon, within three calendar months from day of entry of notice, in presence of Registrar (or his deputy, or, if the Marriage Act of 1898 has been adopted, in the presence of the Authorized person) and two or more credible witnesses besides minister, if any. At some part of ceremony the words must be said:—'I do solemnly declare that I know not of any lawful impediment why I— may not be joined in matrimony to—'; and each must say to other: 'I call upon these persons here present to witness that I — do take thee — to be my lawful wedded wife (or husband)'; without which it is not a marriage.

Registrar's fee for attending marriage by certificate, 5s.; by licence, 10s.;

for copy of certificate, 2s. 6d., and stamp 1d.

In marriages in district registry office, the same conditions (only the Superintendent-Registrar must be present) and words as above must be observed. There must, however, be no religious service, though this does not prevent such service being subsequently held if desired.

Quakers and Jews are excepted so far from the ordinary operation of the Marriage Acts as to be allowed their respective usages, provided due notice be given and certificate shall have issued.

By the Marriage Act, 1898 (61 & 62 Vic. c. 58), marriage may be solemnized in the registered building named in the Superintendent's certificate or certificate and licence authorized by law, without the presence of any Registrar, but in the presence of such duly authorized person as mentioned in the Statute. The Statute provides for the notices and forms required to be given or complied with and the registers to be kept.

Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister was legalized by Act of Parliament.

Ireland.—Marriages according to the form and discipline of the Presbyterian Church may be celebrated—

1. By special licence;

2. By licence; or

3. After publication of banns.

(1.) In the first case 'Both parties must be members of the same Church as the Moderator who grants the Special Licence' that is to say the Remonstrant Synod of Clster, the Presbytery of Antrim, and the Synod of Munster, are treated as three separate denominations, and the Moderator of each has the privilege of granting special licences to the members of his own body.

(2.) Ordinary licences can be granted when only one of the parties is a Presbyterian. Each Presbytery is authorized to appoint, subject to the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, a sufficient number of Presbyterian ministers to issue licences for marriage in meeting houses duly certified, in connexion with the Presbytery.

Anyone wishing to obtain a licence must, seven days before the licence shall be delivered to him or her, produce to the licensing minister a certificate from the minister of the congregation of which he or she shall be a member and has been a member for at least one calendar month preceding. This congregation must be in connexion with the Presbytery to which the licensing minister belongs.

(3.) When both parties are Presbyterians, marriages may be celebrated after the banns have been proclaimed for three Sundays in the Presbyterian meeting-houses attended by each of the parties.

The presence of the Registrar is not required at a marriage celebrated in a place of worship whether Presbyterian or otherwise.

Scotland.—The ceremony can be performed by the minister of any denomination, in any place, at any time, with or without any particular form. The law has been amended so as to put an end, as far as possible, to what were known as 'irregular' marriages. Legal notice must now be given to the Registrar of the parish or district, as in England, the names of the contracting parties being exhibited for seven days on the notice board outside the office of the Registrar in whose district the parties have resided for at least fifteen days immediately preceding. At the expiration of the period named a certificate will be granted, and on this the marriage may take place either in a church or elsewhere. Any person who has resided for at least twenty-one days in Scotland may be married by going to the Registrar's office in which he or she may reside, accompanied by two witnesses who can certify as to the term of residence, and exchanging written contract with the other party, afterwards proceeding to the County Sheriff's chambers to have the marriage registered.

Burial Laws: England and Wales

If a death is due to violence or accident, or is sudden, or its cause is unknown, or no certificate of any registered medical practitioner can be procured specifying the cause of death, notice should be given to the Coroner. Such notice may be given through the police. The police indeed often give such notice of their own accord. It is also the duty of the Registrar of deaths to give such notice in any of these cases, and to delay registering the death until the Coroner has investigated the matter.

A body ought not to be buried without either a Coroner's order or a Registrar's certificate of the death, and a minister should decline to conduct a funeral service over a body unless one of these two documents is produced to him or their absence can be satisfactorily explained.

In the early days of Nonconformity a good many churches had burial grounds attached to them, following the example of the Established Church; and it was lawful for interments to be made in such grounds accompanied by any service which the parties desired. It is possible that some such grounds may still be in use, but we fancy that most of them lay within areas wherein interments have been prohibited for sanitary reasons, and that they have been closed accordingly. As old burial grounds were thus closed or became filled, the need was felt for new spaces devoted to the same purpose; and this need was supplied in many localities by private companies, which bought land and laid it out as cemeteries, and allowed burials to take place therein on the payment of fees. Such companies always obtained private Acts of Parliament authorizing them to carry on their business; and in 1847 an Act called the Cemeteries Clauses Act was passed specifying the provisions, which were to be incorporated in all future Acts authorizing cemeteries. This Act permitted the Company to have part of the cemetery consecrated and set apart for the burial of Conformists (s. 23); and we have no doubt that all cemetery companies have availed themselves of this permission, for they could hardly have carried on their business profitably if they had not done so. The Act also (ss. 35, 36) allowed the Company to provide for Nonconformist burials, and to make regulations for the same; and we have no doubt that this power also has always been exercised. In some quarters also Roman Catholics and Jews provided cemeteries for their own people. It was, however, clearly insufficient to rely on private enterprise to supply the places of all closed burial grounds; and the same Statutes, which directed the closing of old burial grounds, authorized also the formation of Burial Boards to provide new burial grounds in place of them (15 & 16 Vic. c. 85; 16 & 17 Vic. c. 134; 17 & 18 Vic. c. 87; 18 & 19 Vic. c. 128, etc.). This was absolutely necessary, for the old grounds included parish churchyards, each of which was available for the burial of the bodies of all persons who died within the parish, and these grounds could not have been closed unless new grounds had been provided. The new grounds have accordingly been provided by parish authorities, and they are often called parochial cemeteries; and the law gives a right to inter in them the body of any person who dies in the parish, which provided them. The parochial cemeteries, however, do not altogether follow the old parochial divisions; but parishes have been combined or divided for burial purposes, to suit the convenience of different localities. In parochial cemeteries, however, t was at first made necessary to follow the same customs as in non-parochial cemeteries, and to set apart some ground as consecrated ground for the burial of Conformists, and other ground for Nonconformists, and to build chapels for both, and now it is permissible to have one ground and one chapel common to all parties. Wherever there is a cemetery, therefore, parochial or non-parochial, there is no difficulty in the way of a Nonconformist minister conducting a funeral service. In the absence, however, of a cometery a difficulty was experienced down to the year 1850, for the only burial ground available was the parish churchyard, and a burial therein involved a Church of England burial service conducted by a minister of the Church of England, and the payment of a fee to him, or no service at all. Indeed, the Prayer Book of the Church of England forbids the service to be read over the bodies of any who die unbaptized.

This state of affairs was remedied in 1880 by the Burial Laws Amendment Act of that year, which permitted Nonconformist ministers to conduct burial services in parish churchyards; and, by way of doing even justice all round, gave them also power to officiate at burials in the consecrated parts of cemeteries, and gave the clergy of the Church of England power to conduct burials in the unconsecrated parts.

This Act authorizes any person responsible for the burial of a body to give forty-eight hours notice to the incumbent of the parish in which the death took place, or in his absence to his deputy, that it is intended that the body shall be buried in the churchyard of the parish without the Church of England service. The Act allowed a like notice to be given to the chaplain of a parochial cemetery if a burial was intended to be made there; but the Burial Act, 1900 (63 & 64 Vic. c. 15, s. 8) requires that in the last-mentioned case the notice shall be given at such time and to such person as the burial authority directs. It is therefore necessary in that case to inquire at the office of the cemetery, and to give such notice as the rules of the cemetery prescribe. It is said that the notice may be given by the minister who is to conduct the service, or by the undertaker; at least, if the person responsible for the burial authorizes them to give it.

In the case of burials in churchyards the form of notice is specified in the Act of 1880, and the requirements are as follows :-

The Notice must be in writing; must be endorsed on the outside 'Notice of Burial'; must be signed with the name and address of the person giving it, and be in the form, or to the effect, following:

, being the relative for 'friend, or legal representative, as the case may be, describing the relation, 'if a relative], having the charge of, or being responsible for, the burial of A. [N.B.—While it is desirable to keep to this form, the person receiving it will not be at liberty to object to its sufficiency because the exact words are not used; the Act only requiring that the notice shall be in the form, or to the effect.' of the above.]

In the case of a churchyard, the notice is to be left at the house of the clergyman, or, in his absence, of the clergyman in charge of the parish, or of any person appointed to receive such notices.

In the case of a pauper, notice may be given to the incumbent, and also to the master of the workhouse, or to the clerk to the Guardians, by the husband, wife, or next of kin. The Guardians will be bound to allow the burial to be in accordance with the Act.

It is not necessary that the cleryyman should consent to a burial under the Act. He can object only to the time proposed, and do that only in certain cases. Unless it be otherwise mutually arranged, burials must be between 10 and 6 o'clock from April 1st to October 1st, and between 10 and 3 from

October 1st to April 1st.

A burial may take place either without 'any religious service' or 'with such Christian and orderly religious service' at the grave as the person responsible for the burial may think fit, and 'any person or persons'—whether ministers or laymen—who may be invited or authorized, may conduct such service, or take part in any religious act thereat. The words 'Christian service' include 'every religious service used by any church, denomination, or person, professing to be Christian.'

The person having charge of a burial under the Act must, either on the same day or the day after, send to the incumbent or his representative—or, in the case of a cemetery, to the clerk—a certificate of the burial in prescribed form.

[Some inconvenience has arisen by confounding this certificate of burial with the Registrar's certificate of death. The law in regard to the latter remains as it was previous to the passing of the Act of 1880, except that the Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1874, sect. 17, is amended, in the case of burials under the Act of 1880, and the Registrar's certificate must be delivered, not to the officiating minister, but to the person in charge of the funeral; who, if he so choose, retains it. The Registrar's certificate is not essential to an interment taking place; for the Burial Act of 1880 expressly provides that if the person in charge of the funeral has not received it within seven days after the interment, he must give notice to the Registrar.

The clergy of the Church of England are at liberty to use the burial service of that Church in any unconsecrated burial ground, or in the chapel therein. The relatives may have such service performed in unconsecrated ground by any clergyman of the Church of England who may be willing to perform the same.

In cases where the Church of England service cannot legally be used, and in any other case, at the request of the relatives, the elergy may use some other than the ordinary burnal service of the Church of England, provided that it has been approved by the Bishop, and is taken wholly from the Bible and Prayer Book.

The Act of 1880 does not entitle anyone to be buried in any place in which he would have no right to be buried if the Act had not passed.

When permission to bury a non-parishioner is given, the service may be conducted under the Act. The incumbent has no legal right to make his consent to the burial of a non parishioner dependent on the service being conducted by himself, or some other clergyman.

Neither does it affect previously existing regulations or authority in regard to the position of graves, inscriptions on gravestones, etc. The same fees will also have to be paid as though the burial were conducted by a clergyman.

The Act of 1880 applies only to England and Wales and the Channel Islands.

Burial Grounds Act, 1900.—This Act, which came into operation January 1st, 1901, modifies the Act of 1880 in the case of the consecrated parts of parochial cemeteries. The Act does not deal with churchyards. In future, Burial Boards 'may, if they think fit,' apply to have a portion of the cemetery consecrated; formerly they were compelled to have a portion consecrated. Burial Boards are no longer compelled to erect two cemetery chapels, one for Anglicans and one for Nonconformists. They may erect any chapel 'they may consider necessary'; but any chapel so erected 'shall not be consecrated, or reserved for the exclusive use of any denomination.' The payment of fees to an incumbent of a parish will no longer be required 'except for services rendered by him.' In future, when a Nonconformist minister officiates in the consecrated part of a parochial cemetery, he, and not the clergyman, will receive the fee. These provisions apply to cemeteries opened after the passing of the Act. In the case of cemeteries already existing the old fees will continue to be exacted for fifteen years, or on the vacating of the incumbency, whichever is the longer period.

Cremation.—This is regulated by the Cremation Act, 1902, and the Regulations made by the Home Secretary in pursuance of that Act.

Charitable Trusts, Investments, and General

Bequests to Charities.—(1) Request of an ordinary pecuniary Legacy. In this case there is no need for the provision formerly inserted in wills directing the legacy to be paid exclusively out of such parts of the testator's estate as might lawfully be disposed of for charitable purposes. The bequest may be in the following form:—

'I give to the treasurer or treasurers for the time being of the Society the sum of pounds, free of duty, for the general purposes of the said society, and his or their receipt shall be a sufficient discharge for the same.

(2) Bequest of a pecuniary legacy made payable out of the proceeds of sale and conversion of the testator's real and personal estate, or of a share of such proceeds.—Very frequently a testator gives his real and personal estate, or his residuary estate, to trustees on trust to sell, and out of the proceeds of sale to pay the legacies previously bequeathed, which may include a legacy to a charitable society, and a testator may now bequeath a share of such proceeds to such society. In these cases, although perhaps not essential, it is considered prudent, at all events until the interpretation of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, has been settled by judicial decision, to add to the gift of the pecuniary legacy or share to the society

the following direction:—
And I direct that in case all the real and leasehold estate comprised in the devise and bequest in trust for sale herein contained shall not be sold within one year from my death, then the said legacy (or share) herein bequeathed to the said treasurer or treasurers for the time being of the society, and the duty thereon shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale and conversion of my personal estate and the proceeds of sale of such of my real and leasehold estate as shall be sold within one year after my death,

in priority to all other legacies (or shares) payable thereout.'

Charitable Trusts.—The Acts relating to Charitable Trusts give the Charity Commissioners very extensive jurisdiction over all charitable trusts (except certain exempted charities), and empower the Commissioners to inquire into the management of charities, to oblige their trustees to render accounts, to advise such trustees on the administration of the trusts, to authorize or direct legal proceedings to be taken, to authorize the granting of leases and making of improvements, and raising of money by mortgage, to authorize trustees to remove schoolmasters and other officers, to authorize the sale, exchange, or partitions of lands, to remove and appoint trustees, and to make new schemes for the administration of charities. Among the charities exempted from the operations of these Acts are any buildings registered as places of meeting for religious worship with the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, and bona fide used as places of meeting for religious worship. Exempted charities can, by application under certain sections of one of the Acts, have the benefits of the Acts extended to them.

Dissenters' Chapels Act.—It is under this Act (7 & 8 Vic. c. 45), passed 19th July, 1844, that many of the old Presbyterian Chapels are secured to the Unitarians. The Act provides in substance that where there is no express statement in the deed of foundation as to the particular doctrines for which a chapel was to be employed, twenty-five years' usage shall be conclusive evidence of the legality of the doctrine.

Dissenters in Established Church Pulpits.—The Act by which it is considered that the Clergy are restrained from inviting Dissenters to occupy their pulpits is the Act of Uniformity of 1662 (13 & 14 Car. II, c. 14). By this Act no one may act or preach as a lecturer (in which capacity it is conceived a Dissenter or layman would appear, if so invited to preach) without a licence from the Bishop, and it has been decided that the discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence cannot be questioned. Any lecturer who acts in contravention of this enactment 'shall suffer three months' imprisonment without bail or mainprize.' No penalty, however, appears to be incurred by a parson inviting or permitting an unlicensed lecturer to use his pulpit; though a Bishop who grants a licence to anyone who has not first subscribed to the Three Articles concerning 'the King's supremacy, the Book of Common Prayer, and the Thirty-nine Articles,' will have to suffer the serious inconvenience of being suspended from giving licences to preach for the space of twelve months.

Executors and their Duties.—Immediately on the death of a testator his personal property passes to his executors to be distributed (after the payment of his funeral expenses and debts, in the manner directed by the will. The real property also except land of copyhold tenure or customary freehold) vests in the executors, who hold it as trustees for the persons beneficially entitled thereto, subject to a lability on account of the testator's debts, should the personal property which he leaves prove insufficient to pay them. They must take out a probate of the will, either personally or through a solicitor, either at Somerset House or at the Registry of the district in which the testator resided. The original will is then deposited in one of the registries of the Court, and the executors obtain a copy of it certified under the seal of the Probate Division. Estate duty is payable upon the principal value of all property, real or personal, settled or not settled, which passes on a death.

Land, Gifts and Sales of. - The law relating to gifts and sales of land and other property for charitable uses (among t which are included the erection of chapels, schools, etc.), has been recently consolidated by the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888 (51 & 52 Vic. c. 42) and the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891 54 & 55 Vic. c. 73., but is still very complicated. No attempt should be made to give effect to sales of more than two acres of land, or to gifts for such purposes without competent legal a trice. Land not exceeding two acres in extent may be conveyed to 'trustees on behalf of any society or body of persons associated together for religious purposes,' 'for the erection thereon of a building for such purposes,' or whereon a building used or intended to be used for such purposes has been erected,' without any special formulities, provided that such conveyance be made in good faith, for full and valuable consideration. It is no longer necessary to enrol either the conveyance or the deed declaring the trusts, though the trustees may enrol such deed if they think fit. Any property, except lands, tenements and hereditaments, and personal property directed to be laid out in them, may be assured to charity, either for value or as a gift, and either by deed or will, without restriction of any kind.

Oaths Act, 1888.—The Act to amend the Law as to Oaths, passed on the 24th December, 1888, enacts that every person upon objecting to being sworn, and stating, as the ground of such objection, either that he has no religious belief, or that the taking of an oath is contrary to his religious belief, shall be permitted to make his solemn affirmation instead of taking an oath, in all places and for all purposes where an oath is or shall be required by law, which affirmation shall be of the same force and effect as if he had taken the oath. Every such affirmation shall be as follows: - 'I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm,' and then proceed with the words of the oath prescribed by law, omitting any words of imprecation or calling to witness. If any person to whom an oath is administered desires to swear with uplifted hand in the form and manner in which an oath is usually administered in Scotland, he shall be permitted to do so, and the oath shall be administered to him in such form and manner without further question. By the Act of 1909, an alteration in the manner of administering oaths is authorized.

Passports.—British subjects travelling abroad are strongly advised to obtain Passports before leaving the United Kingdom, more especially if they contemplate a prolonged stay in any foreign country. The possession of a Passport is necessary in order to enter Russia, Turkey, Rumania, Servia, Persia, Colombia, Venezuela, Eritrea, and the States bordering on the Southern frontier of Austria-Hungary. For these countries (with the exception of Servia) it is also necessary for the Passport to be visé by a Consular Officer of the State concerned. For other countries, although not absolutely necessary in order to enter, it is always advisable to carry a Passport, as the production of such a document may at any time be required, and its absence may cause the traveller considerable inconvenience. A full statement of the requirements of foreign countries may be obtained gratis on application to the Foreign Office, London. Passports are issued to British-born subjects by the Foreign Office or the various British Consuls on presentation of Form of Declaration, which is sent on application, duly verified by a Banking Firm established in the United Kingdom, or by a Mayor, Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, Minister of Religion, Barrister-at-Law, Physician, Surgeon, Solicitor, or Notary, resident in the United Kingdom. If the applicant for a Passport be a naturalized British subject the Certificate of Naturalization must be forwarded to the Foreign Office with the Declaration. Naturalized British subjects, if resident in London or in the suburbs, must apply personally for their Passports at the Foreign Office; if resident in the country, the Passport will be sent, and the Certificate of Naturalization returned to the person who may have verified the Declaration. Naturalized British subjects will be described as such in their Passports, which will be issued subject to the necessary qualifications. The charge for issue of a Passport is 2s., and for visas-Austria-Hungary (for Bosnia and Herzegovina), 2s.; Belgium, 2s. 6d.; France, 8s. (in Belgium and France, Passports must be held for a lengthened stay); Persia, 5s.; Portugal, 4s. 6d.; Russia, 4s. 10d. (Religion must be stated before visa will be granted. New visa required every six months); Servia, 2s. 6d.; Spain, 9s. 8d.; Switzerland, 2s.; Turkey, 4s. (must state at which point the traveller will enter the Turkish Dominions; a fresh visa is required for each journey); Venezuela, Agency fee 1s. 6d. extra for Passport and 1s. each visa.

Rates, Exemption from.-It is enacted by 3 & 4 William IV, c. 30, that 'no person or persons shall be rated, or shall be liable to be rated to, or to pay any church or poor rates or cesses for, or in respect of, any churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or premises, or such part thereof, as shall be exclusively appropriated to public religious worship, and which shall be 'registered under 18 & 19 Vic. c. 81, as a place of meeting for religious worship. 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be hereby exempted from any such rates or cesses, for or in respect of, any parts of such churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or other premises which are not so exclusively appropriated, and from which parts not so exclusively appropriated, such person or persons shall receive any rent or rents or shall derive profit or advantage.' Section 2 proceeds, 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be liable to any such rates or cesses because the said churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or other premises, or any vestry-rooms belonging thereto or any part thereof, may be used for Sunday or infant schools, or for the charitable education of the poor.' It is difficult to say what user of part of a chapel or school premises would bring the case within the exception from the exemption. With regard to the certification

By the Public Health Act the incumbent or minister of any building exempted by law from the poor rate is also exempt from rates for sewering, paving, and lighting leviable by any authority administering the Act. This provision is now extended to Trustees of Churches by the Private Street Works Act, 1892. It may be questioned whether such user (if any) of chapel or school premises as would subject the chapel or premises to the liability to pay poor rates might not also involve liability to rates levied under the Public Health Act. This Act does not apply to the metropolis, the latter being governed by the Metropolis Management Act, 1855. From that Act the exemption clause was omitted, and it has been practically held that Dissenting places of worship are 'houses,' and are not exempt from the paving, sewering, and lighting rates leviable thereunder.

Recent Statutes .- The following Acts of Parliament may be usefully consulted on the subjects named: 18 & 19 Vic. c. 81, Places of Religious Worship Registration Act; 55 & 56 Vic. c. 11, Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act Amendment; c. 32; 56 & 57 Vic. c. 53 (The Trustee Act, 1893); 57 & 58 Vie. c. 35, Charitable Trusts (Places of Religious Worship Amendment Act, 1894); 60 & 61 Vic. c. 5, The Marriage Act, 1898; 62 & 63 Vic. c. 32, The Burial Act, 1900, c. 15; The Factory and Workshops Act, 1901, c. 22; The Cremation Act, 1902, c. 8; Marriago Legalization Act, 1903, c. 26; Elementary Education Amendment Act, c. 13; Employment of Children Act, 1903, c. 45; Shop Hours Act, 1904, c. 31; Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act, 1904, c. 15; Education (Provision of Meals Act), 1906, 6 Ed. Registers, Dissenting, of Births, Baptisms, Marriages, Deaths, and Burials.—These registers and records, which were collected, examined and approved by a Royal Commission, are now deposited in the custody of the Registrar-General, at the Non-Parochial Register Office, Somerset House, London, which, for the purposes of the Act of 3 & 4 Vic. c. 92, is deemed a branch or part of the General Register Office. Searches and extracts from these registers and records will be granted on every day except Sundays, Christmas Day, and Good Friday, between the hours of ten and four, upon personal application only, and payment of legal fees. Applications by letter for search or extract cannot be complied with. Persons residing in the country, therefore, who may require searches of certificates, must, of necessity, apply to a friend in London, or employ an agent. All other communications by letter, on the subject of the above-montioned registers and records, must be addressed to the 'Registrar-General, General Registers (fice, London'; and it is requested that the words 'Non-Parochial Registers' may be written on the outside of all such letters, the postage of which may be left unpaid. The fee for each search is 1s., and for each certificate, 2s. 7d.

Sites for Chapels.—By the Places of Worship Sites' Act, 1873, amended by an Act of 1883, owners of settled estates, corporations, and officers, trustees, and commissioners holding land for public purposes, are empowered, within certain limitations, to grant sites for places of religious worship, residences for ministers, and burial grounds.

Trustees' Incorporation Act.—35 & 36 Vic. c. 24.—This Act, entitled 'An Act to facilitate the Incorporation of Trustees of Charities for Religious, Educational, Literary, Scientific, and Public Charitable Purposes, and the Enrolment of certain Charitable Trust-Deeds,' was passed 27th June, 1872. The object of the Act is to facilitate the incorporation of the charities indicated in the title, and to diminish the expense of enrolment under an Act passed in the thirtieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria. Owing to the option of granting a certificate being by the Act vested in the Charity Commissioners for England and Wales, and to the latter having held that such certificate should be refused in cases where the property might be vested in the official trustee of the Commissioners under the Charity Commission Acts, the Incorporation Act has become practically useless.

Trustees, Investments by.—The Trustee Act, 1893, consolidates the various enactments relating to trustees. The first part relates to investments, and as to these it is (inter alia) enacted that a trustee may, unless expressly forbidden by the instrument (if any) creating the trust, and subject to any consent required by such instrument, in addition to the powers conferred thereby, invest any trust funds in his hands, whether at the time in a state of investment or not, as follows:—

securities of the United Kingdom.

(b) On real or heritable securities in Great Britain or Ireland.(c) In the stock of the Bank of England or the Bank of Ireland.

(k) In the stock of any railway company in India upon which a fixed or minimum dividend in sterling is paid or guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council or upon the capital of which the interest is so guaranteed.

(n) In nominal or inscribed stock issued or to be issued by any commissioners incorporated by Act of Parliament for the purpose of supplying water and having a compulsory power of levying rates over an area having according to the returns of the last census prior to the date of investment a population exceeding fifty thousand, provided that during each of the ten years last past before the date of investment the rates levied by such commissioners shall not have exceeded eighty per centum of the amount authorized by law to be levied.

(o) In any of the stocks, funds, or securities for the time being authorized for the investment of cash under the control of the High Court.

Provided that a trustee may not purchase at a price exceeding its redemption value any stock mentioned in sub-sections (g), (i), (k), (l), and (m), which is liable to be redeemed within fifteen years of the date of purchase at par or at some other fixed rate, or purchase any such stock as is mentioned in such sub-sections, which is liable to be redeemed at par or at some other fixed rate, at a price exceeding 15 per cent above par or such other fixed rate.

National Health Insurance Act, 1911.—By decision of the Commissioners (August, 1912), Unitarian Ministers are not required to be insured under the National Health Insurance Act.

Workmen's Compensation Act, 1907.—It is desirable to insure the minister (if in receipt of a salary under £250 per annum); the chapel-keeper, and where there is an understanding (written or otherwise) that the wife or any member of the family helps, the helper also; any charwoman or other person employed regularly though for only and perhaps a part of a day a week; the grave-digger, if any; the organist and blower and members of the choir if paid; also any Bible-women or nurses. That where the chapel-keeper regularly employs any charwoman or other person to help, that an insurance should be taken out for the benefit of the chapel-keeper in respect of the persons helping, as he would probably be liable under the Act. These recommendations apply to those engaged a connexion with missions and schools.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEES

This may be made under the Act of 1850 (13 & 14 Vic. c. 28), generally known as Sir Morton Peto's Act, and the Acts of 1869 and 1890 extending the same, now together called 'the Trustees Appointment Acts, 1850 to 1890,' or by 'the Trustee Act, 1893.' When there is an existing power of appointment, the appointment may be effected in the manner, and by the person appointed by the instrument, creating the trust; if there is no existing power, or the appointment under the power be not made within twelve months, then recourse should be made to the above Acts, under which the appointment can be made, in the case of Peto's Act, by resolution of the congregation, society, or body of persons interested therein as by the Act provided, or, in the case of the Trustee Act, 1893, by writing by the persons therein mentioned, the trust property in the former case vesting in the new trustees by virtue of the appointment alone, and, in the latter case, by virtue of a declaration forming part of the Deed.

If none of these modes of appointment should be feasible, resort should be had to the powers of the Charity Commissioners, and in the last instance to the Court of Chancery, though this latter course should not be adopted without a certificate of its necessity from the Commissioners.

No form of appointment is prescribed by the Trustee Act, 1893, but in Sir Morton Peto's Act a form is given for cases under that Act only, and is as follows :--

LEAP YEAR

EDITED BY
W. COPELAND BOWIE

Twenty-seventh Year of Issue

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION ESSEX HALL, ESSEX STREET, STRAND, LONDON, W.C.

PREFACE

THE ESSEX HALL YEAR BOOK has proved an invaluable aid to ministers and secretaries of the group of Free Churches, variously described, known to the general public by the name UNITARIAN. The Year Book is now in its twenty-seventh year; it has been published from the beginning by the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, with the same Editor. Many additions and improvements have been made from time to time; and it will be observed that the issue for 1916 has been reset throughout, and in several instances the contents have been made, so as to prevent the book from becoming too bulky. Under the name of each Minister is a list of the Congregations he has served; under each Church, the names of the present and the more recent Ministers are given.

The Year Book for 1916 contains the names of 365 Ministers and 9 Lay Workers in Great Britain and Ireland, and 15 Ministers in the British Dominions across the seas. The alterations, additions, and omissions in the list of Ministers have been made on the recommendation of a small committee representing the Association, the Conference, and the Ministerial Fellowship. Four ministers have died; six others, for various reasons, have been omitted.

The names of the following ministers appear in the Year Book for the first time:—Herbert Barnes (educated, 1912-15, at H.M.C.), Charles Biggins (educated, 1910-15, at H.M.C.), Thomas Eric Davies (formerly a Congregational minister), Robert Alexander Dickson (formerly a Congregational minister), David Cellan Evans (educated, 1912-15, at Carmarthen), James Vint Laughland (educated at Meadville, U.S.A.), Ralph Philipson (educated, 1912-15, at M.C.O.), C. Prestwich Scott (educated, 1911-14, at M.C.O.), Harman Taylor (educated, 1912-15, at H.M.C.).

Samuel Burrows and Lewis Jenkins Jones have been reinserted on their return to the ministry. George Coverdale Sharpe has been transferred from the Colonial list on his return to England from Vancouver, Stanley R. Gibbon, H. C. Hawkins, Neone Raad, H. W. Stephenson, having completed a period of probationary service as Lay Workers, are now regarded as belonging to the regular ministry.

The names of J. H. G. Chapple, H. H. Saunderson, and H. E. B. Speight, formerly in the Colonial list, will be included in the American Unitarian Year Book, as they have removed to the United States.

The names of the following Lay Workers appear in the Year Book for the first time:—Sam Crook (Willert Street Mission, Manchester), M. B. Skelland (Ross Street, Glasgow), T. Oswald Williams (Lampeter and Caeronen). In transferring the name of a Lay Worker to the list of Ministers, the period of service as a Lay Worker is indicated.

Of the Ministers, 118 were educated at Manchester College: this number includes 14 students from the Unitarian Home Missionary College, and 6 from the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 111 Ministers were educated at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, and 26 at the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen; 60 ministers were educated at 'orthodox' theological Colleges; 3 were educated at Unitarian Colleges in America; 13 ministers have had a University or College education without special theological training; 54 have had no College training.

264 Ministers and 9 Lay Workers are in charge of Congregations; 11 are employed as tutors in our colleges, secretaries of associations, editors of papers, and district ministers; 5 are engaged in work not connected with the denomination; 13 are apparently open to accept ministerial appointments; 72 ministers have retired from active work.

The list of Congregations contains 372 places of worship; 291 in England; 38 in Ireland; 35 in Wales; 8 in Scotland. Westeliff-on-Sea has been inserted this year.

In December, 1915, the following pulpits were vacant, or about to become vacant:—England—Burnley, Colne, Horsham, London (Acton and Brixton), Manchester (Longsight and Moss Side), Mottram, Oldham, Rotherham, Trowbridge, Yarmouth. Ireland—Belfast (York Street), Downpatrick, Moneyrea. Wales—Aberdare (Old Meeting). Upwards of 50 congregations rely upon lay preachers.

The Essex Hall Hymnal is used by 191 congregations; 'Hymns of Praise and Prayer' by 24; 'Hymns for the Christian Church and Home' by 7. In Ireland 14 congregations use 'Hymns for Christian Worship'; in Wales 21 use 'Pearls of Praise.' The Berwick Hymnal is used by 14 congregations, the New Hymnal (Novello) by 67; upwards of 30 congregations use selections more or less peculiar to themselves. Liturgies are used by 109 congregations.

Every care is taken to bring the information up to date—not always an easy task, as several ministers and secretaries do not return the Forms. To the large number of faithful and punctual correspondents, the Editor is most grateful; without their assistance the Year Book could not be prepared.

omitted, unless a personal request is made for its retention.

(3) The names of ministers who have ceased to reside in the United Kingdom are omitted, but may on their personal application be included.

(4) The names of persons are omitted whose character and conduct have, in the opinion of an Advisory Committee or a District Society, unfitted them for continuing to hold the office of a minister.

Important to Congregations

As much injury has been done both to congregations and to the ministry by the appointment of unsuitable persons, congregations are recommended to take no steps in respect to the selection or appointment of any Minister whose name does not appear in the Year Book, until one of the Advisory Committees has given a certificate as to his character and general fitness.

LAY WORKERS

(1) The List contains the name and address, as well as the period of service, and names of Congregations served by any Lay Worker regularly appointed by a Congregation or Missionary Society, to conduct religious services or to take charge of such a Church or Society; and who, as a rule, has received a certificate as a Lay Worker from an Advisory Committee.

(2) A Lay Worker, on evidence of not less than three years' satisfactory service, and of passing the prescribed examination arranged by the Committee on the Supply of Ministers, may have his name included in the List of Ministers, after having received a further certificate from an Advisory Committee.

(3) In the case of Lay Workers who have been for two years at an approved College, or who possess an approved University degree, two years' service may be deemed sufficient.

(4) The names of Lay Workers are omitted on the termination of their engagements, but may be reinserted on obtaining a fresh appointment.

CONGREGATIONS

[Revised and approved 10 November, 1915.]

The list contains the location, the date of foundation, the hours of service, the hymn book in use, the name and address of the Secretary, the name of the Minister, Missionary, or Lay Worker of:—

(a) All duly organized Unitarian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, and other Non-Subscribing Congregations in Great Britain and Ireland.
 (b) Pioneer movements holding regular meetings for worship.

(c) Places of worship closed at present, but not finally given up.

The date following the name and address of the congregation indicates the year in which it was founded, which is not necessarily the date of the existing building; when two or more dates are given, the last refers to the erection of the present building.

Under each Congregation the names of the present and the more recent Ministers are given. Those printed in italic are deceased.

PIONEER PREACHERS

HOSTEL: Unity House, 23 Highbury Place, London, N.

IN RESIDENCE, 1916

JOHN BEGG SYDNEY FRANKLIN J. P. ROSLING J. HARRY SMITH

The Pioneer Preachers' movement owes its inception to the Rev. R. J. Campbell, M.A., and was an outcome of the New Theology propaganda. When Mr. Campbell retired from the Presidency of the Liberal Christian League the movement was transferred to a new committee acting under the auspices of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. The Pioneer Preachers are responsible for the missionary work and oversight of several churches in London and elsewhere. In May, 1914, a new Hostel was opened at 23 Highbury Place, London. The premises, including freehold site, alterations, and equipment, cost £1,400. Messrs. F. Cottier, S. Mossop, C. A. Piper, and J. Pipkin, former residents, are now studying at the Unitarian Home Missionary College, Manchester, and Mr. P. Chalk at Manchester College, Oxford, in preparation for the regular ministry. Secretary, Rev. T. P. Spedding, Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London, W.C.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION

The British and Foreign Unitarian Association was constituted in 1825. It arose out of the union of three Societies supported by Unitarians in all parts of the country:—(1) The Unitarian Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and the Practice of Virtue, by the Distribution of Books, founded in 1791; (2) The Unitarian Fund, established in 1806, which may be regarded as the most important; and (3) The Association for Protecting the Civil Rights of Unitarians, formed in 1819.

The Association is a national and international missionary organization. Its operations cover all parts of the British Isles, and extend to the Colonies, India, Africa, and many European countries.

The Association assists in establishing and maintaining churches, especially in the early and difficult stages of their growth. It supports ministers, lecturers, and missionary preachers. It holds conferences and meetings in London and in different parts of the country.

The Association is the publication agency of the denomination. Books and pamphlets are issued dealing with the broader aspects of liberal religious thought and life, in addition to direct expositions of Unitarian Christianity. Publications intended for a wider public are issued under the name of 'The Lindsey Press'; those of a denominational type with the imprint of the Association. Books are frequently presented to public libraries, ministers, and lay preachers. Thousands of Unitarian tracts are distributed, in response to applications from congregations, postal missions, and inquirers in all parts of the world.

The Association is supported by the subscriptions of individuals, collections from congregations, sales of publications, and income from investments. The serviceableness of the Association and the range of its operations are dependent upon the generosity of congregations and of individual Unitarians.

For the more convenient and permanent custody of investments and trust funds, along with other advantages and privileges, the Association was Incorporated, 28 July, 1915.

Officers.—President: Mr. J. F. L. Brunner, M.P.; Treasurer: Mr. Howard Chatfeild Clarke; Chairman of Committee: Rev. W. G. Tarrant; Solicitor: Mr. Howard Young, LL.B.; Missionary Agent: Rev. T. P. Spedding; Secretary: Rev. W. Copeland Bowie.

Book Room and Office.—Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London. The Book Room is open Monday to Friday 9 to 6; Saturday 9 to 1.

The Finance, Mission, Publications, Scottish, and other Subcommittees meet the week before the Executive Committee, and communications respecting Grants and other important business should reach the Secretary at Essex Hall at least ten days before these dates.

The Council of the Association will meet Tuesday, 28 March, and Tuesday, 24 October. The Provincial Meetings in November.

Association Sunday will be 19 November, when Collections on behalf of the Funds of the Association will be taken in our Churches.

The income of the Fund, in the first instance, is employed in assisting ministers to pay the premiums on benefit policies effected by them with the Equitable Life Assurance Society. After the Managers have made provision for paying their proportion of such premiums, they may employ the balance, if any, of the income for that year in assisting any minister, not insured as above, and still in active service, to make provision for his old age, and for his family after his death, in such manner as they may think best. New tables of insurance were adopted in December, 1915. The Phillip Holt Fund, administered by the Board, is to be applied at the discretion of the Managers, as an addition to its Capital, or in aid of ministers in active service, or both. # NATIONAL CONFERENCE

'The National Conference of Unitarian, Liberal Christian, Free Christian, Presbyterian, and other Non-Subscribing or Kindred Congregations' had its origin in the example set by the Unitarians of the United States of America, who had organized a 'National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches' in 1865. At a Council Meeting of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, held 19 January, 1881, it was resolved:—'That the Executive Committee be requested to consider the possibility and desirableness of holding a Unitarian Conference in England, and to ascertain the feeling of the larger Congregations, and report to the next meeting of the Council.' # INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

'The International Council of Unitarian and other Liberal Religious Thinkers and Workers' was organized at Boston, U.S.A., 25 May, 1900. In 1910 its title was changed to 'The International Congress of Free Christians and other Religious Liberals' (in French, 'Congrés International des Chrétiens libéraux et d'autres libre-croyants,' and in German, 'Welt-Kongress für freies Christentum und religiösen Fortschritt'). The purpose of the Congress is 'to open communication with those in all lands who are striving to unite pure religion and perfect liberty, and to increase fellowship and co-operation among them.' It seeks to bring into closer union for exchange of ideas, mutual service, and the promotion of their common aims the historic liberal churches, the liberal elements in all churches, scattered liberal congregations, and isolated workers for religious freedom and progress in many lands.

Meetings of the International Congress have been held in London (1901), Amsterdam (1903), Geneva (1905), Beston, U.S.A. (1907), Berlin (1910), and Paris (1913). It was intended to hold meetings of the International Congress in London in 1916, but the great War has made this impossible. Secretary, Rev. C. W. Wendte, D.D., 165 Hundon in 1916, and the congress in London in 1916, but the great War has made this impossible.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION

The American Unitarian Association was organized 25 May, 1825. Its object is 'to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity.' There are also Unitarian Book Rooms at Chicago, 105 South Dearborn Street; New York, 104 East 20th Street; San Francisco, 376 Sutter Street. The General Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches held its first meeting in 1865. It is simply a 'Conference.' It 'adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its activity, and confines itself to recommending to them such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of its constituency.' The Unitarian Association is 'the executive arm of the Unitarian body, and the working missionary organization of the Unitarian churches in America.'

Canadian Unitarian Association (1913).—Chairman of Executive, W. P. Hinton, Montreal; Treasurer, E. J. Ransom, Winnipeg,; Secretary, Rev. Horace Westwood, D.D., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.

LIBERAL RELIGIOUS MOVEMENTS ABROAD

Outside the United States of America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and Hungary, Liberal religious movements seldom employ the Unitarian name; but in different parts of the world there are several congregations and many individuals in substantial agreement with Unitarians. The information given in the last issue respecting Liberal religion in Foreign Countries required careful revision; but the prevalence of the War made revision practically impossible. It was, therefore, deemed best to omit the pages altogether from the Year Book for 1916.

EDUCATION OF MINISTERS

charge for such registration.

Deaths, Registration.—Deaths must be registered within five days. The nearest relative present at the death or during the last illness is the responsible person, or should there be no relative present, then the occupier of the house, or the person who causes the body to be buried. Registration of Chapels.—All places of worship should be registered. Registration is effected by giving a certificate in writing that the Chapel is used for worship to the Superintendent-Registrar of the District on a form which he will supply on application. The fee on registration is 2s. 6d., and a certified copy of the Registrar-General's certificate of the registration can be obtained for a further payment of 2s. 6d. Registered places of worship are exempt from the provisions of the Charitable Trusts Acts. When a place of worship is rebuilt, either on the same or another site, the old certificate of registration must be cancelled and the place re-registered.

Registration for Marriages.—A place of worship must, before marriages can legally be celebrated therein, in addition to being registered as above mentioned, be separately registered for the performance of marriages. Before registering a place for marriages, the Superintendentregistrar of the district must be satisfied by certificate that the building has been used for worship for one year previous to the application. fee of £3 is payable, and the Registration is advertised in the London Gazette and in a local newspaper. When a chapel ceases to be used for worship or is rebuilt, the Certificate is cancelled, and in that case it requires to be renewed if worship is resumed. When a congregation has removed from one chapel to another, and the old building has ceased to be used as a place of public worship, the Certificate of the old chapel may be cancelled, and the new building registered for the solemnization of marriages, without waiting for a year to elapse. All necessary forms and information will be supplied by the Superintendent-Registrar of the District.

Marriages: England and Wales.—Marriages may be solemnized in any registered building, or in a district registry office either by Certificate or by Licence. If by Certificate, notice (accompanied with fee of 1s. for entry in 'Marriage Notice Book') must be given by one of the parties, if both live in one district, to the Superintendent-Registrar, on form furnished for purpose, containing solemn declaration of absence of impediment to intended marriage, certifying that one of the parties has dwelt at least seven days in district, and must be signed in presence of Registrar or deputy; but if parties live in different districts, notices must be sent to respective Superintendent-Registrars. Twenty-one clear days after entry of notice the Certificate (for which 1s. must be paid) will be granted on application.

If by licence, though both parties do not dwell in same district, only one need give notice, certifying that he or she has resided at least fifteen days in district, though marriage may be held in district of either Both parties, however, must be in England at the time of notice, though only one clear day is required (unless marriage take place in Ireland with some one there, when seven days are required) betwee: notice and granting of licence. The Statute provides for the notices and forms required to be given or complied with and the registers to be kept.

Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister was legalized by Act of Parliament, August, 1907.

Marriages: Ireland .-- Marriages according to the form and discipline of the Presbyterian Church may be celebrated—(1) By special licence; (2) By licence; or (3) After publication of banns.

(1) In the first case both parties must be members of the same

Church as the Moderator who grants the Special Licence.

(2) Ordinary Licences can be granted when only one of the parties is a Presbyterian. Each Presbytery is authorized to appoint, subject to the approval of the Lord Lieutenant, ministers to issue licences for marriage in Meeting Houses duly certified.

Anyone wishing to obtain a Licence must, seven days before the licence shall be delivered to him or her, produce to the licensing minister a certificate from the minister of the congregation of which he or she shall be a member and has been a member for at least one calendar month preceding.

(3) When both parties are Presbyterians, marriages may be celebrated after the banns have been proclaimed for three Sundays in the Presbyterian meeting-houses attended by each of the parties.

Marriages: Scotland .- The ceremony can be performed by the minister of any denomination, in any place, at any time, with or without any particular form. The law has been amended so as to put an end, as far as possible, to what were known as 'irregular' marriages. Legal notice must now be given to the Registrar of the parish or district, the names of the contracting parties being exhibited for seven days on the notice board outside the office of the Registrar in whose district the parties have resided for at least fifteen days immediately preceding. At the expiration of the period named a certificate will be granted, and on this the marriage may take place either in a church or elsewhere. Any person who has resided for at least twenty-one days in Scotland may be married by going to the Registrar's office in the district in which he or she may reside, accompanied by two witnesses who can certify as to the term of residence, and exchanging written contract with the other party, afterwards proceeding to the County Sheriff's chambers to have the Marriage Registered.

Burial Act, 1880.—Wherever there is a Cemetery there is no difficulty in the way of a Nonconformist minister conducting a funeral service, The Act of Parliament of 1890 authorizes any person responsible for the burial of a body to give forty-eight hours notice to the incumbent of the parish in which the death took place, or in his absence to his deputy, that it is intended that the body shall be buried in the churchyard of the parish without the Church of England service. The Act allowed a like notice to be given to the chaplain of a parochial cemetery if a burial was intended to be made there; but the Burial Act, 1900 (63 & 64 Vic. c. 15, s. 8) requires that in the last-mentioned case the notice shall be given at such time and to such person as the burial authority directs. It is therefore necessary in that case to inquire at the office of the cemetery, and to give such notice as the rules of the cemetery prescribe.

In the case of burials in churchyards the form of notice is specified

in the Act of 1880, and the requirements are as follows:-

The Notice must be in writing; must be endorsed on the outside 'Notice of Burial'; must be signed with the name and address of the person giving it, and be in the form, or to the effect, following:—

, being the relative [or friend, or legal representative, as the case may be, describing the relation, if a relative having the charge of, or being responsible for, the burial of A. B., of , who died at in the , on the day of parish of give you notice that it is intended by me that the body of the said A. B. shall be buried within the [here describe the churchyard or graveyard in which the body is to be buried on the day of , without the performance in the manner prescribed the hour of by law of the service for the burial of the dead according to the rites of the Church of England; and I give this notice pursuant to the Burial Laws Amendment Act, 1880.

To the Rector [or as the case may be] of NOTE.—While it is desirable to keep to this form, the person receiving it will not be at liberty to object to its sufficiency, because the exact words are not used; the Act only requiring that the notice shall be in the form, 'or to the effect,' of the above.

In the case of a churchyard, the notice is to be left at the house of the clergyman, or in his absence, of the clergyman in charge of the parish, or of any person appointed to receive such notices. It is not necessary that the clergyman should consent to a burial under the Act. He can object only to the time proposed, and do that only in certain cases. Unless it be otherwise mutually arranged, burials must be between 10 and 6 o'clock from April 1st to October 1st, and between 10 and 3 from

October 1st to April 1st.

A burial may take place either without 'any religious service' or 'with such Christian and orderly religious service' at the grave as the person responsible for the burial may think fit, and 'any person or persons'—whether ministers or laymen—who may be invited or authorized, may conduct such service, or take part in any religious act thereat. The words' Christian service' include 'every religious service' used by any church, denomination, or person, professing to be Christian.

The person having charge of a burial under the Act must, either on the same day or the day after, send to the incumbent or his representative—or, in the case of a cometery, to the clerk—a certificate of the burial

f , of , the person having the charge of [or, being responsible for] the burial of the deceased, do hereby certify that on the day of , 191 ,

graveyard] of the parish [or district] of

To the Rector [or as the case may be] of

The Act of 1880 does not entitle anyone to be buried in any place in which he would have no right to be buried if the Act had not passed. Neither does it affect previously existing regulations or authority in regard to the position of graves, inscriptions on gravestones, etc.

Burial Act, 1900.—This Act modifies the Act of 1880 in the case of the consecrated parts of parochial cemeteries. The Act does not deal with churchyards. In future, Burial Boards 'may, if they think fit,' apply to have a portion of the cemetery consecrated; formerly they were compelled to have a portion consecrated. Burial Boards are no longer compelled to erect two cemetery chapels, one for Anglicans and one for Nonconformists. They may erect any chapel 'they may consider necessary'; but any chapel so erected 'shall not be consecrated, or reserved for the exclusive use of any denomination.' The payment of fees to an incumbent of a parish will no longer be required 'except for services rendered by him.' In future, when a Nonconformist minister officiates in the consecrated part of a parochial cemetery, he, and not the clergyman, will receive the fee. These provisions apply to cemeteries opened after the passing of the Act. In the case of cemeteries already existing the old fees were continued for fifteen years, that is until 1915.

Cremation.—This is regulated by the Cremation Act, 1902, and the Regulations made by the Home Secretary in pursuance of that Act.

Charitable Trusts.—The Acts relating to Charitable Trusts give the Charity Commissioners very extensive jurisdiction over all charitable trusts (except certain exempted charities), and empower the Commissioners to inquire into the management of charities, to oblige their trustees to render accounts, to advise such trustees on the administration of the trusts, to authorize or direct legal proceedings to be taken, to authorize the granting of leases and making of improvements, and raising of money by mortgage, to authorize trustees to remove school-masters and other officers, to authorize the sale, exchange, or partitions of lands, to remove and appoint trustees, and to make new schemes for the administration of charities. Among the charities exempted from the operations of these Acts are any buildings registered as places of meeting for religious worship with the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, and bona fide used as places of meeting for religious worship. Exempted charities can, by application under certain sections of one of the Acts, have the benefits of the Acts extended to them.

Dissenters' Chapels Act, 1844.—It is under this Act (7 & 8 Vic. c. 45), that many of the old Presbyterian Chapels are secured to the Unitarians. The Act provides in substance that where there is no express statement in the deed of foundation as to the particular doctrines for which a chapel was to be employed, twenty-five years' usage shall be conclusive evidence of the legality of the doctrines.

Executors and their Duties.—Immediately on the death of a testator his personal property passes to his executors to be distributed (after the payment of his funeral expenses and debts) in the manner directed by the will. The real property also (except land of copyhold tenure or customary freehold) vests in the executors, who hold it as trustees for the persons beneficially entitled thereto, subject to a liability on account of the testator's debts, should the personal property which he leaves prove insufficient to pay them. They must take out a probate of the will, either personally or through a solicitor, either at Somerset House or at the Registry of the district in which the testator resided. The original will is then deposited in one of the registries of the Court, and the executors obtain a copy of it certified under the seal of the Probate Division. Estate duty is payable upon the principal value of all property, real or personal, settled or not settled, which passes on a death.

National Health Insurance Act, 1911,—By decision of the Commissioners (August, 1912), Unitarian Ministers are not required to be insured under the National Health Insurance Act.

Oaths Act, 1888 .- This Act enacts that every person upon objecting to being sworn, and stating, as the ground of such objection, either that he has no religious belief, or that the taking of an oath is contrary to his religious belief, shall be permitted to make his solemn affirmation instead of taking an oath, in all places and for all purposes where an oath is or shall be required by law, which affirmation shall be of the same force and effect as if he had taken the oath. Every such affirmation shall be as follows :- 'I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm,' and then proceed with the words of the oath prescribed by law, omitting any words of imprecation or calling to witness. If any person to whom an oath is administered desires to swear with uplifted hand in the form and manner in which an oath is usually administered in Scotland, he shall be permitted to do so, and the oath shall be administered to him in such form and manner without further question. By the Act of 1909, an alteration in the manner of administering oaths is authorized.

Rates, Exemption from.—It is enacted by 3 & 4 William IV., c. 30, that 'no person or persons shall be rated, or shall be liable to be rated to, or to pay any church or poor rates or cesses for, or in respect of, any churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or premises, or such part thereof, as shall be exclusively appropriated to public religious worship, and which shall be 'registered under 18 & 19 Vic. c. 81, as a place of meeting for religious worship. 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be hereby exempted from any such rates or cesses, for or in respect of, any parts of such churches, district churches, chapels, meeting-houses, or other premises which are not so exclusively appropriated, and from which parts not so exclusively appropriated, and from which parts not so exclusively appropriated, such person or persons shall receive any rent or rents or shall derive profit or advantage.' Section 2 proceeds, 'Provided always that no person or persons shall be liable to any such rates or cesses because the said churches, district churches, chapels, meeting houses, or other premises, or any vestry rooms belonging thereto or any part thereof, may be used for Sunday or infant schools, or for the charitable education of the poor.' It is difficult to say what user of part of a chapel or school premises would bring the case within the exception from the exemption.

Workmen's Compensation Act, 1907.—It is desirable to insure the minister (if in receipt of a salary under £250 per annum); the chapel-keeper, and where there is an understanding (written or otherwise) that the wife or any member of the family helps, the helper also; any charwoman or other person employed regularly though for only and perhaps a part of a day a week; the grave-digger, if any; the organist and blower and members of the choir, if paid; also any Bible-women or nurses. Where the chapel-keeper regularly employs any charwoman or other person to help, an insurance should be taken out for the benefit of the chapel-keeper in respect of the persons helping, as he would probably be liable under the Act.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEES

This may be made under the Act of 1850 (13 & 14 Vic. c. 28), generally known as Sir Morton Peto's Act, and the Acts of 1869 and 1890 extending the same, now together called the 'Trustees Appointment Acts, 1850 to 1890,' or by the 'Trustee Act, 1893.' When there is an existing power of appointment, the appointment may be effected in the manner, and by the person appointed by the instrument creating the trust; if there is no existing power, or the appointment under the power be not made within twelve months, then recourse should be made to the above Acts, under which the appointment can be made, in the case of Peto's Act, by resolution of the congregation, society, or body of persons interested therein as by the Act provided, or, in the case of the Trustee Act, 1893, by writing by the persons therein mentioned, the trust property in the former case vesting in the new trustees by virtue of the appointment alone, and, in the latter case, by virtue of a declaration forming part of the Deed.

If none of these modes of appointment should be feasible, resort should be had to the powers of the Charity Commissioners.

No form of appointment is prescribed by the Trustee Act, 1893, but in Sir Morton Peto's Act a form is given for cases under that Act only, and is as follows:—

TRUST DEEDS OF CHURCHES

The greater number of Unitarian Churches possess what are known as 'Open Trust Deeds.' The land, buildings, and endowments (if any) are held in Trust for the worship of God, and for the religious, moral, or intellectual improvement of the Congregation for the time being worshipping there, and for its general benevolent objects.

In drafting a New Trust Deed care should be taken to state clearly that if any question should at any time arise as to the purposes for which the said Church or Chapel may lawfully be used, the widest meaning should be attached to the trust aforesaid, so that neither by reference to the actual or supposed opinions of the founders, nor otherwise, shall any restriction be imposed on the liberty of the congregation for the time being to change its opinions with regard to religious doctrines or modes of regulating worship.

The Deed should be settled by a solicitor, who will consider questions of consideration, enrolment, etc. The draft of a Trust Deed prepared on the 'Open Trust' principle will be found in the Essex Hall Year Book for 1915. A Draft of a simpler type of Trust Deed is being prepared by the Civil Rights Committee of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association. It will probably be inserted in the Year Book for 1917.

The British and Foreign Unitarian Association has a Special Subcommittee for giving advice to Congregations, respecting the Civil Rights of Unitarians, Chapel Trust Deeds, Endowments, etc. Applications should be addressed to the Secretary, Essex Hall, Essex Street, Strand, London, W.C. The Committee will expect the congregations to defray the cost of any legal charges. The Solicitor of the Association is Howard Young, Esq., LL.B., 29 Mark Lane, London, E.C.

* HOME PRAYERS FOR YOUNG PROPLE. 1/- net.

The Inquirer says:—To write prayers for children of various ages, from infancy to adolescence, is not an easy task.
